REGISTER OF REGULATIONS

RIS Navigation and Other Tips

- Refresh your screen: The F5 button on your keyboard is the refresh key. If changes you made to a section do not appear after using the RIS Update button in the RIS toolbar, press the F5 button to refresh the screen.
- RIS header features: The RIS banner at the top of the screen contains the following headers that are links to various pages as indicated:
 - "RIS - Regulation Information System" - to the main Virginia Administrative Code page with your list of agencies under the red "Regulatory Information System" heading (to enter RIS, click on the name of the desired agency under the heading).
 - "Town Hall Sign In" - to the Town Hall log-in screen and then directly to the project in Town Hall if it is linked to RIS.
 - "Projects" - to your list of pending RIS projects in numerical order on the "Projects List" page. Hint - to view all projects, including completed projects, click on the box next to "View all projects" at the top of the Projects List.
 - "Tools" - to a page for loading the RIS toolbar.
 - "Cumulative Table" - to a list of regulation sections that have been amended, added, or repealed in the Virginia Register since the regulations were originally published or last supplemented in the most recent print version of VAC. Emergency regulations and errata pertaining to final regulations are listed. Proposed regulations are not listed.
 - "Time Frame Calculator" - to a list of upcoming Virginia Register issues and each issue's corresponding publication date and dates forward of 21, 30, 45, and 60 days to help standardize counting for purposes of marking effective dates and public comment periods for regulations.
 - "Style Manual" - to the Form, Style and Procedure Manual for Publication of Virginia Regulations on the Virginia Register of Regulations' website. A link to this manual is also on the Register's website under Agency Quick Links.
 - "RIS Resources" - to the corresponding page on the Virginia Register of Regulations' website.
- The Action ID number in the last column of the Projects List page is the number assigned by the Regulatory Town Hall for this project when it was linked to Town Hall. "Del!" in this column means the RIS project was previously linked to a TH action but is no longer linked. If this occurs, please contact the Registrar's Office to troubleshoot the situation. If this area is blank, no TH action is linked to the project.
- Filter your list of agency projects on the RIS Projects List by stage (none, Emergency, Emergency/NOIRA, NOIRA, Proposed, Reproposed, Final, Fast-Track, or Other) or status (Not Submitted, Pending, VAC Updated, or Withdrawn).
- Sort your list of agency projects on the RIS Projects List page by project number, date last updated, or stage by clicking on the desired column header. The default order lists the projects in project number order.

6. History: Click on the project number on the Projects List page for a publication history of the project. The history will build as the project moves through the each regulatory stage. The history screen includes a link to the volume and issue of the Register in which the stage is published, as well as links to certain information in Town Hall.
7. Comments feature allows the regulatory coordinator or project manager (whoever is designated in the email box) to communicate directly with the Registrar's Office and attaches that communication as a permanent part of the project.
8. Manila folder: Click on the manila folder in the first column of the project's row to open the Project Details page for that project. From this page, you can (i) access and edit the project's sections, (ii) add a section to the project (use "Create Entry"), (iii) create a report, or (iv) search the project. For a step-by-step guide to inserting sections into a project, see the section titled "Create an RIS Project" in the RIS Resources on the Register's website.
9. Section catchline or description: Click on the section description found in the Description column on the Project Details page to make changes to the text of that description. (i.e., the title of the section). The text displayed in the Description column appears only in the table of contents for online VAC once the section becomes effective. This text is not connected to the section description found on the section page in RIS (and ultimately VAC on-line) and vice-versa. Therefore, be sure the text in the Description column matches the text on the section page.
10. Section page: The text of the regulation is found on this page. Click on the VAC number on the Project Details page to open the section page.

The top right hand corner of the page has navigation buttons for the following functions:

- ♦ "back" takes you to the Project Details page.
- ♦ "prev" and "next" take you through the list of sections in the project in numerical order.
- ♦ "vac" is a shortcut link to current VAC online and opens a new window with the section. This feature is not available for new sections being added in the project. Right click on "vac" and select "Open in New Tab" to open the current section in a new tab next to your current window.
- ♦ "integ" activates the integrity check feature and compares the text in the project section to the actual text currently in effect in online VAC. This feature is not available for new sections being added in the project. After using the "integ" navigation button, you must re-activate all navigation buttons by going to another section and then returning to the original section (hint - use "prev" or "next").
- ♦ "hilite" causes underlined text to appear in yellow and stricken text to appear in red.

The top left hand corner has a red "edit" button that opens the section in Word so you can make changes to the text of the section and save by clicking on "RIS Update."
