THE VIRGINIA REGISTER OF REGULATIONS is an official state publication issued every other week throughout the year. Indexes are published quarterly, and are cumulative for the year. The Virginia Register has several functions. The new and amended sections of regulations, both as proposed and as finally adopted, are required by law to be published in the Virginia Register. In addition, the Virginia Register is a source of other information about state government, including petitions for rulemaking, emergency regulations, executive orders issued by the Governor, and notices of public hearings on regulations.

ADOPTION, AMENDMENT, AND REPEAL OF REGULATIONS

An agency wishing to adopt, amend, or repeal regulations must first publish in the Virginia Register a notice of intended regulatory action; a basis, purpose, substance and issues statement; an economic impact analysis prepared by the Department of Planning and Budget; the agency’s response to the economic impact analysis; a summary; a notice giving the public an opportunity to comment on the proposal; and the text of the proposed regulation.

Following publication of the proposal in the Virginia Register, the promulgating agency receives public comments for a minimum of 60 days. The Governor reviews the proposed regulation to determine if it is necessary to protect the public health, safety and welfare, and if it is clearly written and easily understandable. If the Governor chooses to comment on the proposed regulation, his comments must be transmitted to the agency and the Registrar no later than 15 days following the completion of the 60-day public comment period. The Governor’s comments, if any, will be published in the Virginia Register. Not less than 15 days following the completion of the 60-day public comment period, the agency may adopt the proposed regulation.

The Joint Commission on Administrative Rules (JCAR) or the appropriate standing committee of each house of the General Assembly may meet during the promulgation or final adoption process and file an objection with the Registrar and the promulgating agency. The objection will be published in the Virginia Register. Within 21 days after receipt by the agency of a legislative objection, the agency shall file a response with the Registrar, the objecting legislative body, and the Governor.

When final action is taken, the agency again publishes the text of the regulation as adopted, highlighting all changes made to the proposed regulation and explaining any substantial changes made since publication of the proposal. A 30-day final adoption period begins upon final publication in the Virginia Register.

The Governor may review the final regulation during this time and, if he objects, forward his objection to the Registrar and the agency. In addition to or in lieu of filing a formal objection, the Governor may suspend the effective date of a portion or all of a regulation until the end of the next regular General Assembly session by issuing a directive signed by a majority of the members of the appropriate legislative body and the Governor. The Governor’s objection or suspension of the regulation, or both, will be published in the Virginia Register. If the Governor finds that changes made to the proposed regulation have substantial impact, he may require the agency to provide an additional 30-day public comment period on the changes. Notice of the additional public comment period required by the Governor will be published in the Virginia Register.

The agency shall suspend the regulatory process for 30 days when it receives requests from 25 or more individuals to solicit additional public comment, unless the agency determines that the changes have minor or inconsequential impact.

A regulation becomes effective at the conclusion of the 30-day final adoption period, or at any other later date specified by the promulgating agency, unless (i) the legislative objection has been filed, in which event the regulation, unless withdrawn, becomes effective on the date specified, which shall be after the expiration of the 21-day objection period; (ii) the Governor exercises his authority to require the agency to provide for additional public comment, in which event the regulation, unless withdrawn, becomes effective on the date specified, which shall be after the expiration of the 30-day public comment period and no earlier than 15 days from publication of the readopted action.

A regulatory action may be withdrawn by the promulgating agency at any time before the regulation becomes final.

FAST-TRACK RULEMAKING PROCESS

Section 2.2-4012.1 of the Code of Virginia provides an exemption from certain provisions of the Administrative Process Act for agency regulations deemed by the Governor to be noncontroversial. To use this process, Governor's concurrence is required and advance notice must be given to certain legislative committees. Fast-track regulations will become effective on the date noted in the regulatory action if no objections to the process are filed in accordance with § 2.2-4012.1.

EMERGENCY REGULATIONS

Pursuant to § 2.2-4011 of the Code of Virginia, an agency, upon consultation with the Attorney General, and at the discretion of the Governor, may adopt emergency regulations that are necessitated by an emergency situation. An agency may also adopt an emergency regulation when Virginia statutory law or the appropriation act or federal law or federal regulation requires that a regulation be effective in 280 days or less from its enactment. The emergency regulation becomes operative upon its adoption and filing with the Registrar of Regulations, unless a later date is specified. Emergency regulations are limited to no more than 18 months in duration; however, may be extended for six months under certain circumstances as provided for in § 2.2-4011 D.

Emergency regulations are published as soon as possible in the Register. During the time the emergency status is in effect, the agency may proceed with the adoption of permanent regulations through the usual procedures. To begin promulgating the replacement regulation, the agency must (i) file the Notice of Intended Regulatory Action with the Registrar within 60 days of the effective date of the emergency regulation and (ii) file the proposed regulation with the Registrar within 180 days of the effective date of the emergency regulation. If the agency chooses not to adopt the regulations, the emergency status ends when the prescribed time limit expires.

STATEMENT

The foregoing constitutes a generalized statement of the procedures to be followed. For specific statutory language, it is suggested that Article 2 (§ 2.2-4006 et seq.) of Chapter 40 of Title 2.2 of the Code of Virginia be examined carefully.

DEPARTMENT OF MINES, MINERALS AND ENERGY

Fast-Track Regulation

Public Hearing Information: No public hearings are scheduled.

Public Comment Deadline: December 30, 2015.

Effective Date: January 15, 2016.

Agency Contact: Michael Skiffington, Regulatory Coordinator, Department of Mines, Minerals and Energy, 1100 Bank Street, 8th Floor, Richmond, VA 23219-3402, telephone (804) 692-3212, FAX (804) 692-3237, TTY (800) 828-1120, or email mike.skiffington@dmme.virginia.gov.

Basis: Section 45.1-161.292:19 of the Code of Virginia allows the Department of Mines, Minerals and Energy (DMME) to require certification of persons who work in mineral mines and to promulgate regulations necessary to the certification process.

Purpose: The purpose of this regulation is to allow coal miners to easily transition to other areas of the mining industry. Promoting economic development is one of the core functions of DMME, and increasing the number of certified mineral miners could help grow the mineral mine industry.

Rationale for Using Fast-Track Process: This rulemaking is noncontroversial because it removes unnecessary and duplicative barriers to certification. The training needed to safely work on a surface coal mine is virtually identical to the training needed to safely work on a mineral mine site. This regulatory action would give coal miners the opportunity to seamlessly obtain general mineral miner certification.

Substance: The only substantive change in this regulation allows for miners with a valid general coal miner surface certification to obtain general mineral miner certification without going through training they have already received.

Issues: The primary advantages to the Commonwealth are removing unnecessary and duplicative barriers to certification and allowing for employees in a depressed industry to more smoothly transition to another industry. There are no known disadvantages.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. The Department of Mines, Minerals and Energy (DMME) proposes to amend this regulation to allow individuals who already possess a valid General Coal Miner Surface certification to obtain General Mineral Miner certification without having to receive additional training.
Result of Analysis. The benefits likely exceed the costs for all proposed changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. The current Certification Requirements for Mineral Miners require that applicants for General Mineral Miner certification "complete certification training in first aid and mineral mining regulations and law, which is conducted by a training instructor approved by the division, a certified MSHA\(^1\) instructor, or a certified mine foreman." According to DMME, the training needed to safely work on a surface coal mine is virtually identical to the training needed to safely work on a mineral mine site. Individuals who already possess a valid General Coal Miner Surface certification would have had such training. Consequently DMME's proposal to specify that individuals who already have valid General Coal Miner Surface certification be deemed to have met the safety training requirements for General Mineral Miner Certification will create a net benefit in that it will reduce the cost for surface coal miners to become certified general mineral miners without increasing safety risk. Specifically, the proposed amendment eliminates the need to spend approximately one work day on duplicative training.

Businesses and Entities Affected. The proposed amendment potentially affects the 441 mineral mine operators in the Commonwealth as it reduces the cost for surface coal miners to become certified mineral miners. There are currently 22,537 people with General Coal Miner Surface certification. Approximately 150 of the 441 existing mineral mine permits are held by small businesses.\(^2\)

Localities Particularly Affected. The proposed amendment will potentially affect all localities in the Commonwealth that have mineral mines. According to DMME, 91% of Virginia's counties have mineral mines governed by state regulation.

Projected Impact on Employment. The proposed amendment will reduce the cost for certified surface coal miners to become certified mineral miners. This may moderately increase the number of experienced coal miners who gain employment at mineral mines.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. The proposed amendment will moderately reduce training costs for mineral mine operators if they hire former surface coal miners. This may increase the likelihood that they hire former surface coal miners; and by having moderately lower costs for working mineral mines, the value of the property may moderately increase.

Real Estate Development Costs. The proposed amendment may moderately reduce mineral mine development costs in that it will reduce training costs for some potential mineral miners.

Small Businesses:

Definition. Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.04 of the Code of Virginia, small business is defined as "a business entity, including its affiliates, that (i) is independently owned and operated and (ii) employs fewer than 500 full-time employees or has gross annual sales of less than $6 million."

Costs and Other Effects. The proposed amendment reduces the cost for small mineral mine operators to hire certified surface coal miners.

Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. The proposed amendment does not adversely affect small businesses.

Adverse Impacts:

Businesses: The proposed amendment does not adversely affect businesses.

Localities: The proposed amendment does not adversely affect localities.

Other Entities: The proposed amendment does not adversely affect other entities.

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Department of Mines, Minerals and Energy concurs with the economic impact analysis conducted by the Department of Planning and Budget.

Summary:

"The amendment allows an individual who possesses a valid general coal miner surface certification to obtain general mineral miner certification without having to receive additional training."

A. As set forth in § 45.1-161.292:28 of the Code of Virginia, miners commencing work after January 1, 1997, shall have a general mineral miner certification. Persons excluded from the general miner certification are those involved in delivery, office work, maintenance, service and construction work, other than the extraction and processing of minerals, who are contracted by the mine operator. Hazard training as required by 30 CFR Part 46 or 30 CFR Part 48 shall be provided to these persons.

B. Applicants shall complete certification training in first aid and mineral mining regulations and law, which is conducted by a training instructor approved by the division, a certified MSHA instructor, or a certified mine foreman. Training shall include the following topics, subtopics and practical applications:

1. First aid training shall convey knowledge of first aid practices including identification of trauma symptoms, recognition and treatment of external and internal bleeding, shock, fractures, and exposure to extreme heat or cold. Training shall include a demonstration of skills or passing an examination, as evidenced by the instructor certification submitted in a form acceptable to the division.
2. Law and regulation training shall convey highlights of the mineral mine safety laws of Virginia and the safety and health regulations of Virginia. Specifically, information shall be provided on miner responsibilities and accountability, certification requirements, violations, penalties, appeals and reporting violations to the division. Training shall include a demonstration of skills or passing an examination, as evidenced by the instructor certification submitted in a form acceptable to the division.

C. The trainer will certify to the department that the training and demonstrations required by § 45.1-161.292:28 B of the Code of Virginia and this section have occurred.

D. Applicants who hold a valid first aid certificate as noted in 4VAC25-35-10 shall be considered to have met the first aid requirements.

E. Applicants who have completed training may commence work and shall be considered provisionally certified for up to 60 days from the date the instructor completes the training.

F. The instructor shall submit verification of certification in a form acceptable to the division and the $10 fee for each applicant who completes the training, together with a class roster of all persons who complete the training, within 30 days of the training date.

G. The mine operator shall maintain the following records for those miners required to obtain a general mineral miner certification and those who qualify for exemption, starting January 1, 1997:

1. The employee name, address, and phone number.
2. The job title, employment date and general mineral miner number if applicable.
3. The date training was completed and the instructor providing it for nonexempt employees.
4. If the employee is exempt from the requirements, the date they began working in the mineral mining industry in Virginia.

H. Applicants who already possess a valid general coal miner surface certification pursuant to 4VAC25-20 shall be deemed to have met the requirements of this section.

TITLE 8. EDUCATION

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Proposed Regulation

Public Hearing Information:

January 28, 2016 - 11 a.m. - James Monroe Building, 101 North 14th Street, 22nd Floor Conference Room, Richmond, Virginia 23219. The public hearing will begin immediately following adjournment of the Board of Education business meeting.

Public Comment Deadline: January 31, 2016.

Agency Contact: Patty Pitts, Department of Education, P.O. Box 2120, Richmond, VA 23218, telephone (804) 371-2522, or email patty.pitts@doe.virginia.gov.

Basic: Section 4 of Article VIII of the Constitution of Virginia grants the Board of Education authority for the general supervision of the public school system, and § 22.1-16 of the Code of Virginia authorizes the board to promulgate such regulations as may be necessary to carry out its powers and duties and the provisions of Title 22.1 of the Code of Virginia.

Chapters 13 and 103 of the 2014 Acts of Assembly extended from five business days to 10 business days the deadline for a teacher to request a hearing after receiving written notice of dismissal. This new change became effective July 1, 2014, and notations of the revisions to the proposed 8VAC20-90-70 A 1 and 8VAC20-90-70 A 2 have been made.

Purpose: The Procedure for Adjusting Grievances is essential to protect the health, safety, or welfare of citizens as the regulations provide (i) an orderly procedure for resolving disputes concerning the application, interpretation, or violation of any of the provisions of local school board policies, rules, and regulations as they affect the work of teachers, other than dismissals or probation and (ii) an orderly procedure for the expeditious resolution of disputes involving the dismissal of any teacher.

Substance: The Procedure for Adjusting Grievances was last amended effective May 2, 2005. The 2013 General Assembly approved legislation resulting in the need to make revisions to the regulations. Other than changing the Procedure for Adjusting Grievances to comport with the 2013 and 2014 legislation, no additional substantive revisions were made. The major revisions to the regulations are (i) changing the grievance procedure for teachers by giving local school boards the option to assign a grievance hearing to be heard by an impartial hearing officer designated by the local school board, (ii) removing the option for a grievance to be heard before a fact-finding panel, (iii) removing "placing on probation" from the definition of "grievance," (iv) revising the Board of Education forms prescribed by the Code of Regulations

Virginia, and (v) extending the time in which a teacher who received a Notice of Dismissal to request a hearing from five days to 10 days after receipt of the notice.

Issues: The regulations do not pose any major disadvantages to the public or the Commonwealth. The primary advantages of the proposed action are to align the regulations with the Code of Virginia, reducing confusion for teachers and the public about the procedure for adjusting grievances, and to provide flexibility in hearing the grievance at the local school division level. Proposed revisions to the regulations may reduce the cost of the procedure and allow for more efficient resolution.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:
Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. Pursuant to Chapter 588 of the 2013 Acts of Assembly and Chapter 103 of the 2014 Acts of Assembly, the Board of Education (Board) proposes to amend this regulation to reflect statutory changes. In particular, the proposed regulation will reflect: 1) the removal of teachers' option to have their grievance heard before a fact-finding panel, 2) local school boards' new option to designate an impartial hearing officer from outside the school division to hear a teacher's grievance, 3) the elimination of probation as a form of discipline, and 4) the reduction of time in which a teacher who received a Notice of Dismissal has to request a hearing from 15 days to 10 days.

Result of Analysis. The benefits likely exceed the costs for all proposed changes to the regulation. 2

Estimated Economic Impact. The proposed amendments to this regulation will make the regulation consistent with statutes and will not change effective law. Amending the regulation to reflect the law in effect will be beneficial in that it will reduce the likelihood that readers of the regulation (who do not also read the relevant statutes) will be misled as toward the actual law in effect.

Businesses and Entities Affected. The proposed amendments potentially affect the 132 public school divisions and boards in the Commonwealth, as well as the 152,301 individuals who hold an active Virginia teaching license. 3

Localities Particularly Affected. The proposed amendments do not disproportionately affect particular localities.

Projected Impact on Employment. Amending this regulation to reflect statutory change does not significantly affect employment.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. Amending this regulation to reflect statutory change does not significantly affect the use and value of private property.

Small Businesses: Costs and Other Effects. Amending this regulation to reflect statutory change does not affect small businesses.

Small Businesses: Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. Amending this regulation to reflect statutory change does not adversely affect small businesses.

Real Estate Development Costs. Amending this regulation to reflect statutory change does not affect real estate development costs.

2 The analysis does not address the legislation.
3 Data source: Department of Education

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The agency concurs with the economic impact analysis completed by the Department of Planning and Budget. The agency will continue to examine the economic and administrative impact of the regulations as they progress through the regulatory process.

Summary:
The proposed amendments conform the regulation to changes in the Code of Virginia enacted by Chapters 588 and 650 of the 2013 Acts of Assembly and Chapters 13 and 103 of the 2014 Acts of Assembly and make other technical and clarifying changes. The proposed amendments (i) remove a teacher's option to have a grievance heard before a fact-finding panel, (ii) permit a local school board to designate an impartial hearing officer from outside the school division to hear a teacher's grievance, (iii) eliminate probation as a form of discipline, and (iv) reduce the time in which a teacher who received a notice of dismissal has to request a hearing to 10 days.

A statement written grievance appeal shall be written upon on forms prescribed by the Board of Education and supplied by the local school board.

Part II
Grievance Procedure

8VAC20-90. Purpose of Part II of this grievance procedure.

The purpose of Part II of the Procedure for Adjusting Grievances is to provide an orderly procedure for resolving disputes concerning the application, interpretation, or violation of any of the provisions of local school board policies, rules and regulations as they affect the work of teachers, other than dismissals or probation. An equitable solution of grievances should be secured at the most immediate administrative level. The procedure should not be construed as limiting the right of any teacher to discuss any matter of concern with any member of the school administration, nor should the procedure be construed to restrict any teacher's right to seek, or the school division administration's right to provide, review of complaints that are not included within the definition of a grievance. Nothing in this procedure shall be interpreted to limit a school board's exclusive final authority over the management and operation of the school division.

8VAC20-90.30. Grievance procedure.

Recognizing that grievances should be begun and should be settled promptly, a grievance must be initiated within 15 business days following either the event giving rise to the grievance, or within 15 business days following the time when the employee knew or reasonably should have known of its occurrence. Grievances shall be processed as follows:
1. Step 1 -- Informal. The first step shall be an informal conference between the teacher and his immediate supervisor (which may be the principal). The teacher shall state the nature of the grievance, and the immediate supervisor shall attempt to adjust the grievance. It is mandatory that the teacher present the grievance informally prior to proceeding to Step 2.

2. Step 2 -- Principal. If for any reason the grievance is not resolved informally in Step 1 to the satisfaction of the teacher, the teacher must perfect his grievance by filing said grievance in writing a written grievance appeal on the required form within 15 business days following the event giving rise to the grievance, or within 15 business days following the time when the employee knew or reasonably should have known of its occurrence, specifying on the form the specific relief expected. Regardless of the outcome of Step 1, if a written grievance appeal is not, without just cause, filed within the specified time, the grievance will be barred.

A meeting shall be held between the principal (or his designee or both) and the teacher (or his designee or both) within five business days of the receipt of the principal of the written grievance. At such meeting the teacher or other party involved, or both, shall be entitled to present appropriate witnesses and to be accompanied by a representative other than an attorney. The principal (or his designee or both) shall respond in writing within five business days following such meeting.

The principal may forward to the teacher within five days from the receipt of the written grievance a written request for more specific information regarding the grievance. The teacher shall file an answer thereto within 10 business days, and the meeting must then be held within five business days thereafter.

3. Step 3 -- Superintendent. If the grievance is not settled to the teacher's satisfaction in Step 2, the teacher can proceed to Step 3 by filing a written notice of appeal with the superintendent, accompanied by the original written grievance appeal form within five business days after receipt of the Step 2 answer (or the due date of such answer). A meeting shall then be held between the superintendent (or his designee or both) and the teacher (or his designee or both) at a mutually agreeable time within five business days. The superintendent or designee may make a written request for more specific information from the teacher, but only if such information was not requested in Step 2. The teacher shall file an answer to such request within 10 business days, and the meeting shall be held within five business days of the date on which the answer was received. At such meeting both the superintendent and the teacher shall be entitled to present witnesses and to be accompanied by a representative who may be an attorney. A representative may examine, cross-examine, question, and present evidence on behalf of a grievant or the superintendent without violating the provisions of § 54.1-3904 of the Code of Virginia. If no settlement can be reached in said meeting, the superintendent (or his designee) shall respond in writing within five business days following such meeting.

4. Step 4 -- Fact-finding panel. In the event the grievance is not settled upon completion of Step 3, either the teacher or the school board may elect to have a hearing by a fact-finding panel prior to a decision by the school board, as provided in Step 4. If the teacher elects to proceed to Step 4, he must notify the superintendent in writing of the intention to request a fact-finding panel and enclose a copy of the original grievance form within five business days after receipt of a Step 3 answer (or the due date of such answer). If the school board elects to proceed to a fact-finding panel, the superintendent must serve written notice of the board's intention upon the grievant within 15 business days after the answer provided by Step 3.

a. Panel. Within five business days after the receipt by the division superintendent of the request for a fact-finding panel, the teacher and the division superintendent shall each select one panel member from among the employees of the school division other than an individual involved in any previous phase of the grievance procedure as a supervisor, witness, or representative. The two panel members so selected shall within five business days of their selection select a third impartial panel member.

b. Selection of impartial third member. In the event that both panel members are unable to agree upon a third panel member within five business days, both members of the panel shall request the chief judge of the circuit court having jurisdiction of the school division to furnish a list of five qualified and impartial individuals from which one individual shall be selected by the two members of the panel to serve as the third member. The individuals named by the chief judge may reside either within or outside the jurisdiction of the circuit court, be residents of the Commonwealth of Virginia, and in all cases shall possess some knowledge and expertise in public education and education law and shall be deemed by the judge capable of presiding over an administrative hearing. Within five business days after receipt by the two panel members of the list of fact finders nominated by the chief judge, the panel members shall meet to select the third panel member. Selection shall be made by alternately deleting names from the list until only one remains. The panel member selected by the teacher shall make the first deletion. The third impartial panel member shall chair the panel. No elected official shall serve as a panel member. Panel members shall not be parties to, or witnesses to, the matter grieved. With the agreement of the teacher’s and division superintendent’s panel members, the impartial panel member shall have the authority to conduct the hearing and make recommendations as set forth herein while acting as a hearing officer.

The Attorney General shall represent personally or through one of his assistants any third impartial panel member who shall be made a defendant in any civil action arising out of any matter connected with his duties as a panel member. If, in the opinion of the Attorney General, it is impracticable or uneconomical for such legal representation to be rendered by him or one of his assistants, he may employ special counsel for this purpose, whose compensation shall be fixed by the Attorney General and be paid out of the funds appropriated for the administration of the Department of Education.

c. Holding of hearing. The hearing shall be held by the panel within 30 business days from the date of the selection of the final panel member. The panel shall set the date, place, and time for the hearing and shall so notify the division superintendent and the teacher. The teacher and the division superintendent each may have present at the hearing and be represented at all stages by a representative or legal counsel.

d. Procedure for fact-finding panel.

(1) The panel shall determine the propriety of attendance at the hearing of persons not having a direct interest in the hearing, provided that, at the request of the teacher, the hearing shall be private.

(2) The panel may ask, at the beginning of the hearing, for statements from the division superintendent and the teacher clarifying the issues involved.

(3) The parties shall then present their claims and evidence. Witnesses may be questioned by the panel members, the teacher and the division superintendent.
The panel may, at its discretion, vary this procedure, but shall afford full and equal opportunity to all parties to present any material or relevant evidence and shall afford the parties the right of cross-examination.

(4) The parties shall produce such additional evidence as the panel may deem necessary to an understanding and determination of the dispute. The panel shall be the judge of the relevancy and materiality of the evidence offered.
All evidence shall be taken in the presence of the panel and of the parties.

(5) Exhibits offered by the teacher or the division superintendent may be received in evidence by the panel and, when so received, shall be marked and made a part of the record.

(6) The facts found and recommendations made by the panel shall be arrived at by a majority vote of the panel members.

(7) The hearing may be reopened by the panel, on its own motion or upon application of the teacher or the division superintendent, for good cause shown, to hear after-discovered evidence at any time before the panel’s report is made.

(8) The panel shall make a written report which shall include its findings of fact and recommendations, and shall file it with the members of the school board, the division superintendent, and the teacher, not later than 30 business days after the completion of the hearing.

(9) A stenographic record or tape recording of the proceedings shall be taken. However, in proceedings concerning grievances not related to dismissal or probation, the recording may be dispensed with entirely by mutual consent of the parties. In such proceedings, if the recording is not dispensed with the two parties shall share equally the cost of the recording. If either party requests a transcript, that party shall bear the expense of its preparation.

In cases of dismissal or probation, a record or recording of the proceedings shall be made and preserved for a period of six months. If either the teacher or the school board requests that a transcript of the record or recording be made at any time prior to expiration of the six-month period, it shall be made and copies shall be furnished to both parties. The school board shall bear the expense of the recording and the transcription.

(10) The recommendations and findings of fact of the panel submitted to the school board shall be based exclusively upon the evidence presented to the panel at the hearing. No panel member shall conduct an independent investigation involving the matter grieved.

e. Expenses.

(1) The teacher shall bear his own expenses. The school board shall bear the expenses of the division superintendent. The expenses of the panel shall be borne one half by the school board and one half by the teacher.

(2) The parties shall set the per diem rate of the panel. If the parties are unable to agree on the per diem, it shall be fixed by the chief judge of the circuit court. No employee of the school division shall receive such per diem for service on a panel during his normal business hours if he receives his normal salary for the period of such service.

(3) Witnesses who are employees of the school board shall be granted release time if the hearing is held during the school day. The hearing shall be held at the school in which most witnesses work, if feasible.

f. Right to further hearings. Following a hearing by a fact-finding panel, the teacher shall not have the right to a further hearing by the school board as provided in subdivision 5 e of this section. The school board shall have the right to require a further hearing in any grievance proceeding as provided in subdivision 5 e of this section.

5. 4. Step 5 4 -- Decision by the school board.

a. If a teacher elects to proceed directly to a determination before request a decision by the school board as provided for in Step 5 3, he must notify the superintendent in writing of the intention to appeal directly to make the request of the board of the grievance alleged, and the relief sought within five business days after receipt of the answer as required in Step 3 or the due date thereof. Upon receipt of such notice, the school board may elect to have a hearing before a fact-finding panel, as indicated in Step 4, by filing a written notice of such intention with the teacher within 10 business days of the deadline for the teacher's request for a determination by the school board. The board may hold a hearing on the grievance, may elect to have the hearing conducted by a hearing officer appointed by the school board consistent with the procedures in § 22.1-311 of the Code of Virginia, or may make its determination on the basis of the written evidence presented by the teacher and the recommendation of the superintendent.

b. In the case of a hearing before a fact-finding panel, the school board shall give the grievant its written decision within 30 days after the school board receives both the transcript of such hearing, if any, and the panel's finding of fact and recommendations unless the school board proceeds to a hearing under subdivision 5 e of this section. The decision of the school board shall be reached after considering the transcript, if any; the findings of fact and recommendations of the panel; and such further evidence as the school board may receive at any further hearing which the school board elects to conduct.

c. In any case in which a hearing before a fact-finding panel is held in accordance with Step 4, the local school board may conduct a further hearing before such school board.

(1) The local school board shall initiate such hearing by sending written notice of its intention to the teacher and the division superintendent within 10 days after receipt by the board of the findings of fact and recommendations of the fact-finding panel and any transcript of the panel hearing. Such notice shall be provided upon forms to be prescribed by the Board of Education and shall specify each matter to be inquired into by the school board.

(2) In any case where such further hearing is held by a school board after a hearing before the fact-finding panel, the school board shall consider at such further hearing the transcript, if any; the findings and recommendations of the fact-finding panel; and such further evidence including, but not limited to, the testimony of those witnesses who have previously testified before the fact-finding panel as the school board deems may be appropriate or as may be offered on behalf of the grievant or the administration.

(3) The further hearing before the school board shall be set within 30 days of the initiation of such hearing, and the teacher must be given at least 15 days written notice of the date, place, and time of the hearing.

b. In any case in which the school board elects to hold a hearing or elects to have a hearing officer conduct the hearing, the hearing shall be set within 30 days of the school board's receipt of the notice required by subdivision 4 a of this section (Step 4a), and the teacher must be given at least 15 days' written notice of the date, time, and place of the hearing.

The teacher and the division superintendent may be represented by legal counsel or other representatives. The hearing before the school board shall be private, unless the teacher requests a public hearing. The school board or the hearing officer, as the case may be, shall establish the rules for the conduct of any hearing before it. Such rules shall include the opportunity for the teacher and the division superintendent to make an opening statement and to present all material or relevant evidence, including the testimony of witnesses and the right of all parties or their representatives to cross-examine the witnesses. Witnesses may be questioned by the school board or the hearing officer.

The In the case of a hearing conducted by the school board, the school board's attorney, assistants, or representative, if he or they, represented a participant in the prior proceedings, the grievant, the grievant’s attorney, or representative and, notwithstanding the provisions of § 22.1-69 of the Code of Virginia, the superintendent shall be excluded from any executive session of the school board which has as its purpose reaching a decision on the grievance. However, immediately after a decision has been made and publicly announced, as in favor of or not in favor of the grievant, the school board's attorney or representative, and the superintendent, may join the school board in executive session to assist in the writing of the decision.

A stenographic record or tape recording of the proceedings hearing shall be taken. However, in proceedings concerning grievances not related to dismissal or probation, the recording may be dispensed with entirely by mutual consent of the parties. In such proceedings, if the recording is not dispensed with, the two parties shall share the cost of the recording equally, and if either party requests a transcript, that party shall bear the expense of its preparation.

In the case of dismissal or probation, a record or recording of the proceedings shall be made and preserved for a period of six months. If either the teacher or the school board requests that a transcript of the record or recording be made at any time prior to the expiration of the six month period, it shall be made and copies shall be furnished to both parties. The school board shall bear the expense of the recording and the transcription.

c. In the event of a hearing conducted by a hearing officer, the recommendation of the hearing officer shall be based solely on the evidence presented at the hearing. Upon the hearing officer's own motion or upon application by either party to the grievance, the hearing officer may reopen the hearing for the purpose of hearing after-discovered evidence upon a finding of good cause by the hearing officer at any time before his recommendation is due. The hearing officer shall transmit his written recommendation and a record or recording of the hearing to the school board as soon as practicable and no more than 10 business days after the hearing.

d. In the event of a hearing by a hearing officer, the school board may make its decision upon the record or recording of such hearing or the school board may elect to conduct a further hearing to receive additional evidence. The school board must hold such further hearing as soon as practicable and must give written notice of the time and place of such further hearing to the division superintendent and the teacher within 10 business days after the board received the record or recording of the initial hearing. The notice must specify each matter to be inquired into by the school board. The school board shall determine the procedure to be followed at such further hearing.

e. In the event of a hearing before the school board, the school board shall give the teacher its written decision as soon as practicable and no more than 30 days after the hearing. The decision of the school board shall be reached after considering the evidence and information presented at the school board hearing.

f. In the event of a hearing before a hearing officer followed by a further hearing by the school board, the school board shall give the teacher its written decision as soon as practicable and no more than 30 days after such further hearing. The decision of the school board shall be reached after considering the record or recording of the initial hearing, the recommendations of the hearing officer, and the evidence and information presented at the further hearing before the school board.

g. In the event of a hearing before a hearing officer in cases in which no further hearing is conducted by the school board, the school board shall give the teacher its written decision as soon as practicable and no more than 30 days after receiving the record or recording of the hearing. The decision of the school board shall be reached after considering the record or recording of the hearing and the recommendations of the hearing officer.

h. The school board shall retain its exclusive final authority over matters concerning employment and the supervision of its personnel.

A. Initial determination of grievability. Decisions regarding whether a matter is grievable shall be made by the school board at the request of the division superintendent administration or grievant and such decision shall be made within 10 business days of such request. The school board shall reach its decision only after allowing the division superintendent administration and the grievant opportunity to present written or oral arguments regarding grievability. The decision as to whether the arguments shall be written or oral shall be at the discretion of the school board. Decisions shall be made within 10 business days of such request. Such determination of grievability shall be made subsequent to the reduction of the grievance to writing but prior to any panel or board hearing by the board or a hearing officer, or the right to such determination shall be deemed to have been waived. Failure of the school board to make such a determination within such a prescribed 10-business-day period shall entitle the grievant to advance to the next step as if the matter were grievable.

B. Appeal of determination on grievability.

1. Decisions of the school board may be appealed to the circuit court having jurisdiction in the school division for a hearing on the issue of grievability.

   a. Proceedings for a review of the decision of the school board shall be instituted by filing a notice of appeal with the school board within 10 business days after the date of the decision and giving a copy thereof to all other parties.
b. Within 10 business days thereafter, the school board shall transmit to the clerk of the court to which the appeal is taken, a copy of its decision, a copy of the notice of appeal, and the exhibits. The failure of the school board to transmit the record within the time allowed shall not prejudice the rights of the grievant. The court may, on motion of the grievant, issue a writ of certiorari requiring the school board to transmit the records on or before a certain date.
c. Within 10 business days of receipt by the clerk of such record, the court, sitting without a jury, shall hear the appeal on the record transmitted by the school board and such additional evidence as may be necessary to resolve any controversy as to the correctness of the record. The court may, in its discretion, receive such other evidence as the ends of justice require.
d. The court may affirm the decision of the school board or may reverse or modify the decision. The decision of the court shall be rendered not later than 15 days from the date of the conclusion of the court's hearing.

Part III
Procedure for Dismissals or Placing on Probation

8VAC20-90-60. Dispute resolution.
This Part III of the Procedure for Adjusting Grievances adopted by the Board of Education in accordance with the statutory mandate of Article 3 (§ 22.1-306 et seq.) of Chapter 15 of Title 22.1 of the Code of Virginia and the Standards of Quality for school divisions, Chapter 13.1 (§ 22.1-253.13:1 et seq.) of Title 22.1 of the Code of Virginia, is to provide an orderly procedure for the expeditious resolution of disputes involving the dismissal or placing on probation of any teacher.

8VAC20-90-70. Procedure for dismissals or placing on probation.

A. Notice to teacher of recommendation for dismissal or placing on probation.
1. In the event a division superintendent determines to recommend dismissal of any teacher, or the placing on probation of a teacher on continuing contract, written notice shall be sent to the teacher on forms to be prescribed by the Board of Education notifying him of the proposed dismissal, or placing on probation, and informing the teacher that within 15 business days after receiving the notice, the teacher may request a hearing before the school board, or before a fact-finding panel as hereinafter set forth or, at the option of the school board, a hearing officer appointed by the school board, as provided in § 22.1-311 of the Code of Virginia.
2. During such 15-day 10-business-day period and thereafter until a hearing is held in accordance with the provisions herein, if one is requested by the teacher, the merits of the recommendation of the division superintendent shall not be considered, discussed, or acted upon by the school board except as provided for herein.
3. At the request of the teacher, the superintendent shall provide the reasons for the recommendation in writing or, if the teacher prefers, in a personal interview. In the event a teacher requests a hearing pursuant to § 22.1-311 or § 22.1-312 of the Code of Virginia, the division superintendent shall provide, within 10 days of the request, the teacher, or his representative, with the opportunity to inspect and copy his personnel file and all other documents relied upon in reaching the decision to recommend dismissal or probation. Within 10 days of the request of the division superintendent, the teacher, or his representative, shall provide the division superintendent with the opportunity to inspect and copy the documents to be offered in rebuttal to the decision to recommend dismissal or probation. The division superintendent and the teacher or his representative shall be under a continuing duty to disclose and produce any additional documents identified later that may be used in the respective parties’ cases-in-chief. The cost of copying such documents shall be paid by the requesting party.
4. Upon a timely request for a hearing, the school board or, at the school board’s option, a hearing officer appointed by the school board shall set a hearing within 15 days of the request and the teacher shall be given at least five days’ written notice of the time and the place of the hearing.

B. Fact-finding panel. Within 15 days after the teacher receives the notice referred to in subdivision A 1 of this section, either the teacher, or the school board, by written notice to the other party upon a form to be prescribed by the Board of Education, may elect to have a hearing before a fact-finding panel prior to any decision by the school board.
1. Panel. Within five business days after the receipt by the division superintendent of the request for a fact-finding panel, the teacher and the division superintendent shall each select one panel member from among the employees of the school division other than an individual involved in the recommendation of dismissal or placing on probation as a supervisor, witness, or representative. The two panel members so selected shall within five business days of their selection select a third impartial panel member.
2. Selection of impartial third member. In the event that both panel members are unable to agree upon a third panel member within five business days, both members of the panel shall request the chief judge of the circuit court having jurisdiction of the school division to furnish a list of five qualified and impartial individuals from which list one individual shall be selected by the two members of the panel as the third member. The individuals named by the chief judge may reside either within or without the jurisdiction of the circuit court, be residents of the Commonwealth of Virginia, and in all cases shall possess some knowledge and expertise in public education and education law, and shall be deemed by the judge capable of presiding over an administrative hearing. Within five business days after receipt by the two panel members of the list of fact finders nominated by the chief judge, the panel members shall meet to select the third panel member. Selection shall be made by the panel members alternately deleting names from the list until only one remains with the panel member selected by the teacher to make the first deletion. The third impartial panel member shall chair the panel. No elected official shall serve as a panel member. Panel members shall not be parties to, or witnesses to, the matter grieved. With the agreement of the teacher's and division superintendent's panel members, the impartial panel member shall have the authority to conduct the hearing and make recommendations as set forth herein while acting as a hearing officer.

The Attorney General shall represent personally or through one of his assistants any third impartial panel member who shall be made a defendant in any civil action arising out of any matter connected with his duties as a panel member. If, in the opinion of the Attorney General, it is impracticable or uneconomical for such legal representation to be rendered by him or one of his assistants, he may employ special counsel for this purpose, whose compensation shall be fixed by the Attorney General and be paid out of the funds appropriated for the administration of the Department of Education.

3. Holding of hearing. The hearing shall be held by the panel within 30 calendar days from the date of the selection of the final panel member. The panel shall set the date, place, and time for the hearing and shall so notify the division superintendent and the teacher. The teacher and the division superintendent each may have present at the hearing and be represented at all stages by legal counsel or another representative.

4. Procedure for fact-finding panel.
   a. The panel shall determine the propriety of attendance at the hearing of persons not having a direct interest in the hearing, provided that, at the request of the teacher, the hearing shall be private.
   b. The panel may ask, at the beginning of the hearing, for statements from the division superintendent and the teacher (or their representative) clarifying the issues involved.
   c. The parties shall then present their claims and evidence. Witnesses may be questioned by the panel members, the teacher and the division superintendent. However, the panel may, at its discretion, vary this procedure but shall afford full and equal opportunity to all parties for presentation of any material or relevant evidence and shall afford the parties the right of cross-examination.

B. Procedure for hearing.

1. The hearing shall be conducted by the school board or, at the school board's option, a hearing officer appointed by the school board. The teacher and the division superintendent may be represented by legal counsel or other representatives. The hearing shall be private, unless the teacher requests a public hearing. The school board or hearing officer, as the case may be, shall establish the rules for the conduct of the hearing, and such rules shall include the opportunity for the teacher and the division superintendent to make an opening statement and to present all material or relevant evidence, including the testimony of witnesses, and the right of all parties to cross-examine the witnesses. Witnesses may be questioned by the school board or hearing officer.

2. The parties shall produce such additional evidence as the panel school board or hearing officer may deem necessary to an understanding and determination of the dispute. The panel school board or hearing officer shall determine the judge of relevancy and materiality of the evidence offered. All evidence shall be taken in the presence of the panel school board or hearing officer and of the parties.

3. Exhibits offered by the teacher or the division superintendent may be received in evidence by the panel school board or hearing officer and, when so received, shall be marked and made a part of the record.

4. The facts found and recommendations made by the panel shall be arrived at by a majority vote of the panel members.

5. The recommendations and findings of fact of the panel shall be based exclusively upon the evidence presented to the panel at the hearing. No panel member shall conduct an independent investigation involving the matter grieved.

6. The hearing may be reopened by the panel at any time before the panel's report is made upon its own motion or upon application of the teacher or the division superintendent for good cause shown to hear after-discovered evidence.

7. The panel shall make a written report which shall include its findings of fact and recommendations and shall file it with the members of the school board, the division superintendent and the teacher, not later than 30 days after the completion of the hearing.

8. A stenographic record or tape recording of the proceedings shall be taken. However, in proceedings concerning grievances not related to dismissal or probation, the recording may be dispensed with entirely by mutual consent of the parties. In such proceedings, if the recording is not dispensed with, the two parties shall share the cost of the recording equally; if either party, requests a transcript, that party shall bear the expense of its preparation.

In cases of dismissal or probation, a record or recording of the proceedings shall be made and preserved for a period of six months. If either the teacher or the school board requests that a transcript of the record or recording be made at any time prior to expiration of the six-month period, it shall be made and copies shall be furnished to both parties. The school board shall bear the expense of the recording and the transcription.

5. Expenses.

a. The teacher shall bear his own expenses. The school board shall bear the expenses of the division superintendent. The expenses of the panel shall be borne one half by the school board and one half by the teacher.

b. The parties shall set the per diem rate of the panel. If the parties are unable to agree on the per diem, it shall be fixed by the chief judge of the circuit court. No employee of the school division shall receive such per diem for service on a panel during his normal business hours if he receives his normal salary for the period of such service.

6. Right to further hearing. If the school board elects to have a hearing by a fact-finding panel on the dismissal or placing on probation of a teacher, the teacher shall have the right to a further hearing by the school board as provided in subsection C of this section. The school board shall have the right to require a further hearing as provided in subsection C also.

7. Witnesses. Witnesses who are employees of the school board shall be granted release time if the hearing is held during the school day. The hearing shall be held at the school in which most witnesses work, if feasible.

C. Hearing by school board.

1. After receipt of the notice of pending dismissal or placing on probation described in subdivision A 1 of this section, the teacher may request a hearing before the school board by delivering written notice to the division superintendent within 15 days from the receipt of notice from the superintendent. Subsequent to the hearing by a fact-finding panel under subsection B of this section, the teacher, as permitted by subdivision B 6 of this section, or the school board may request a school board hearing by written notice to the opposing party and the division superintendent within 10 business days after the receipt by the party initiating such hearing of the findings of fact and recommendations made by the fact-finding panel and the transcript of the panel hearing. Such notice shall be provided upon a form to be prescribed by the Board of Education and shall specify each matter to be inquired into by the school board.

2. In any case in which a further hearing is held by a school board after a hearing before the fact-finding panel, the school board shall consider at such further hearing the record, or transcript, if any, the findings of fact and recommendations made by the fact-finding panel and such further evidence, including, but not limited to, the testimony of those witnesses who have previously testified before the fact-finding panel as the school board deems may be appropriate or as may be offered on behalf of the teacher or the superintendent.

3. The school board hearing shall be set and conducted within 30 days of the receipt of the teacher's notice or the giving by the school board of its notice. The teacher shall be given at least 15 days written notice of the date, place, and time of the hearing and such notice shall also be provided to the division superintendent.

4. The teacher and the division superintendent may be represented by legal counsel or other representatives. The hearing before the school board shall be private, unless the teacher requests a public hearing. The school board shall establish the rules for the conduct of any hearing before it, and such rules shall include the opportunity for the teacher and the division superintendent to make an opening statement and to present all material or relevant evidence including the testimony of witnesses and the right of all parties to cross-examine the witnesses. Witnesses may be questioned by the school board. The school board may hear a recommendation for dismissal and make a determination whether to make a recommendation to the Board of Education regarding the teacher's license at the same hearing or hold a separate hearing for each action.

5. A record or recording of the proceedings shall be made and preserved for a period of six months. If either the teacher or the school board requests that a transcript of the record or recording be made at any time prior to expiration of the six-month period, it shall be made and copies shall be furnished to both parties. The board shall bear the expense of the recording and the transcription.

6. The school board shall give the teacher its written decision within 30 days after the completion of the hearing before the school board.

7. The decision by the school board shall be based on the transcript, the findings of the fact and recommendations made by the fact-finding panel, and any evidence relevant to the issues of the original grievance produced at the school board hearing in the presence of each party.

The school board's attorney, assistants, or representative, if he or they represented a participant in the prior proceedings, the grievant, the grievant's attorney, or representative and, notwithstanding the provisions of § 22.1-69 of the Code of Virginia, the superintendent shall be excluded from any executive session of the school board which has as its purpose reaching a decision on a grievance. However, immediately after a decision has been made and publicly announced, as in favor of or not in favor of the grievant, the school board's attorney or representative and the superintendent may join the school
4. A stenographic record or tape recording of the proceedings shall be taken. The two parties shall share the cost of the recording equally. The record or recording of the proceedings shall be preserved for a period of six months. If the school board requests that a transcript of the record or recording be made at any time prior to expiration of the six-month period, it shall be made and copies shall be furnished to both parties. The school board shall bear the expense of the transcription.

5. The teacher shall bear his own expenses. The school board shall bear the expenses of the division superintendent and the hearing officer.

6. Witnesses who are employees of the school shall be granted release time if the hearing is held during the school day. The hearing shall be held at the school in which most witnesses work, if feasible.

7. In the event of a hearing conducted by a hearing officer, the recommendation of the hearing officer shall be based exclusively upon the evidence presented at the hearing. Upon the hearing officer's own motion or upon application by the teacher or the division superintendent, the hearing officer may reopen the hearing for the purpose of hearing after-discovered evidence upon a finding of good cause by the hearing officer at any time before his recommendation is due. The hearing officer shall transmit his written recommendation and a record or recording of the hearing to the school board as soon as practicable and no more than 10 business days after the hearing.

8. In the event of a hearing by a hearing officer, the school board may make its decision upon the record or recording of such hearing or the school board may elect to conduct a further hearing to receive additional evidence. The school board must hold such further hearing as soon as practicable and must give written notice of the time and place of such further hearing to the division superintendent and the teacher within 10 business days after the board received the record or recording of the initial hearing. The notice must specify each matter to be inquired into by the school board. The school board shall determine the procedure to be followed at such further hearing.

D. C. School board determination.

1. In any case in which a hearing is held before a fact-finding panel but no further hearing before the school board is requested by either party, the school board shall give the teacher its written decision within 30 days after the school board receives both the transcript of such hearing and the panel’s findings of fact and recommendation. The decision of the school board shall be reached after considering the transcript, the findings of fact, and the recommendations made by the panel. In the event of a hearing before the school board, the school board shall give the teacher its written decision as soon as practicable and no more than 30 days after the hearing. The decision of the school board shall be reached after considering the evidence and information presented at the school board hearing.

2. In the event of a hearing before a hearing officer followed by a further hearing by the school board pursuant to subdivision B 8 of this section, the school board shall give the teacher its written decision as soon as practicable and no more than 30 days after such further hearing. The decision of the school board shall be reached after considering the record or recording of the initial hearing, the recommendations of the hearing officer, and the evidence and information presented at the further hearing before the school board.

3. In the event of a hearing before a hearing officer in cases in which no further hearing is conducted by the school board, the school board shall give the teacher its written decision as soon as practicable and no more than 30 days after receiving the record or recording of the hearing. The decision of the school board shall be reached after considering the record or recording of the hearing and the recommendations of the hearing officer.

4. The school board may dismiss, or suspend, or place on probation a teacher upon a majority vote of a quorum of the school board. In the event the school board's decision is at variance with the recommendation of the fact-finding panel, the school board shall be required to conduct an additional hearing, which shall be public unless the teacher requests a private one. However, if the fact-finding hearing was held in private, the additional hearing shall be held in private. The hearing shall be conducted by the school board pursuant to subdivisions C 1 and 2 of this section, except that the grievant and the division superintendent shall be allowed to appear, to be represented, and to give testimony. However, the additional hearing shall not include examination and cross-examination of any other witnesses. The school board's written decision shall include the rationale for the decision. The school board's attorney, assistants, or representative, if he or they represented a participant in the prior proceedings; the grievant; the grievant's attorney or representative; and, notwithstanding the provisions of § 22.1-69 of the Code of Virginia, the superintendent may join the school board in executive session to assist in the writing of the decision.

"Multi-colored coating" means a coating that exhibits more than one color when applied, and which is packaged in a single container and applied in a single coat.

"Multi-component coating" means a coating requiring the addition of a separate reactive resin, commonly known as a catalyst or hardener, before application to form an acceptable dry film.

"One-component coating" means a coating that is ready for application as it comes out of its container to form an acceptable dry film. A thinner, necessary to reduce the viscosity, is not considered a component. It forms a film when applied by a brush, spray, roller, or other means.

"Optical coating" means a coating applied to an optical lens.

"Pan-backing coating" means a coating applied to the surface of pots, pans, or other cooking implements that are exposed directly to a flame or other heating elements.

"Paper, film, and foil coating" means coating that is applied to paper, film, or foil surfaces in the manufacturing of several major product types for the following industry sectors: pressure sensitive tape and labels (including fabric coated for use in pressure sensitive tapes and labels); photographic film; industrial and decorative laminates; abrasive products (including fabric coated for use in abrasive products); and flexible packaging (including coating of nonwoven polymer substrates for use in flexible packaging). Paper and film coating also includes coatings applied during miscellaneous coating operations for several products including; corrugated and solid fiber boxes; die-cut paper paperboard, and cardboard; converted paper and paperboard not elsewhere classified; folding paperboard boxes, including sanitary boxes; manifold business forms and related products; plastic aseptic packaging; and carbon paper and inked ribbons.

"Pleasure craft" means vessels that are manufactured or operated primarily for recreational purposes, or leased, rented, or chartered to a person or business for recreational purposes. The owner of such vessels shall be responsible for certifying that the intended use is for recreational purposes.

"Pleasure craft coating" means any marine coating, except unsaturated polyester resin (fiberglass) coatings, applied by brush, spray, roller, or other means to a pleasure craft.

"Prefabricated architectural component coatings" means coatings applied to metal parts and products that are to be used as an architectural structure.

"Pretreatment wash primer" means a coating that contains no more than 12% solids by weight, and at least 0.5% acid, by weight, is used to provide surface etching, and is applied directly to metal surfaces to provide corrosion resistance, adhesion, and ease of stripping.

"Pretreatment wash primer" means a coating that contains no more than 12% solids, by weight, and at least 0.5% acids, by weight; is used to provide surface etching; and is applied directly to fiberglass and metal surfaces to provide corrosion resistance and adhesion of subsequent coatings.

"Red automotive coating" means a coating that meets all of the following criteria:

1. Yellow limit: the hue of hostaperm scarlet.
2. Blue limit: the hue of monastral red-violet.
3. Lightness limit for metallics: 35% aluminum flake.
4. Lightness limit for solids: 50% titanium dioxide white.
5. Solid reds: hue angle of -11 to 38 degrees and maximum lightness of 23 to 45 units.
6. Metallic reds: hue angle of -16 to 35 degrees and maximum lightness of 28 to 45 units.

These criteria are based on Cielab color space, 0/45 geometry. For spherical geometry, specular included, the upper limit is 49 units. The maximum lightness varies as the hue moves from violet to orange. This is a natural consequence of the strength of the colorants, and real colors show this effect.

"Repair coating" means a coating used to re-coat portions of a previously coated product that has sustained mechanical damage to the coating following normal coating operations.

"Shock-free coating" means a coating applied to electrical components to protect the user from electric shock. The coating has characteristics of being of low capacitance and high resistance, and having resistance to breaking down under high voltage.

"Silicone release coating" means any coating that contains silicone resin and is intended to prevent food from sticking to metal surfaces such as baking pans.

"Solar-absorbent coating" means a coating that has as its prime purpose the absorption of solar radiation.

"Texture coating" means a coating that is applied to a plastic part that, in its finished form, consists of discrete raised spots of the coating.

"Topcoat" means any final coating applied to the interior or exterior of a pleasure craft.

"Touchup coating" means a coating used to cover minor coating imperfections appearing after the main coating operation.

"Vacuum-metalizing coating" means:

1. For general use, the undercoat applied to the substrate on which the metal is deposited or the overcoat applied directly to the metal film. Vacuum metalizing/physical vapor deposition (PVD) is the process whereby metal is vaporized and deposited on a substrate in a vacuum chamber.

2. For automotive/transportation and business machine use, topcoats and basecoats that are used in the vacuum-metalizing process.

"VOC" means volatile organic compound.

"Wood furniture coatings" means protective, decorative, or functional films applied in thin layers to a surface used in the manufacture of wood furniture or wood furniture components. Such coatings include, but are not limited to, paints, topcoats, varnishes, sealers, stains, washcoats, basecoats, enamels, inks, and temporary protective coatings.

9VAC5-40-8830. Standard for volatile organic compounds.

A. No owner or other person shall cause or permit the discharge into the atmosphere from a coating application system any volatile organic compound in excess of the limits contained in Tables 4-59A through 4-59E. The VOC content limits are mass VOC per gallon of coating less water and exempt solvents and are based on low-VOC coatings. If more than one emission limitation in this subsection applies to a specific coating, then the least-stringent emission limitation shall be applied.

B. No owner or other person shall cause or permit the discharge into the atmosphere from a coating application system any volatile organic compound in excess of the limits contained in Tables 4-59F through 4-59I. The emission rate limits are based on low-VOC coatings and add-on controls on a VOC per volume solids basis. If more than one emission limitation in this subsection applies to a specific coating, then the least stringent emission limitation shall be applied.

C. Should product performance requirements or other needs dictate the use of higher-VOC materials than those that would meet the emission limits of subsections A and B of this section, an affected facility may opt to use add-on control equipment with an overall control efficiency of 90% in lieu of using low-VOC coatings and required application methods in subsection E of this section. Final Regulation

Effective Date: February 1, 2016.

Agency Contact: Gary Graham, Department of Environmental Quality, 629 East Main Street, P.O. Box 1105, Richmond, VA 23218, telephone (804) 698-4103, FAX (804) 698-4510, or email gary.graham@deq.virginia.gov.

Summary:

The regulation requires owners to limit emissions from offset lithographic printing operations and letterpress printing operations to the level necessary for the protection of public health and welfare and the attainment and maintenance of the air quality standards. The regulation applies to sources within the Northern Virginia Volatile Organic Compound Emissions Control Area and establishes standards, control techniques, and provisions for determining compliance. The regulation also includes provisions for visible emissions, fugitive dust, odor, toxic pollutants, compliance, test methods and procedures, monitoring, notification, registration, malfunctions, and permits.

Changes since publication of the proposed regulation include revising the conditions under which performance testing would be conducted, adding default retention factors and capture efficiencies, adding a provision to allow an exemption of a certain amount of cleaning materials, and correcting definitions and standards to conform to the new control techniques guidelines.

Summary of Public Comments and Agency's Response: A summary of comments made by the public and the agency's response may be obtained from the promulgating agency or viewed at the office of the Registrar of Regulations.

Emission Standards for Lithographic Printing Processes (Rule 4-53)

Recent periodic review of existing regulations identified language that is unclear or should be modified to address technological changes.

Rationale for Using Fast-Track Process: While some changes are the result of comments received during the periodic review process, additional changes are suggested to clarify issues that have been identified since the most recent amendments were enacted. None of the suggested changes will change any currently required immunizations or result in significant changes to current practice.

Substance: Amendments to the current regulations (i) update and clarify definitions; (ii) remove references to outdated versions of forms and ACIP schedules; (iii) clarify that a printout of an electronic record can be accepted without the signature of a nurse or physician; (iv) clarify that pneumococcal conjugate vaccine is not required for children enrolling in kindergarten; (v) clarify how long after the fourth birthday is allowable for those vaccines that are required to be administered on or after the fourth birthday; (vi) add mumps to the list of diseases for which demonstration of immunity is acceptable; (vii) clarify that the certificate of religious exemption must be notarized; and (viii) update responsibilities of admitting officials.

Issues: The primary advantages to the agency and the public are that current regulations ensure that children are appropriately protected to the extent possible from vaccine-preventable diseases. This also indirectly protects the health of all citizens of Virginia. Proposed changes should help clarify and simplify processes for providing and documenting immunizations required for school attendance. No disadvantages to the public or the Commonwealth are anticipated.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. The State Board of Health (Board) proposes to:

- Add mumps to the list of diseases for which demonstration of immunity is acceptable in lieu of a vaccine shot;
- Reduce from 30 days to 10 days the time that the admitting official from the school that a student has left must send immunization records and academic records to the student's new school;
- Update and clarify definitions;
- Remove references to outdated versions of forms and U.S. Center for Disease Control and Prevention Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (CDC-ACIP) schedules;
- Clarify that a printout of an electronic record can be accepted without the signature of a nurse or physician;
- Clarify that pneumococcal conjugate vaccine is not required for children enrolling in kindergarten;
- Clarify how long after the fourth birthday is allowable for those vaccines that are required to be administered on or after the fourth birthday; and
- Clarify that the certificate of religious exemption must be notarized.

Result of Analysis. The benefits likely exceed the costs for all proposed changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. The proposed updating of definitions and the various proposed language amendments to clarify current requirements will enable readers of the regulation to more accurately understand requirements in practice. Thus these proposed amendments will likely produce a small net benefit.

The CDC-ACIP has found that children who have demonstrated existing immunity to mumps are safe to be considered adequately immunized for the disease. Consequently the Board proposes to exempt students who have documentation of antibodies against mumps from the requirement for the mumps immunization shot. In order to prove immunity the child would need to have blood drawn. So for those families who choose to prove immunity rather than have the mumps shot, it will not likely significantly affect cost in time or dollars but does provide an additional option for those who wish to avoid additional vaccines. Thus, this proposed amendment will create a net benefit.

Under the current regulations, the admitting official of the school from which a student is transferring must send the student's immunization records or a copy thereof, along with his permanent academic or scholastic records, to the admitting official of the school to which the student is transferring within 30 days of the transfer to the new school. The Board proposes to shorten the required time within which to send the records to 10 days. The proposed reduction in time is intended to help reduce the potential for delays in enrollment for transferring students.1

There are no official requirements concerning notifying the old school when a student seeks to enroll in a new school.2 Nevertheless, according to the Department of Education the admitting officials of the schools from which students transfer have been notified in sufficient time in practice. The 30-day deadline has been consistently met, but taking upwards of 30 days to send immunization records has in some cases delayed students' enrollment in their new school. To the extent that reducing from 30 days to 10 days the time that the admitting official from the school that a student has left must send immunization records and academic records to the student's new school would reduce enrollment delays, the proposed amendment has the potential to produce significant benefit.

In order for the proposed amendment to make a significant difference in practice, the admitting officials of the old schools will need to be notified of the student's attempt at new enrollment quickly. There are no explicit penalties for failure to meet either the 30-day or 10-day deadline; presumably admitting officials will seek to meet the deadline in effect in order to help the student in question.

Businesses and Entities Affected. The proposed regulations pertain to approximately 4200 private health care providers,3 135 public health clinics,4 admitting officials at schools within the Commonwealth's 132 school districts, and students.

Localities Particularly Affected. The proposed amendments do not disproportionately affect particular localities.

Projected Impact on Employment. The proposed amendments will not significantly affect employment.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. The proposed amendments will not significantly affect the use and value of private property.

Small Businesses: Costs and Other Effects. The proposed amendments will not significantly affect costs for small businesses.

Small Businesses: Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. The proposed amendments will not adversely affect small businesses.

Real Estate Development Costs. The proposed amendments will not affect real estate development costs.

Every student enrolling in a school shall provide documentary proof of adequate immunization with the prescribed number of doses of each of the vaccines and toxoids listed in the following subdivisions, as appropriate for his age according to the immunization schedule schedules. Spacing, minimum ages, and minimum intervals shall be in accordance with the immunization schedule schedules. A copy of every student’s immunization record shall be on file in his school record.

1. Diphtheria Toxoid. A minimum of four properly spaced doses of diphtheria toxoid. One dose shall be administered on or after the fourth birthday and prior to entering kindergarten.

2. Tetanus Toxoid. A minimum of four properly spaced doses of tetanus toxoid. One dose shall be administered on or after the fourth birthday and prior to entering kindergarten.

3. Acellular Pertussis Vaccine. A minimum of four properly spaced doses of acellular pertussis vaccine. One dose shall be administered on or after the fourth birthday. A booster dose shall be administered prior to entering the sixth grade.

4. Poliomyelitis Vaccine. A minimum of four doses of poliomyelitis vaccine with one dose administered on or after the fourth birthday and prior to entering kindergarten.

6. Rubella Vaccine. A minimum of one dose of rubella virus vaccine administered at age 12 months or older.

7. Mumps Vaccine. One dose of mumps virus vaccine administered at age 12 months or older and a second dose administered prior to entering kindergarten.

8. Haemophilus Influenzae Type b (Hib) Vaccine. A complete series of Hib vaccine (i.e., up to a maximum of four doses of vaccine as appropriate for the age of the child and the age at which the immunization series was initiated). The number of doses administered shall be in accordance with current immunization schedule recommendations. Attestation by the physician or his designee, registered nurse, or an official of a local health department on that portion of Form MCH 213G pertaining to Hib vaccine shall mean that the child has satisfied the requirements of this section. This section shall not apply to children older than 60 months of age or for admission to any grade level, kindergarten through grade 12.

9. Hepatitis B Vaccine. A minimum of three doses of hepatitis B vaccine for all children. The FDA has approved a two-dose schedule only for adolescents 11 through 15 years of age and only when the Merck brand (RECOMBIVAX HB) Adult Formulation Hepatitis B vaccine is used. The two RECOMBIVAX HB adult doses must be separated by a minimum of four months. The two dose schedule using the adult formulation must be clearly documented in the Hepatitis B section on Form MCH 213G.

10. Varicella (Chickenpox) Vaccine. All children born on and after January 1, 1997, shall be required to have one dose of chickenpox vaccine on or after 12 months of age and a second dose administered prior to entering kindergarten.

11. Pneumococcal Conjugate Vaccine (PCV). A complete series of PCV (i.e., up to a maximum of four doses of vaccine as appropriate for the age of the child and the age at which the immunization series was initiated). The number of doses administered shall be in accordance with current immunization schedule recommendations. Attestation by the physician or his designee, registered nurse, or an official of a local health department on that portion of Form MCH 213G pertaining to PCV vaccine shall mean that the child has satisfied the requirements of this section. This section shall not apply to children older than 60 months of age or for admission to any grade level, kindergarten through grade 12.

12. Human Papillomavirus (HPV) Vaccine. Three doses of properly spaced HPV vaccine for females, effective October 1, 2008. The first dose shall be administered before the child enters the sixth grade.

12VAC5-110-80. Exemptions from immunization requirements.

A. Religious and medical exemptions. No certificate of immunization shall be required of any student for admission to school if:

1. The student or his parent or guardian submits a notarized Certificate of Religious Exemption (Form CRE 1), to the admitting official of the school to which the student is seeking admission. Form CRE 1 is an affidavit stating that the administration of immunizing agents conflicts with the student's religious tenets or practices. The form is available on the Division of Immunization website at http://www.vdh.virginia.gov//Epidemiology/Immunization/requirements.htm; or

2. The school has written certification on either of the documents specified under “documentary proof” in 12VAC5-110-10 from a physician, registered nurse, or a local health department that one or more of the required immunizations may be detrimental to the student's health. Such certification of medical exemption shall specify the nature and probable duration of the medical condition or circumstance that contraindicates immunization.

3. Upon the identification of an outbreak, potential epidemic, or epidemic of a vaccine-preventable disease in a public or private school, the commissioner has the authority to require the exclusion from such school of all children who are not immunized against that disease.

B. Demonstration of existing immunity. The demonstration in a student of antibodies against rubella mumps, measles, rubella, or varicella in sufficient quantity to ensure protection of that student against that disease, shall render that student exempt from the immunization requirements contained in 12VAC5-110-70 for the disease in question. Such protection should be demonstrated by means of a serological testing method appropriate for measuring protective antibodies against rubella mumps, measles, rubella, or varicella respectively. Reliable history of chickenpox disease diagnosed or verified by a health care provider shall render students exempt from varicella requirements.

C. HPV vaccine. Because the human papillomavirus is not communicable in a school setting, a parent or guardian, at the parent's or guardian's sole discretion, may elect for the parent's or guardian's child not to receive the HPV vaccine, after having reviewed materials describing the link between the human papillomavirus and cervical cancer approved for such use by the board.

Part IV
Procedures and Responsibilities

12VAC5-110-90. Responsibilities of admitting officials.

A. Procedures for determining the immunization status of students. Each admitting official or his designee shall review, before the first day of each school year, the school medical record of every new student seeking admission to his school, and that of every student enrolling in grade six for compliance with the requirements prescribed in 12VAC5-110-70. Such review shall determine into which one of the following categories each student falls:

1. Students whose immunizations are adequately documented and complete in conformance with 12VAC5-110-70. Students with documentation of existing immunity to mumps, measles, rubella, or varicella as defined in 12VAC5-110-80 B shall be considered to be adequately immunized for such disease.

2. Students who are exempt from the immunization requirements of 12VAC5-110-70 because of medical contraindications or religious beliefs provided for by 12VAC5-110-80.

3. Students whose immunizations are inadequate according to the requirements of 12VAC5-110-70.

4. Students without any documentation of having been adequately immunized.

B. Notification of deficiencies. Upon identification of the students described in subdivisions A 3 and 4 of this section, the admitting official shall notify the parent or guardian of the student:

1. That there is no, or insufficient, documentary proof of adequate immunization in the student's school records.

2. That the student cannot be admitted to school unless he has documentary proof that he is exempted from immunization requirements pursuant to 12VAC5-110-70.

3. That the student may be immunized and receive certification by a licensed physician, registered nurse, or an official of a local health department.

4. How to contact the local health department to receive the necessary immunizations.

C. Conditional enrollment. Any student whose immunizations are incomplete may be admitted conditionally if that student provides documentary proof at the time of enrollment of having received at least one dose of the required immunizations accompanied by a schedule for completion of the required doses within 90 calendar days, during which time that student shall complete the immunizations required under 12VAC5-110-70. If the student requires more than two doses of hepatitis B vaccine, the conditional enrollment period, for hepatitis B vaccine only, shall be 180 calendar days. If a student is a homeless child or youth and does not have documentary proof of necessary immunizations or has incomplete immunizations and is not exempted from immunization as described in 12VAC5-110-80, the school administrator shall immediately admit such student and shall immediately refer the student to the local school division liaison, who shall assist in obtaining the documentary proof of, or completing, immunizations. The admitting official should examine the records of any conditionally enrolled student at regular intervals to ensure that such a student remains on schedule with his plan of completion.

D. Exclusion. The admitting official shall, at the end of the conditional enrollment period, exclude any student who is not in compliance with the immunization requirements under 12VAC5-110-70 and who has not been granted an exemption under 12VAC5-110-80 until that student provides documentary proof that his immunization schedule has been completed, unless documentary proof that a medical contraindication developed during the conditional enrollment period is submitted.

E. Transfer of records. The admitting official of every school shall be responsible for sending a student's immunization records or a copy thereof, along with his permanent academic or scholastic records, to the admitting official of the school to which a student is transferring within 30 10 days of his transfer to the new school.

F. Report of student immunization status. Each admitting official shall, within 30 days of the beginning of each school year or entrance of a student, or by October 15 of each school year, file with the State Health Department through the health department for his locality, a report summarizing the immunization status of the students in his school as of the first day of school. This report shall be filed using the web-enabled reporting system or on the most current version of Form SIS 4, the Student Immunization Status Report, and shall contain the number of students admitted to that school with documentary proof of immunization, the number of students who have been admitted with a medical or religious exemption and the number of students who have been conditionally admitted. The report for students entering the sixth grade shall include the number with a booster dose of tetanus, diphtheria, or pertussis containing vaccine within the last five years.

G. Each admitting official shall ensure that the parent or guardian of a female to be enrolled in the sixth grade receives educational materials describing the link between the human papillomavirus and cervical cancer. Materials shall be approved by the board and provided to the parent or guardian prior to the child's enrollment in the sixth grade.

Fast-Track Regulation

Title of Regulation: 12VAC5-410. Regulations for the Licensure of Hospitals in Virginia (amending 12VAC5-410-260).

Statutory Authority: §§ 32.1-12 and 32.1-127 of the Code of Virginia.

Public Hearing Information: No public hearings are scheduled.

Public Comment Deadline: December 30, 2015.

Effective Date: January 14, 2016.

Agency Contact: Susan Puglisi, Policy Analyst, Department of Health, 9960 Mayland Drive, Richmond, VA 23233, telephone (804) 367-2157, FAX (804) 527-4502, or email susan.puglisi@vdh.virginia.gov.

Basis: The regulation is promulgated under the authority of §§ 32.1-12 and 32.1-127 of the Code of Virginia. Section 32.1-12 grants the board the legal authority "to make, adopt, promulgate, and enforce such regulations necessary to carry out the provisions of Title 32.1 of the Code." Section 32.1-127 of the Code of Virginia directs the board to promulgate regulations with minimum standards for the construction and maintenance of hospitals, the operation, staffing and equipping of hospitals, qualifications and training of staff of hospitals, conditions under which a hospital may provide medical and nursing services to patients in their places of residence, and policies related to infection prevention, disaster preparedness, and facility security.

Purpose: The federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) issued a final rule on May 12, 2014, that enables a qualified dietitian or qualified nutrition professional to become privileged to independently order both standard and therapeutic diets within the hospital and critical access hospital settings. According to the CMS rule, hospitals will have the flexibility to either (i) appoint registered dieticians to the medical staff and grant them specific nutritional ordering privileges or (ii) authorize ordering privileges without appointment to the medical staff through the hospital’s appropriate medical staff rules, regulations, and bylaws. This rule change became effective on July 11, 2014. 12VAC5-410-260 is currently written in a manner that is more restrictive than the federal regulations because it only allows registered dietitians to write independent nutrition orders in hospitals if they are appointed to the medical staff. This regulatory action will amend the regulations to remove restrictions that are more stringent than federal law. This regulatory action will protect the health and welfare of Virginians by ensuring that patients within a hospital setting are able to obtain the proper standard and therapeutic diets within the Commonwealth.

Rationale for Using Fast-Track Process: These amendments simply ensure that the Commonwealth's regulations are not more restrictive than federal regulations. These amendments have also been prepared with input from the Virginia Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. Therefore, the department does not expect that this regulatory action will be controversial.

Substance: Amendments to 12VAC5-410-260 remove the requirement that all patient diets be ordered in writing by a member of the medical staff; allow practitioners responsible for the care of the patient, or dietitians authorized by the medical staff, to order patient diets; and allow a hospital or medical staff to privilege qualified dietitians to prescribe diets and order tests to determine appropriate diets for the patient... and specify that therapeutic diets include the provision of enteral and parenteral nutrition.

Issues: The primary advantage to the agency, the Commonwealth, and the public of the proposed regulatory action will be less burdensome regulations. The proposed regulatory action will also lead to greater access to well-rounded patient care. There are no known disadvantages to the agency, the Commonwealth, or the public.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. The federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) issued a final rule on May 12, 2014, which enables a qualified dietitian or qualified nutrition professional to become privileged to independently order both standard and therapeutic diets within the hospital and critical access hospital settings. This rule change became effective on July 11, 2014. The State Board of Health (Board) proposes to amend this regulation to reflect this change.

Result of Analysis. The benefits likely exceed the costs for all proposed changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. The current regulation requires that all patient diets be ordered in writing by a member of the medical staff. The Board proposes to amend this requirement to state that all patient diets be ordered in writing by a practitioner responsible for the care of the patient or by a dietitian as authorized by the medical staff. The proposed new language will permit medical staff to use their time more efficiently. Permitting a qualified dietitian authorized by the medical staff to do the ordering will enable the medical staff to spend the time they otherwise would have spent on the ordering of diets on other productive health care tasks such as diagnosing and treating patients, etc.

Businesses and Entities Affected. The proposed amendments affect qualified dietitians, the 106 licensed hospitals and critical access hospitals within the Commonwealth, and patients served by hospitals throughout Virginia.

Localities Particularly Affected. The proposed amendments do not disproportionately affect particular localities.

Projected Impact on Employment. The proposal to permit authorized dieticians not on the medical staff to order both standard and therapeutic diets within the hospital may encourage hospitals to employ more dieticians for this purpose.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. The proposed amendments are unlikely to significantly affect the use and value of private property.

Real Estate Development Costs. The proposed amendments do not affect real estate development costs.

Small Businesses:
Definition. Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.04 of the Code of Virginia, small business is defined as "a business entity, including its affiliates, that (i) is independently owned and operated and (ii) employs fewer than 500 full-time employees or has gross annual sales of less than $6 million."

Costs and Other Effects. The proposed amendments are unlikely to significantly affect small businesses.

Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. The proposed amendments will not adversely affect small businesses.

Adverse Impacts:

Businesses: The proposed amendments will not adversely affect businesses.

Localities: The proposed amendments will not adversely affect localities.

Other Entities: The proposed amendments will not adversely affect other entities.

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Department of Health concurs with the Department of Planning and Budget's economic impact analysis.

Summary:

The amendments (i) remove the requirement that all patient diets be ordered in writing by a member of the medical staff; (ii) add language allowing practitioners responsible for the care of the patient, or dietitians authorized by the medical staff, to order patient diets; and (iii) allow a hospital or medical staff to privilege qualified dietitians to prescribe diets and order tests to determine appropriate diets for the patient and specify that therapeutic diets include the provision of enteral and parenteral nutrition.

12VAC5-410-260. Dietary service.

A. Each hospital shall maintain a dietary service directed by a full-time person, qualified as allowed in 12VAC5-421.

B. Each hospital shall have at least one dietitian, meeting the criteria of § 54.1-2731 of the Code of Virginia, employed on either a full-time, part-time or on a consultative basis, to direct nutritional aspects of patient care and to advise on food preparation and service.

C. Space, equipment and supplies shall be provided for the efficient, safe and sanitary receiving, storage, refrigeration, preparation and serving of food.

D. The hospital food service operation shall comply with applicable standards in 12VAC5-421.

E. A diet manual, approved by the medical staff shall be maintained by the dietary service. Diets served to patients shall comply with the principles set forth in the diet manual.

F. All patient diets shall be ordered in writing by a member of the medical staff, including therapeutic diets, shall be ordered in writing by a practitioner, or by a dietitian as authorized by the medical staff, responsible for the care of the patient.
1. Hospitals and their medical staffs may grant privileges to dietitians meeting the criteria of § 54.1-2731 of the Code of Virginia to order patient diets, including therapeutic diets, and to order laboratory tests to help determine appropriate diets for the patient.

2. Therapeutic diets include the provision of enteral and parenteral nutrition.

G. Pertinent observations and information relative to the special diets and to dietetic treatment shall be recorded in the patient’s medical record.

H. A hospital contracting for food service shall require, as part of the contract, that the contractor comply with the provisions of this section.

Summary:

The amendments (i) automatically designate the state facilities operated by the Departments of Corrections, Juvenile Justice, and Behavioral Health and Developmental Services as Virginia medically underserved areas; and (ii) remove outdated information regarding scholarship programs that are affected by the designation.

Summary of Public Comments and Agency’s Response: No public comments were received by the promulgating agency.

Part I

General Information

12VAC5-540-10. Authority.

In accordance with the provisions of § 32.1-122.5 of the Code of Virginia, the State Board of Health is required to establish criteria for determining medically underserved areas within the Commonwealth and include in these criteria the need for medical care services in the state facilities operated by the Departments of Corrections, Juvenile Justice, and Behavioral Health and Developmental Services. The criteria are required to be quantifiable measures, sensitive to the unique characteristics of urban and rural jurisdictions.

12VAC5-540-20. Purpose.

The purpose of identifying medically underserved areas within the Commonwealth is to establish geographic areas in need of additional primary health care services. These areas may be selected by trained primary care physicians and other health professionals as practice sites in fulfillment of obligations that the physicians and other health professionals accepted in return for medical training and scholarship grant assistance. Each year of practice in a medically underserved area satisfies the repayment requirement of a year of scholarship support from the Virginia Medical Scholarship Program. Additionally, these medically underserved areas will be eligible locations for practicing primary care physicians and other health professionals participating in the state or federal physician loan repayment programs. Further, these medically underserved areas may become eligible for assistance, state or federal, to establish primary care medical centers.

Part II

Designating Medically Underserved Areas

12VAC5-540-30. Criteria for determining medically underserved areas.

EDITOR’S NOTE: The proposed amendments to this section were not adopted in the final regulations; therefore, no changes are made to this section.

The following [ five ] criteria, as available, and as indicated, shall be used to evaluate and identify medically underserved areas throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia [ and the criteria shall be applied at a minimum five year interval using the most recent data available to update the designations ].

1. Percentage of population with income at or below 100% of the federal poverty level. The source for these data shall be the most recent available publication of the Bureau of the Census of the U.S. Department of Commerce [ or appropriate intercensal estimates of poverty accepted by the Health Resources and Services Administration Shortage Designation Branch for federal health professional shortage area and medically underserved area designations ].

2. Percentage of population that is 65 years of age or older. The source for these data shall be the [ Bureau of the Census of the U.S. Department of Commerce, or the latest estimates from the Weldon Cooper Center for Public Service at the University of Virginia, or the ] Economic Services Division of the Virginia Employment Commission.

3. The primary care physician to population ratio. The source for these data shall be the [ Department of Family Practice of the Medical College of Virginia of Virginia Commonwealth University Virginia Department of Health Professions, or Board of Medicine physician profile database. Primary care physicians are defined as board certified or self designated generalist practitioners who practice family medicine, pediatrics, internal medicine, or obstetrics/gynecology ].

4. The four-year aggregate infant mortality rate. The source for these data shall be the [ Center most recent four year infant mortality data for each jurisdiction from the... ]
5. The most recent [ annual seasonally adjusted quarterly ] civilian unemployment rate [ for each jurisdiction ]. The source for these data shall be [ the ] Information Services Division of the Virginia Employment Commission.

6. Medical care services in state facilities operated by the Departments of Corrections, Juvenile Justice, and Behavioral Health and Developmental Services shall be deemed Virginia medically underserved areas.

12VAC5-540-40. Application of the criteria.

A. Determining medically underserved cities and counties. The criteria enumerated in 12VAC5-540-30 shall be used to construct a numerical index by which the relative degree of medical underservice shall be calculated for each city and county in the Commonwealth. Observations for each of the five criteria will be listed for each Virginia city and county. An interval scale will be used to assign a particular value to each observation. This will be done for each of the five criteria. Each interval scale will consist of four ranges or outcomes of observations. The ranges will be numerically equal. The four ranges will be labeled as Level 1, Level 2, Level 3, and Level 4. The numerical difference between the ranges will be established beginning with the Level 2 range.

The Level 2 range shall have the statewide average for each respective criterion, except the population to primary care physician ratio, as its upper limit. The Level 2 upper limit for the primary care physician to population ratio is established by dividing the difference between the Level 4 upper limit for this criterion and the Level 1 upper limit by two. Each observation which is equal to or less than the Level 2 upper limit, but greater than the Level 1 upper limit, will be assigned a numerical value of two.

The Level 1 range shall have an upper limit which is the quotient of the statewide average divided by two. For the ratio of population to primary care physician criterion, the upper limit of Level 1 shall be the ratio 2500:1 as recommended by the American Academy of Family Physicians. Each observation that is equal to or greater than the Level 1 upper limit will be assigned a numerical value of one.

The Level 3 range shall have an upper limit that is equal to the sum of the upper limit of the Level 1 range and the upper limit of the Level 2 range. For the ratio of population to primary care physician criterion, the upper limit of level 3 shall be established at 3500:1, the federal standard for designating health manpower shortage areas. Each observation that is equal to or less than the Level 3 upper limit will be assigned a numerical value of three.

The Level 4 range will include any observation greater than the upper limit of Level 3 range. Each observation in the Level 4 range will be assigned a numerical value of four.

The values for each of the ranges of the five criteria will be summed for each Virginia city and county. Each Virginia city and county will have an assigned value of five or greater, to a maximum of 20. A statewide average value will be determined by summing the total city and county values and dividing by the number of cities and counties. Any city or county assigned a value that is greater than the statewide average value shall be considered medically underserved. The application of criteria for determining medically underserved cities and counties shall be performed annually and published by the board.

B. Determining medically underserved areas within cities and counties. Geographic subsections of cities or counties may be designated as medically underserved areas when the entire city or county is not eligible if the subsection has: (i) a population to primary care physician ratio equal to or greater than 3500:1; and (ii) a population whose rate of poverty is greater than the statewide average poverty rate; and (iii) a minimum population of 3,500 persons residing in a contiguous, identifiable, geographic area. The board shall from time to time, on petition of any person, or as a result of its own decision, apply criteria for determining medically underserved subareas of cities and counties. Once determined to be medically underserved, any subarea of a city or county shall appear on the next list of medically underserved areas published by the board. Areas which qualify as medically underserved areas under 12VAC5-540-40 A and that are within Standard Metropolitan Areas as defined by the U.S. Department of Commerce, must also qualify under this section for purposes of placement of health professionals.

C. Medical care services in state facilities operated by the Departments of Corrections, Juvenile Justice, and Behavioral Health and Developmental Services shall be deemed Virginia medically underserved areas.

Proposed Regulation

Title of Regulation: 12VAC30-141. Family Access to Medical Insurance Security Plan (amending 12VAC30-141-100, 12VAC30-141-120).

Statutory Authority: §§ 32.1-325 and 32.1-351 of the Code of Virginia; 42 USC § 1396 et seq.

Public Comment Deadline: January 29, 2016.

Agency Contact: Victoria Simmons, Regulatory Coordinator, Department of Medical Assistance Services, 600 East Broad Street, Suite 1300, Richmond, VA 23219, telephone (804) 371-6043, FAX (804) 786-1680, TTY (800) 343-0634, or email victoria.simmons@dmas.virginia.gov.

Basis: Section 32.1-325 of the Code of Virginia grants to the Board of Medical Assistance Services the authority to administer and amend the State Plan for Medical Assistance and directs that such plan include a provision for the Family Access to Medical Insurance Security (FAMIS) program. Section 32.1-324 of the Code of Virginia authorizes the Director of the Department of Medical Assistance Services (DMAS) to administer and amend the State Plan for Medical Assistance when the board is not in session, subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the board. Section 32.1-351 of the Code of Virginia authorizes DMAS or the director, as the case may be, to develop and submit to the federal Secretary of Health and Human Services an amended Title XXI plan for the Family Access to Medical Insurance Security Plan, and revise such plan and promulgate regulations as may be necessary.

Section 2105 of the Social Security Act (42 USC § 1397ee) provides governing authority for payments for services. The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA) (2010) permits states to extend eligibility in the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) to children of state employees who are otherwise eligible under the state child health plan, known in Virginia as FAMIS. A critical issue reported to the Governor by the agency's director is the denial of access for the children of Virginia state employees to the FAMIS program. Virginia's workforce includes a significant number of lower income employees. Last year, more than 9,600 full-time state employees qualified for the Earned Income Tax Credit, a federal tax subsidy for lower-income working families. Full-time state employees may cover their dependent children through their employee health insurance, but for many families this is not an affordable option. Employees who choose this option face an increase in their insurance premium contributions of approximately $100 to $200 per month. Even with the most comprehensive coverage, employees must also pay co-pays of up to $40 for doctor visits. These health care premiums and cost sharing represent a significant reduction in take home pay for many state workers. Some may be forced to opt for employee-only coverage, thereby leaving their children with no health insurance; others may struggle to pay for rent or other necessities because of the additional cost for their children's insurance. This reduced access to covered medical services creates increased health risks for the children of Virginia state workers.

Current DMAS regulations exclude state employees from FAMIS eligibility. DMAS now seeks to remove this barrier to the FAMIS program and open up low-cost comprehensive health care coverage for the dependent children of Virginia state employees. This rule change will only affect state employees who are qualified for employer-sponsored health insurance; wage employees are not eligible to receive a state contribution toward the cost of their health coverage.

Purpose: The proposed regulatory action is intended to remove a barrier (i.e., high out-of-pocket costs) to access to health care services for more lower-income families.

At this time, a child who is a member of a family that is eligible for subsidized coverage under any Virginia state employee health insurance plan is not eligible for FAMIS. This policy was originally enacted to be compliant with § 2110(b)(2)(B) of the Social Security Act, which categorically excluded dependents of state employees in the definition of a "targeted low-income child."

Virginia's state employee health benefit policies do not allow adding or dropping dependents to coverage outside of the open enrollment period for the new plan year beginning annually July 1, except in the case of certain qualifying events. Eligibility for Medicaid has been such a qualifying event. Children in very low-income families (at or less than 133% federal poverty level (FPL)) are already eligible for Medicaid; those who are dependents of state employees can, under current rules, be dropped from state-subsidized coverage and enroll in Medicaid. The new rules will allow children in families with income between 144% and 200% FPL to move from state-subsidized coverage and enroll in FAMIS.

The children of working families who cannot afford insurance due to out-of-pocket costs suffer from lack of access to health care. While state employees may cover their dependent children through their employee health insurance, for many low-income families this is not an affordable option due to premium contributions, copayments, and deductibles that can add up to a substantial proportion of earned income. This regulatory action will allow children of state employees who are otherwise eligible (e.g., by virtue of family income, residency) to be enrolled for health coverage under the FAMIS Plan. The action will remove the current exclusion of such children from enrollment. This will allow employees of the Commonwealth to be treated the same as other families with access to employer-sponsored health insurance who by current policy may apply for coverage under FAMIS.

As a result of this regulatory action, more lower-income families will be able to obtain insurance coverage for preventive services and necessary medical care for their children. This regulatory action is essential to protect the health, safety, and welfare of these affected individuals by providing an opportunity to access high quality health care services that they may otherwise not be able to afford.

Substance: The intent of this action is to align Virginia policy with changes in federal laws and in doing so to offer more options for health care coverage to more children in lower-income families.

The proposed regulatory action allows state employees to enroll their otherwise-eligible dependent children in the FAMIS plan by removing the language that prohibits such enrollment. Since emergency regulations went into effect in January 2015, state employees who do not currently cover their dependent children on their health benefits have been able to enroll their dependent children in FAMIS if all eligibility standards are met. DMAS and the Department of Human Resources Management (DHRM) are implementing communication strategies to include agency website postings of a fact sheet, electronic newsletters to state benefit administrators, inclusion in the annual notice to all state employees about premium assistance, and the state employee open enrollment newsletter for 2015. It is estimated that 5.0% of the eligible state workforce will be impacted by this change, with a resulting 5,000 children enrolled in FAMIS.

Issues: The primary advantage of this proposed action to the public is that more low-income working families will have access to the FAMIS program, with significantly reduced out-of-pocket expenses for health care. This will result in more disposable income for such families to cover their basic necessities or other discretionary expenses. Businesses that offer health insurance to their employees may see a reduction in their health insurance costs if any of their employees have a spouse employed by the state and their eligible children can be enrolled in FAMIS. The primary disadvantage for families is the administrative process of dropping a child from state-sponsored insurance during the open enrollment period (if already covered) and having to apply for FAMIS.

The primary advantage to the Commonwealth is cost savings associated with the state employee health benefit plan. Those employees who currently cover their children on the state health plan could reduce their benefit option to that of an employee only, or employee plus spouse, thus reducing the state's share of premium for family coverage. Since the state employee health plan is self-insured, the actual costs of claims incurred for children covered under the plan would generate additional savings if those children were enrolled in FAMIS. According to DHRM staff, the state health plan's actuary estimates that the reduced cost to the state employee health plan for each child up to age 19 years (i.e., the FAMIS age limit) who leaves the plan averages $2,877. The employer's average share (both general and nongeneral funds) of this amount is $2,418.

Therefore, if 100 children leave the state plan for FAMIS coverage, the savings to the plan is projected to be $287,700, and the employer's share is estimated to be $241,800. DHRM notes that it has no reliable way to predict how many children will leave the health plan for FAMIS coverage. DHRM also cannot predict the specific health status or age of the children who leave, so actual savings may vary from this estimate.

Another advantage to the Commonwealth is reduction of the social and economic costs associated with reducing the number of uninsured children. It is estimated that about 100,000 children remain uninsured in Virginia. This regulatory action aims to reduce that number by 5.0%. DMAS does not anticipate any disadvantages to the public, the agency, or the Commonwealth. The proposed regulatory action fulfills the intent of Governor McAuliffe's A Healthy Virginia Plan to allow FAMIS coverage for children of state employees. It also has the potential to be considered a positive benefit for many state employees that may aid in workforce satisfaction and retention.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. The proposed changes remove the current exclusion in regulations and allow low-income state employees, whose children are otherwise eligible for Family Access to Medical Insurance Security Plan, to be enrolled in the program.

Result of Analysis. The benefits likely exceed the costs for all proposed changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. These regulations establish rules for implementation and oversight of the state's Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), known in Virginia as the Family Access to Medical Insurance Security (FAMIS) plan. In the past, the federal government prohibited eligibility of children of state employees for FAMIS under section 2110(b)(2)(B) of the Social Security Act which categorically excluded dependents of state employees in the definition of a "targeted low-income child." However, the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA) enacted in 2010 permitted states to extend eligibility in CHIP to children of state employees who are otherwise eligible under FAMIS. The proposed changes remove the current exclusion in regulations and allow low-income state employees, whose children are otherwise eligible for FAMIS, to be enrolled in the program.

According to the Department of Human Resource Management (DHRM), last year, more than 9,600 full-time state employees qualified for the Earned Income Tax Credit, a federal tax subsidy for lower-income working families. Full-time state employees may cover their dependent children through their employee health insurance, but for many families this is not an affordable option. Employees who choose this option face an increase in their insurance premium contributions of approximately $100 to $200 per month. Even with the most comprehensive coverage, employees must also pay co-pays of up to $40 for doctor visits and must pay deductibles. These health care premiums and cost sharing represent a significant reduction in take home pay for many state workers. Some are forced to opt for employee-only coverage, thereby leaving their children with no health insurance; others may struggle to pay for rent or other necessities because of the additional cost for their children's insurance. This reduced access to covered medical services creates increased health risks for the children of Virginia state workers.

In light of this situation, the Governor charged the Secretary of Health and Human Resources to create a plan to provide Virginians with greater access to health care for uninsured citizens. As a result, the Department of Medical Assistance Services (DMAS) developed and promulgated emergency regulations that became effective on January 1, 2015. The proposed changes will permanently implement the emergency regulations currently in effect.

The new rules allow children in families with income between 144% and 200% federal poverty level who are currently not covered under their parent's state-subsidized plan to enroll in FAMIS.1 Similarly, if the children are currently covered under their parent's state-subsidized plan, they are allowed to drop their current coverage and enroll in FAMIS. This change allows employees of the Commonwealth to be treated the same as other families with access to employer-sponsored health insurance who by current policy may apply for coverage under FAMIS. It is estimated that five percent of the state workforce eligible for insurance will be impacted by this change, with a resulting 5,000 children enrolled in FAMIS.

The economic effects of the proposed changes are different depending on whether the affected children are currently covered under their parent's policy or not. For state employees currently covering their children, a reduction in out-of-pocket expenses for health care is expected. This will result in more disposable income for such families to cover their basic necessities or other discretionary expenses. According to DMAS, most of the new enrollment in FAMIS is expected to be in this category (i.e., children dropping their existing coverage). For state employees who are not currently covering their children, some reduction in out-of-pocket expenses may also be expected. Such families may be paying out of pocket expenses for emergency or nonemergency services for their uninsured children. A reduction in out of pocket expenses will also result in more disposable income for such families to cover their basic necessities or other discretionary expenses. The primary disadvantage for affected families is the administrative process of having to apply for FAMIS and/or dropping their child from state sponsored insurance during the open enrollment period.

In addition to the savings to the employees, the primary advantage to the Commonwealth is cost savings associated with the state employee health benefit plan. Employees who currently cover their children on the state health plan could reduce their benefit option to that of an employee only, or employee plus spouse, thus reducing the state's share of premium for family coverage. Since the state employee health plan is self-insured, the actual costs of claims incurred for children covered under the plan would generate additional savings if those children were enrolled in FAMIS instead. According to DHRM, the state health plan's actuary estimates that the reduced cost to the state employee health plan for each child up to age 19 (i.e., the FAMIS age limit) who leaves the plan averages $2,877 per year. The employer's average share (both general and nongeneral funds) of this amount is $2,418 per year. Similarly, the Commonwealth may also experience a reduction in uncompensated health care costs for currently uninsured children of state employees. Similar to the benefits to the Commonwealth, businesses that offer health insurance to their employees also stand to see a reduction in their health insurance costs if any of their employees have a spouse employed by the state and can enroll their eligible children in FAMIS. The proposed changes may also affect health care providers. Currently, state health plan and FAMIS utilizes several provider networks. If coverage under the state health plan is dropped, affected children may start receiving services from a different provider participating in FAMIS. However, there is significant overlap between providers in state health plan networks and providers in FAMIS networks. Thus, affected children may be able to continue to receive their health care from the same providers. Likewise, a reduction in uninsured children of state employees would also reduce utilization of uncompensated health care services provided and increase utilization of providers in FAMIS. While the Commonwealth will experience savings due to reduced employer contributions toward family coverage on the state health plan or reduced uncompensated care costs, some of these savings will be offset due to the state's share of FAMIS costs for additional children. Based on 250 new children expected to be enrolled in FAMIS in fiscal year (FY) 2015 and 5,000 new children expected in FY 2016 and thereafter, DMAS estimates $255,687 increase in total FAMIS expenditures ($89,490 in general funds, $166,196 in federal funds) in FY 2015, $12.9 million increase in total FAMIS expenditures ($2.3 million in general funds, $10.6 million in federal funds) in FY 2016, and $13.6 million increase in total FAMIS expenditures ($1.6 million in general funds, $12 million in federal funds) in FY 2017. The average cost per FAMIS child is estimated to be $2,454 in FY 2015 ($859 in general funds due to 65% federal match and $1,595 in federal funds), is estimated to be $2,580 in FY 2016 ($458 in general funds due to 82.25% federal match and $2,122 in federal funds), and is estimated to be $2,724 in FY 2017 ($327 in general funds due to 88% federal match and $2,397 in federal funds). Given that the Commonwealth is expected to save $2,418 per child whose family drops their coverage under the state employee health plan, significant net savings to the Commonwealth are expected. In general, most of the Commonwealth's net savings will be replaced by federal funds and consequently increase inflow of federal funds coming into Virginia. An increase in federal funds would contribute to the Commonwealth's overall economy. Businesses and Entities Affected. Under the proposed changes, approximately 250 new children are expected to be enrolled in FAMIS in FY 2015 and 5,000 new children are expected in FY 2016 and thereafter. Most of the new enrollment in FAMIS is expected to be from children dropping their existing coverage. The proposed changes are also expected to shift utilization of services from providers in state health plan or from providers of other health plans offered to the children of state employees to the providers participating in FAMIS. The primary affected entity is the Commonwealth of Virginia as it will see a significant reduction in its contributions to the state employee health plan and a relatively small increase in expenditures in FAMIS due to significant federal funding, therefore experiencing significant net savings. Localities Particularly Affected. The proposed amendment does not disproportionately affect particular localities. Projected Impact on Employment. The proposed amendments may reduce demand for labor by providers in the state health plan or by providers of other health plans offered to the children of state employees and increase the demand for labor by the providers participating in FAMIS. However, DMAS indicates that there is a significant overlap between the providers in the state health plan and in FAMIS. Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. The proposed amendments are unlikely to significantly affect the use and value of private property. Real Estate Development Costs. The proposed amendments are unlikely to significantly affect real estate development costs. Small Businesses.² Costs and Other Effects. The proposed amendments may affect health care providers who are currently providing services to affected children and who will be providing services through FAMIS as discussed above. The majority of these providers are believed to be small businesses. Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. There is no known alternative method that would minimize the potential adverse impact on providers who are currently providing services to affected children while accomplishing the same goals. Adverse Impacts: Businesses: The proposed amendments may have an adverse impact on health care networks currently utilized by the state health plan which are not believed to be small businesses. However, some of these networks also participate in FAMIS and may continue to provide services to majority of the same children affected by the proposed changes.

Localities: The proposed amendments will not adversely affect localities.
Other Entities: The proposed amendments will not adversely affect other entities.

1 Children in very low-income families (at or less than 143% federal poverty level) are already eligible for Medicaid; those who are dependents of state employees can, under the current rules, be dropped from state-subsidized coverage and enroll in Medicaid.
2 Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.04 of the Code of Virginia, small business is defined as "a business entity, including its affiliates, that (i) is independently owned and operated and (ii) employs fewer than 500 full-time employees or has gross annual sales of less than $6 million."

Agency’s Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The agency has reviewed the economic impact analysis prepared by the Department of Planning and Budget regarding the regulations concerning FAMIS Eligibility for Children of State Employees. The agency raises no issues with this analysis.

Summary:

The proposed amendments remove the exclusion of otherwise eligible, by income and residency, state employees, who have access to subsidized health insurance coverage, from enrolling their dependent children in the Family Access to Medical Insurance Security (FAMIS) Plan and allow low-income state employees, whose children are eligible for the FAMIS Plan, to be enrolled in the program.

Part III
Eligibility Determination and Application Requirements

12VAC30-141-100. Eligibility requirements.

A. This section shall be used to determine eligibility of children for FAMIS.

B. FAMIS shall be in effect statewide.

C. Eligible children must:

1. Be determined ineligible for Medicaid by a local department of social services or be screened by the FAMIS central processing unit and determined not Medicaid likely;

2. Be under 19 years of age;

3. Be residents of the Commonwealth;

4. Be either U.S. citizens, U.S. nationals or qualified noncitizens;

5. Be uninsured, that is, not have comprehensive health insurance coverage; and

6. Not be a member of a family eligible for subsidized dependent coverage, as defined in 42 CFR 457.310(c)(1)(ii) under any Virginia state employee health insurance plan on the basis of the family member's employment with a state agency; and

7. Not be an inpatient in an institution for mental diseases (IMD), or an inmate in a public institution that is not a medical facility.

D. Income.

1. Screening. All child health insurance applications received at the FAMIS central processing unit must be screened to identify applicants who are potentially eligible for Medicaid. Children screened and found potentially eligible for Medicaid cannot be enrolled in FAMIS until there has been a finding of ineligibility for Medicaid. Children who do not appear to be eligible for Medicaid shall have their eligibility for FAMIS determined. Children determined to be eligible for FAMIS will be enrolled in the FAMIS program. Child health insurance applications received at a local department of social services shall have a full Medicaid eligibility determination completed. Children determined to be ineligible for Medicaid due to excess income will have their eligibility for FAMIS determined. If a child is found to be eligible for FAMIS, the local department of social services will enroll the child in the FAMIS program.

2. Standards. Income standards for FAMIS are based on a comparison of countable income to 200% of the federal poverty level for the family size, as defined in the State Plan for Title XXI as approved by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services. Children who have income at or below 200% of the federal poverty level, but are ineligible for Medicaid due to excess income, will be income eligible to participate in FAMIS.

3. Grandfathered CMSIP children. Children who were enrolled in the Children's Medical Security Insurance Plan for Title XXI as approved by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services. Children who have income at or below 200% of the federal poverty level, but are eligible for Medicaid due to excess income, will be income eligible to participate in FAMIS.

4. Spenddown. Deduction of incurred medical expenses from countable income (spenddown) shall not apply in FAMIS. If the family income exceeds the income limits described in this section, the individual shall be ineligible.
for FAMIS regardless of the amount of any incurred medical expenses.

E. Residency. The requirements for residency, as set forth in 42 CFR 435.403, will be used when determining whether a child is a resident of Virginia for purposes of eligibility for FAMIS. A child who is not emancipated and is temporarily living away from home is considered living with his parents, adult relative caretaker, legal guardian, or person having legal custody if the absence is temporary and the child intends to return to the home when the purpose of the absence (such as education, medical care, rehabilitation, vacation, visit) is completed.

F. U.S. citizen or nationality. Upon signing the declaration of citizenship or nationality required by § 1137(d) of the Social Security Act, the applicant or recipient is required under § 2105(c)(9) to furnish satisfactory documentary evidence of U.S. citizenship or nationality and documentation of personal identity unless citizenship or nationality has been verified by the Commissioner of Social Security or unless otherwise exempt.

G. Qualified noncitizen. The requirements for qualified aliens set out in Public Law 104-193, as amended, and the requirements for noncitizens set out in subdivisions 3 b, c, and e of 12VAC30-40-10 will be used when determining whether a child is a qualified noncitizen for purposes of FAMIS eligibility.

H. Coverage under other health plans.

1. Any child covered under a group health plan or under health insurance coverage, as defined in § 2791 of the Public Health Services Act (42 USC § 300gg-91(a) and (b)(1)), shall not be eligible for FAMIS.

2. No substitution for private insurance.

a. Only uninsured children shall be eligible for FAMIS. A child is not considered to be insured if the health insurance plan covering the child does not have a network of providers in the area where the child resides. Each application for child health insurance shall include an inquiry about health insurance. Each redetermination of eligibility shall also document inquiry about current health insurance.

b. Health insurance does not include Medicare, Medicaid, FAMIS, or insurance for which DMAS paid premiums under Title XIX through the Health Insurance Premium Payment (HIPP) Program or under Title XXI through the SCHIP premium assistance program.

I. Eligibility of newborns. If a child otherwise eligible for FAMIS is born within the three months prior to the month in which a signed application is received, the eligibility for coverage is effective retroactive to the child's date of birth if the child would have met all eligibility criteria during that time. A child born to a mother who is enrolled in FAMIS, under either the XXI Plan or a related waiver (such as FAMIS MOMS), on the date of the child's birth shall be deemed eligible for FAMIS for one year from birth unless the child is otherwise eligible for Medicaid.

A child found through the screening process to be potentially eligible for Medicaid but who fails to complete the Medicaid application process for any reason, cannot be enrolled in FAMIS;

2. A member of a family eligible for coverage under any Virginia state employee health insurance plan, he shall be ineligible for FAMIS;

4. An inpatient in an institution for mental disease (IMD) as defined in 42 CFR 435.1010, he shall be ineligible for FAMIS.

B. If a child's parent or other authorized representative does not meet the requirements of assignment of rights to benefits or requirements of cooperation with the agency in identifying and providing information to assist the Commonwealth in pursuing any liable third party, the child shall be ineligible for FAMIS.

C. If a child, if age 18, or if under age 18, a parent, adult relative caretaker, guardian, or legal custodian obtained benefits for a child or children who would otherwise be ineligible by willfully misrepresenting material facts on the application or failing to report changes, the child or children for whom the application is made shall be ineligible for FAMIS. The child, if age 18, or if under age 18, the parent, adult relative caretaker, guardian, or legal custodian who signed the application shall be liable for repayment of the cost of all benefits issued as the result of the misrepresentation.

An urgent care appeal shall not be available for any post-service claim or retrospective adverse benefit determination.

"Utilization review" means a set of formal techniques designed to monitor the use of or evaluate the clinical necessity, appropriateness, efficacy, or efficiency of health care services, procedures or settings. 14VAC5-216-40. Minimum appeal requirements.
A. Each covered person shall be entitled to a full and fair review of an adverse benefit determination. Within 180 days after the date of receipt of a notice of an adverse benefit determination, a covered person may file an appeal with the health carrier. A health carrier may designate a utilization review entity to coordinate the review. For purposes of this chapter, "health carrier" may also mean its designated utilization review entity.

B. The health carrier shall conduct the appeal in a manner to ensure the independence and impartiality of the individuals involved in reviewing the appeal. In ensuring the independence and impartiality of such individuals, the health carrier shall not make decisions regarding hiring, compensation, termination, promotion, or other similar matters based upon the likelihood that an individual will support the denial of benefits.

C. 1. In deciding an appeal of any adverse benefit determination that is based in whole or in part on a medical judgment, including determinations with regard to whether a particular treatment, drug, or other service is experimental, investigational, or not medically necessary or appropriate, the health carrier shall designate a clinical peer reviewer to review the appeal. The clinical peer reviewer shall not have been involved in any previous adverse benefit determination with respect to the claim.

2. A reviewer of any other type of adverse benefit determination shall be an appropriate person designated by the health carrier. The reviewer of the appeal shall not be the individual who made any previous adverse benefit determination of the subject appeal nor the subordinate of such individual and shall not defer to any prior adverse benefit determination.

D. A full and fair review shall also provide for:

1. The covered person to have an opportunity to submit written comments, documents, records, and other information relating to the appeal for the reviewer or reviewers to consider when reviewing the appeal.

2. Upon request to the health carrier, the covered person to have reasonable access to and free of charge copies of all documents, records, and other information relevant to the covered person's request for benefits. This information shall be provided to the covered person as soon as practicable.

3. An appeal process that takes into account all comments, documents, records, and other information submitted by the covered person relating to the appeal, without regard to whether such information was submitted or considered in the initial benefit determination.

4. The identification of medical or vocational experts whose advice was obtained on behalf of the health carrier in connection with a covered person's adverse benefit determination, without regard to whether the advice was relied upon in making the benefit determination.

5. An urgent care appeal process.

6. Prior to issuing a final adverse benefit determination, the health carrier to provide free of charge to the covered person any new or additional evidence relied upon or generated by the health carrier or at the direction of the health carrier, in connection with the internal appeal sufficiently in advance of the date the determination is required to be provided to permit the covered person a reasonable opportunity to respond prior to that date.

E. A health carrier shall notify the covered person of the final benefit determination within a reasonable period of time appropriate to the medical circumstances, but not later than the timeframes established in subdivisions 1 and 2 of this subsection.

1. If an internal appeal involves a pre-service claim review request, the health carrier shall notify the covered person of its decision within 30 days after receipt of the appeal. A health carrier may provide a second level of internal appeal for group health plans only, provided that a maximum of 15 days is allowed for a benefit determination and notification from each level of the appeal.

2. If an internal appeal involves a post-service claim review request, the health carrier shall notify the covered person of its decision within 60 days after receipt of the appeal. A health carrier may provide a second level of internal appeal for group health plans only, provided that a maximum of 30 days is allowed for a benefit determination and notification from each level of the appeal.

A. The health carrier shall notify the covered person of its initial benefit determination as soon as possible taking into account medical exigencies, but not later than 72 hours after receipt of the request, unless the covered person fails to provide sufficient information to determine whether, or to what extent, benefits are covered or payable under the health benefit plan. In the case of such failure, the health carrier shall notify the covered person as soon as possible, but not later than 24 hours after receipt of the request, of the specific information necessary to complete the claim. The covered person shall be afforded a reasonable amount of time, taking into account the circumstances, but not less than 48 hours to provide the specified information. The health carrier shall notify the covered person of its benefit determination not later than 48 hours after the earlier of (i) its receipt of the specified information or (ii) the end of the period afforded to the covered person to provide the specified additional information.

B. The notification of an urgent care adverse benefit determination that is based on a medical necessity, appropriateness, health care setting, level of care, effectiveness, experimental or investigational service or treatment, or similar exclusion or limit, shall include a description of the health carrier's urgent care appeal process including any time limits applicable to those procedures and the availability of and procedures for an expedited external review.

C. Upon receipt of an adverse benefit determination, a covered person may submit a request for an urgent care appeal either orally or in writing to the health carrier. Any appeal request made under this section by a treating health care professional shall be handled as an urgent care appeal. If such request is made by the covered person and not the treating health care professional, an individual acting on behalf of the health carrier shall apply the judgment of a prudent layperson who possesses an average knowledge of health and medicine to determine whether the appeal meets urgent care requirements.

D. All necessary information, including the benefit determination on appeal, shall be transmitted between the health carrier and the covered person by telephone, facsimile, or the most expeditious method available.

E. The health carrier shall notify the covered person and the treating health care professional of its benefit determination as soon as possible, taking into account the medical exigencies, but not later than 72 hours after receipt of an urgent care appeal.

14VAC5-216-65. Exception request for prescription drugs.

A. For plan years beginning on or after January 1, 2016, notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, a health carrier shall have a process in place that allows for a covered person or his prescribing physician (or other prescriber) to request and gain access to clinically appropriate drugs not otherwise covered by the health benefit plan, known as an exception request, in accordance with the requirements of 45 CFR §156.122 (c).

1. A standard exception request shall be reviewed and a coverage determination provided to the covered person and prescribing physician no later than the earlier of one business day or 72 hours following receipt of the request.

2. An expedited exception request may be made when exigent circumstances exist. Exigent circumstances exist when the covered person is suffering from a health condition that may seriously jeopardize the covered person’s life, health, or ability to regain maximum function or when the covered person is undergoing a current course of treatment using a nonformulary drug. An expedited exception request shall be reviewed and a coverage determination provided to the covered person and prescribing physician no later than 24 hours following receipt of the request.

3. If a health carrier denies coverage as a result of a standard exception request or an expedited exception request, the covered person or prescribing physician may submit an external exception request to the health carrier, requiring that the original exception request and subsequent denial be reviewed by an independent review organization. Such request shall be reviewed and a coverage determination provided to the covered person and prescribing physician no later than 72 hours following receipt of the request if the original request was a standard exception request, or 24 hours following receipt of the request if the original request was an expedited exception request.

B. The health carrier shall provide the nonformulary drug or drugs for the duration of the prescription (including refills) if coverage is granted under a standard exception request, or for the duration of the exigency if coverage is granted under an expedited exception request, including those granted through an external exception request. Coverage for each drug approved by an exception request shall be applied as if the drug was part of the prescription formulary.

C. A health carrier shall contract with at least one accredited independent review organization to conduct reviews in accordance with the requirements of subdivision A 3 of this section.

TITLE 16. LABOR AND EMPLOYMENT

SAFETY AND HEALTH CODES BOARD

Final Regulation

REGISTRAR’S NOTICE: The following regulatory action is exempt from Article 2 of the Administrative Process Act in accordance with § 2.2-4006 A 4 c of the Code of Virginia, which excludes regulations that are necessary to meet the requirements of federal law or regulations provided such regulations do not differ materially from those required by federal law or regulation. The Safety and Health Codes Board will receive, consider, and respond to petitions by any interested person at any time with respect to reconsideration or revision.

Summary:

In a final rule, federal Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA) adopted a new construction standard on confined spaces in construction, Subpart AA (29 CFR 1926.1200 through 29 CFR 1926.1213), and revisions to related provisions (29 CFR 1926.21, 29 CFR 1926.953, and 29 CFR 1926.968). Subpart AA replaces OSHA’s current one training requirement for confined space work with a comprehensive standard that includes a permit program designed to protect employees from exposure to many hazards associated with work in confined spaces, including atmospheric and physical hazards. The final rule is similar in content and organization to the general industry confined space standard, but also incorporates several provisions from the proposed rule to address construction-specific hazards, accounts for advancements in technology, and improves enforceability of the requirements. This action incorporates these changes into the Virginia standard. The new OSHA final rule provides comprehensive and uniform levels of worker protection across industries that previously were lacking in the federal regulations but had been addressed in 16VAC25-140, Virginia Confined Space Standard for the Construction Industry, a Virginia unique regulation. Since 16VAC25-140 is no longer necessary, the board is repealing it as part of this regulatory action.

The OSHA final rule does not apply to excavation or underground construction, which are covered by existing federal regulations. Therefore, the board adopted the existing federal identical regulations for the Excavation Standard (29 CFR 1926.650, 1926.651, and 1926.652) and the Underground Construction Standard (29 CFR 1926.800) and repealed the Virginia unique standards 16VAC25-150, Underground Construction, Construction Industry, and 16VAC25-170, Virginia Excavation Standard, Construction Industry.

Note on Incorporation by Reference: Pursuant to § 2.2-4103 of the Code of Virginia, 29 CFR Part 1926 (Construction Industry Standards) is declared a document generally available to the public and appropriate for incorporation by reference. For this reason this document will not be printed in the Virginia Register of Regulations. A copy of this document is available for inspection at the Department of Labor and Industry, Main Street Centre, 600 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia 23219, and in the office of the Registrar of Regulations, General Assembly Building, 9th and Broad Streets, Richmond, Virginia 23219.

Federal Terms and State Equivalents: When the regulations as set forth in the revised final rule for the Construction Industry Standards are applied to the Commissioner of the Department of Labor and Industry or to Virginia employers, the following federal terms shall be considered to read as follows:

TITLE 18. PROFESSIONAL AND OCCUPATIONAL LICENSING

BOARD OF AUDIOLOGY AND SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY

Proposed Regulation

Title of Regulation: 18VAC30-20. Regulations Governing the Practice of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology (amending 18VAC30-20-10; adding 18VAC30-20-241).

Public Hearing Information:

December 11, 2015 - 8:45 a.m. - Department of Health Professions, Perimeter Center, 9960 Mayland Drive, Conference Center, 2nd Floor, Richmond, VA

Public Comment Deadline: January 29, 2016.

Agency Contact: Leslie L. Knachel, Executive Director, Board of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology, 9960 Mayland Drive, Suite 300, Richmond, VA 23233-1463, telephone (804) 367-4630, FAX (804) 527-4413, or email leslie.knachel@dhp.virginia.gov.

Basis: Regulations Governing the Practice of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology (18VAC30-20) are promulgated under the general authority of subdivision 6 of § 54.1-2400 of the Code of Virginia, which provides the Board of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology the authority to promulgate regulations to administer the regulatory system.
Authority for the board to adopt regulations for limited cerumen management in the practice of audiology is pursuant to Chapter 327 of the 2014 Acts of Assembly.

Purpose: Since cerumen management is a more advanced skill in the practice of audiology, requiring additional knowledge and training, regulations specify the education and specific training necessary to perform it on patients. Additionally, audiologists must know the contraindications for performance by an audiologist and the conditions that require referral to a medical doctor. The goal of the amended regulation is to provide a framework for safe practice in an advanced procedure that prior to 2014 was not recognized in Virginia as being within the scope of practice of an audiologist. By the change in law and regulation, the practice is expanded to include limited cerumen management, but the qualifications for such practice and the limitations of practice by an audiologist are essential to protect patients.

If an audiologist does not have the clinical knowledge and skills or if he attempts to perform cerumen management on a patient beyond his scope of practice or in spite of contraindications, he can do serious damage to a patient's ear. If an audiologist is adequately trained and practices according to the standard of care and the board's regulation, the public's health and safety should be protected.

Substance: 18VAC30-20-10 is amended to include a definition for "limited cerumen management." 18VAC30-20-241 is a new section, in which subsection A sets out the basic educational qualification for performance of cerumen management, subsection B sets out the training an audiologist must satisfactorily complete to perform cerumen management and specifies that documentation of such training must be maintained, subsection C sets out the contraindications for performance of cerumen management, and subsection D provides that an audiologist performing cerumen management shall obtain informed written consent of the patient or legally responsible adult and maintain documentation of such consent and the procedure performed in the patient record. It also specifies that the audiologist shall refer patients to a physician if they exhibit contraindications or experience any complication, such as dizziness, during the procedure.

Issues: There are no disadvantages to the public. With the passage of Chapter 327 of the 2014 Acts of Assembly, it is clear that cerumen management of a limited nature is within the scope of practice of audiologists who have been specially trained in the procedure. Proposed regulations protect patients by specifying the necessary training and the medical conditions and situations in which it is not appropriate for a patient to have cerumen removed by an audiologist. There are no particular advantages or disadvantages to the agency or the Commonwealth.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. The proposed regulation provides a regulatory framework for practice in cerumen management, which was not recognized in Virginia as being within the scope of practice of an audiologist before 2014.

Result of Analysis. The benefits likely exceed the costs for all proposed changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. Prior to 2014, Virginia law and regulations did not address cerumen (commonly known as ear wax) management within the scope of practice of an audiologist though various forms of it were practiced by some audiologists to various extents. Cerumen management involves identification and removal of cerumen from the ear canal. According to the Board of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology (Board), if an audiologist does not have the clinical knowledge and skills or if he attempts to perform cerumen management on a patient beyond his or her scope of practice or in spite of contraindications, he or she can do serious damage to a patient's ear.

In order to address potential health and safety concerns, Chapter 327 of the 2014 Acts of the Assembly (HB500) added "limited cerumen management" to the scope of audiology practice and directed the Board to establish criteria for its practice. Pursuant to the legislative mandate, the Board promulgated emergency regulations, which became effective on December 29, 2014. The proposed regulation will replace the emergency regulation permanently.

With this action, the Board proposes to define "limited cerumen management" as the identification and removal of cerumen from the cartilaginous outer one-third portion of the external auditory canal. The Board also proposes to allow the practice of limited cerumen management by only those audiologists i) who are a graduate of an accredited doctoral program in audiology that included didactic education and supervised clinical experience in cerumen management, or ii) who completed an approved course or workshop in cerumen management. Furthermore, the Board sets out the contraindications to identify cases when the procedure shall not be performed, but the patient be referred to a physician; requires audiologists to obtain written consent of the patient or legally responsible adult; and maintain documentation. The proposed rules do not require audiologists to submit evidence of training and education, or consent documents to the Board, but instead require the evidence be available when and if the Department of Health Professions investigates a complaint.

The proposed training and education could occur within a practice under direct supervision. Training courses are also being developed by the state and national professional associations specifically for cerumen management. Parts of the training may be done online, but certain parts of the training must be done in-person with an audiologist who is already qualified or with a physician. The cost of the training and education may vary. The Speech-Language Hearing Association of Virginia is currently offering a one-day training in September 2015 at a cost of $230 for members and $300 for non-members. However, since the proposed regulation applies only if an audiologist wishes to perform limited cerumen management and if an audiologist chooses to obtain education and training to perform it, we can reliably infer that the anticipated benefits likely exceed compliance costs to him or her in terms of time, travel, and training fees.

Other benefits of the proposed regulation include: explicitly allowing qualified audiologists to perform cerumen management on a limited basis and possibly avoiding an extra visit to a physician’s office for limited cerumen management, establishing what the allowed scope of cerumen management by an audiologist is, establishing under what circumstances it may or may not be performed, and consequently providing a greater degree of patient health and safety compared to its practice without any standards.

While the proposed regulation is expected to be beneficial, the magnitude of benefits may be relatively small. As mentioned above, prior to 2014, various forms of cerumen management had been performed by some audiologist to various extents. The Board is unaware of any complaints or investigations related to practice of cerumen management when there was no regulatory framework on cerumen management by audiologists.

Businesses and Entities Affected. The proposed rules affect audiologists who want to include limited cerumen management in their practice. Currently, there are 517 licensed audiologists in Virginia, but the Board does not know how many of them are currently practicing cerumen management and how many may choose to perform this procedure in the future.

Localities Particularly Affected. The proposed changes apply throughout the Commonwealth.

Projected Impact on Employment. The proposed amendments are unlikely to affect employment.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. The proposed rules are not anticipated to affect the use and value of private property.

Real Estate Development Costs. The proposed amendments are unlikely to affect real estate development costs.

Small Businesses:

Definition. Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.04 of the Code of Virginia, small business is defined as “a business entity, including its affiliates, that (i) is independently owned and operated and (ii) employs fewer than 500 full-time employees or has gross annual sales of less than $6 million.”

Costs and Other Effects. The proposed rules introduce compliance costs to audiologists in terms of time, travel, and course fees to obtain training and education only if the audiologist does not have the appropriate training and education and he or she chooses to perform limited cerumen management and he or she would have performed it without obtaining the appropriate training and education if there were no regulations. However, it is highly unlikely that an audiologist would have performed a procedure that he or she is not trained and educated in for liability reasons. Thus, the compliance costs are likely negligible.

Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. The adverse impact on audiologists is likely negligible as discussed above.

Adverse Impacts:

Businesses: The proposed regulation is not anticipated to adversely impact non-small businesses.

Localities: The proposed amendments will not adversely affect localities.

Other Entities: No other entities are anticipated to be adversely affected.

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Board of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology concurs with the economic impact analysis of the Department of Planning and Budget.

Summary:

Pursuant to Chapter 327 of the 2014 Acts of Assembly, the proposed action provides a framework for safe practice of limited cerumen management by an audiologist including (i) a definition of "limited cerumen management," (ii) the education and specific training necessary to perform limited cerumen management on patients, (iii) the contraindications for performance by an audiologist of limited cerumen management on patients, and (iv) the conditions that require referral to a medical doctor.

Basis: Section 54.1-2400 of the Code of Virginia provides the Board of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology the authority to promulgate regulations that are reasonable and necessary to administer effectively the regulatory system. Authority for the board to adopt regulations for a person practicing as an assistant speech-language pathologist (SLPA) is found in the amendment to § 54.1-2600 of the Code of Virginia in Chapter 661 of the 2014 Acts of the Assembly.

Purpose: Chapter 661 of the 2014 Acts of Assembly authorizes a person "who has met the qualifications prescribed by the Board" to practice as an assistant speech-language pathologist under the supervision of a licensed speech-language pathologist. The purpose of the proposed regulatory action is to set out the qualifications for such a person, the scope of his practice, and the responsibilities of the licensed supervisor.
The practice of speech-language pathology includes "facilitating development and maintenance of human communication through programs of screening, identifying, assessing and interpreting, diagnosing, habilitating and rehabilitating speech-language disorders" (§ 54.1-2600 of the Code of Virginia). Unlicensed assistants may be utilized to extend but not replace the practice of a licensed SLP. The American Speech-Language-Hearing Association white paper on the scope of practice for assistants states: "The decision to shift responsibility for implementation of the more repetitive, mechanical, or routine clinical activities to SLP’s should be made only by qualified professionals and only when the quality of care and level of professionalism will not be compromised." The proposed regulatory action for the establishment of assistant competency and scope of practice is essential to ensure the quality and continuity of care under the legal and professional responsibility of a licensed SLP to protect the health and safety of clients receiving speech-language services.

Substance: Current regulations in 18VAC30-20-240 specify that a licensed speech-language pathologist shall provide documented supervision to unlicensed assistants, shall be held fully responsible for his performance and activities, and shall ensure that he performs only those activities that do not constitute the practice of speech-language pathology and that are commensurate with his level of training. Further, regulations provide that the identity of the unlicensed assistant shall be disclosed to the client prior to treatment and shall be made a part of the client's file.

Amendments to set out the qualifications of an assistant speech-language pathologist to include a bachelor's degree or associate's degree and specific training as necessary to be determined by the supervising SLP. Minimal competency in performance must be documented before the supervising SLP can assign tasks to the assistant. After demonstration of competency, the assistant may perform duties planned, designed, and supervised by a licensed SLP. Regulations specify which duties are appropriate to the practice of an assistant and which would constitute licensed practice of an SLP and therefore are not to be performed by an unlicensed assistant. Generally speaking, activities that require assessment and professional judgment in speech-language pathology are not appropriate for delegation to an assistant. Finally, regulations specify the supervisory responsibilities of the licensed SLP for the activities of the assistant, the number of assistants who may be supervised, the frequency with which there must be on-site supervision of assistants, and the frequency with which the licensed SLP must personally see and evaluate the client. Ultimate responsibility for the client and the outcomes of his care and treatment remains with the licensed SLP.

Issues: The primary advantage to the public is minimal qualifications for unlicensed assistants who are providing direct services to clients and clearer specifications about the appropriate role of an assistant and responsibility of a supervisor. There are no disadvantages as persons receiving services are better protected by proposed regulations.

There are no real advantages and disadvantages to the agency or the Commonwealth, except greater clarity and specification in regulation to reduce ambiguity for licensees.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. Pursuant to Chapter 661 of the 2014 Acts of the Assembly, the Board of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology proposes to amend its regulation to clarify rules for supervising unlicensed assistants and to set education and/or experience requirements that assistants must have in order for licensed speech-language pathologists to be able to hire or supervise them.

Result of Analysis. Benefits may outweigh costs for some of these proposed regulatory changes. For one regulatory change, there is insufficient information to ascertain whether benefits will outweigh costs. For one regulatory change, costs likely outweigh benefits.

Estimated Economic Impact. Current regulation requires licensed audiologists and licensed speech-language pathologists to provide documented supervision to their unlicensed assistants. Licensed audiologists and licensed speech-language pathologists are currently responsible for ensuring that assistants do not perform tasks that would constitute the practice of audiology or speech-language pathology and must also ensure that assistants only perform tasks for which they have been trained.

In 2014, the General Assembly passed legislation, which reads "A person who has met the qualifications prescribed by the Board may practice as an assistant speech-language pathologist and may perform duties not otherwise restricted to the practice of a speech-language pathologist under the supervision of a speech-language pathologist."

Pursuant to this legislation, the Board now proposes to amend its regulation 1) so that rules for audiologists and speech-language pathologists are separate (with rules for audiologist supervision of assistants remaining unchanged), 2) to clarify the rules for supervision of assistants, 3) to specify which duties a speech-language pathologist assistant can perform and which would constitute the practice of speech-language pathology and 4) to set education requirements for those assistants. Most of the amendments that will clarify the rules for supervision and the duties that assistants may perform are not new but instead will formally delineate current practice in this regulation. Board staff reports, for instance, that the requirement for speech-language pathologists to provide on-site supervision of at least two assistant lead client sessions every 30 days and to directly provide at least one client session every 30 days is reported to be current practice in the field and is also required for CMS (Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services) reimbursement for services. Clarifying changes such as these are unlikely to increase costs for any affected entity but will provide the benefit of greater understanding for the rules of supervision and provision of client services. Benefits will outweigh costs for these clarifying changes.

The Board newly proposes to limit the number of assistants that a speech-language pathologist may supervise at any time to two. Board staff reports that this limit is being imposed at the request of the Virginia Department of Education (VDOE) and of the speech-language pathologists that provided comment on the proposed regulation. To the extent that some speech-language pathologists may be currently supervising more than two assistants without compromising patient care, this change will likely adversely affect them as it will limit the number of clients they may serve. There is insufficient information available, however, to ascertain whether any benefits to clients that may accrue on account of speech-language pathologists being limited to two assistants will outweigh any adverse impacts to the speech-language pathologists themselves.

Board staff reports that the Board convened a Regulatory Advisory Panel (RAP) committee to provide subject matter expertise in developing the proposed regulation. This committee agreed that the responsibility for the training of assistants and for their practice belongs to the supervising speech-language pathologist. Board staff reports that the committee considered just requiring that assistants complete documented training with a licensed speech-language pathologist in topics that would allow them to complete assigned duties competently. By count, 7 of the 15 comments received at the NOIRA stage of this action suggested that assistants be required to have a bachelor's degree (one suggested that they be required to complete education specific to speech-language disorders). With that feedback the Board now proposes to require that assistants who are supervised by speech-language pathologists either 1) have been employed as an assistant in a U.S. jurisdiction at some time in the five years preceding the effective date of this proposed regulation or 2) have a bachelor's or associate's degree in any field and documented training by a speech-language pathologist. Board staff reports that the Board is not proposing formal education specifically in speech-language pathology because there are no associate's or bachelor's level programs in speech language pathology in the Commonwealth. Board staff further reports that there are several bachelor's programs in communication sciences and disorders in the Commonwealth: at Longwood University, the University of Virginia, James Madison University (JMU), Radford University, Old Dominion University (ODU), Hampton University and Norfolk State University.

These education requirements will likely cost new assistant speech-language pathologists entering the field after this proposed regulation becomes effective at least $20,000 for a two year associate's degree to many more tens of thousands of dollars for a bachelor's degree at a traditional four year university. The bachelor's programs in communications sciences and disorders reported by Board staff, and for which DPB could find cost information, would cost between $48,384 at ODU to $98,000 at JMU for a four year degree. These greatly increased costs to enter the field will likely limit the number of individuals able to work as assistant speech-language pathologists. This, in turn, will likely increase costs for local school districts and health care institutions that hire the majority of speech-language pathologists that will be competing to hire from a smaller pool of approved assistants. Speech language pathologists who work in private practice will also see increased costs, or a decreased client capacity with fewer assistants. These education requirements will also put future assistants at a competitive disadvantage when compared to assistants now working as they will have paid much more to enter the field which will not be as remunerative for them once they account for the financial outlay of required formal education. It is also likely hard to justify this education requirement when 1) there is likely little nexus between requiring just any degree and competent practice as an assistant and 2) there is no suggestion that current assistants are practicing incompetently with training from their supervising speech-language pathologist. Without some evidence that current assistant practice is suffering from issues that formal education would specifically address, all affected entities, including clients, would likely benefit from amending the proposed regulation to eliminate the requirement for formal higher education. Costs likely outweigh benefits for this proposed change.

Businesses and Entities Affected. Board staff reports that this proposed regulation will affect all speech-language pathologists in the Commonwealth as well as any assistants that they supervise. The Board currently licenses 3,662 speech-language pathologists but Board staff does not know how many individuals are employed as speech-language pathologist assistants. According to the Department of Health Profession's Healthcare Workforce Data Center, as of 2013 approximately 14% of speech-language pathologists worked in private practice and so would likely qualify as small businesses. All other speech-language pathologists work for either large health care institutions or school systems.

Localities Particularly Affected. New education requirements for speech-language pathologist assistants will require a bachelor's or associate's degree of assistants hired for the first time to do this job after the effective date of this proposed regulation. Local school systems that have not been requiring this level of education in the assistants that they hire will likely have a smaller pool of individuals to hire from and may have to pay more to secure the services of these individuals.

Projected Impact on Employment. This regulatory action will likely decrease the number of individuals who may be hired as speech-language pathologists.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. To the extent that this regulatory action raises the cost of hiring speech-language pathology assistants, private practice speech-language pathologists as well as large health institutions may either choose to hire fewer assistants (thus somewhat limiting the number of clients they may serve) or may have to cover increased salary costs. Both of these responses to increased costs would tend to slightly decrease profits.

Small Businesses: Costs and Other Effects. Private practice speech-language pathologists may experience increased employment costs for hiring assistants once assistants are required to have a bachelor's or associate's degree.

Small Businesses: Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. Absent some evidence that current speech-language pathologist assistants are practicing in ways that would raise competency issues that are best addressed by the formal education requirements in this proposed regulation, speech-language pathologists, their assistants and their clients will likely benefit from eliminating those requirements and allowing speech-language pathologists to provide training in the specific tasks that they plan to assign their assistants.

Real Estate Development Costs. This regulatory action will likely have no effect on real estate development costs in the Commonwealth.

1 Assistants may not 1) hold themselves out as being an audiologist or speech-language pathologist, 2) perform any tests or evaluations, 3) perform procedures that require professional clinical skills, 4) interpret results of tests or evaluations or provide interpretive information on client status or services, 5) participate in conferences or meetings without the presence of their supervisor or 6) write, develop or modify client treatment plans.

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Board of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology does not concur with the analysis of the Department of Planning and Budget (DPB) on 18VAC30-20, Regulations Governing the Practice of Audiology and Speech-Language, relating to its assertions about the unnecessary burden of requiring an associate's degree or bachelor's degree for persons working as speech-language pathology assistants.

At its meeting on June 11, 2015, the board considered the economic impact analysis prepared by DPB and chose to retain its original proposal for the following reasons:

1) While an assistant will perform activities as directed and supervised by a licensed speech-language pathologist (SLP), he will be providing significant services to clients, often with children or the elderly. The assistant must have the knowledge and skills to assist with screenings, assist with assessments, follow a treatment plan and document results, assist with programming devices and in training the client on such devices, and document performance and report to the SLP. Members concurred that a post-secondary level of education was essential for the core knowledge and skills to train an assistant for safe, competent practice. Much in the same way a basic baccalaureate degree is necessary to secure admission in graduate programs, the board believes an associate's or bachelor's degree should be the foundational educational level for an assistant who will then receive special training in speech-language pathology duties.

2) By setting the qualification at the associate or bachelor level, the regulation may open opportunities for persons who hold those degrees but do not have specialized training and experience that qualifies them for employment.

3) It is not accurate to state that there are no bachelor's level programs in speech-language pathology or communication disorders. The agency background document has been revised to clarify that such programs and degrees are available and do graduate several hundred persons each year.

4) Current capacity for hiring bachelor's degree persons should be more than adequate to meet demand. A master's degree is required for licensure as an SLP. Recent information from masters-level programs in speech-language pathology or communication-speech disorders in Virginia indicates that there are significantly more applicants with bachelor's degrees than slots in graduate programs. At James Madison University, there were 249 applications for the online program, and 20 were admitted; there were 349 applications for the on-campus program; 22 were admitted. At Longwood University, there were 240 applications, 50 were admitted with intent of securing a class of 22. At the University of Virginia, there were 300 applicants for 25 available seats. It is apparent that there are several hundred graduates who have an interest in speech-language disorders who do not qualify for licensure but would benefit from the opportunity to be hired as an assistant and gain valuable knowledge and experience to possibly help secure a position in a graduate program.

5) According to the Speech-Language Hearing Association of Virginia and the members of the Ad Hoc Committee and the board, speech-language pathologists who work in private practices do not currently hire persons as SLP assistants who have less than a bachelor's degree, so it is not accurate to state there they will see increased costs or a decreased client capacity.

6) The economic impact analysis stated that the Assistant Attorney General advised the board that it must include a requirement for "formal education." In fact, the Assistant Attorney General advised that the law specified that the board must set "qualifications" for an assistant speech-language pathologist and that allowing them to be trained on the job was not necessarily a qualification for practice.

7) Finally, there were six persons who commented on the Notice of Intended Regulatory Action that a bachelor's degree in speech-language or communication disorders should be the minimum qualification for an assistant SLP; two others stated that the minimum qualification should be a bachelor of arts degree or a bachelor of sciences degree.

Summary:
The proposed regulations for the supervision of unlicensed assistants include the (i) responsibility of the licensed speech-language pathologist for the training and assignment of duties of an assistant, (ii) qualifications of an assistant, (iii) duties that may be performed by an assistant, (iv) scope of practice of a speech-language pathologist that may not be delegated to an assistant, (v) the level and limitation on supervision of assistants, and (vi) the obligation of the licensee to provide the necessary level of supervision to ensure quality of care, including on-site observation of at least two client sessions for each assistant every 30 days and direct delivery of service to each client at least every 30 days.

18VAC30-20-240. Supervisory responsibilities; supervision of unlicensed assistants.

A. Responsibility of a licensee.

1. A licensed audiologist and speech-language pathologist shall provide documented supervision to who supervises unlicensed assistants shall document such supervision, shall be held fully responsible for their performance and activities, and shall ensure that they perform only those activities which do not constitute the practice of audiology or speech-language pathology and which that are commensurate with their level of training.

2. A licensed speech-language pathologist who supervises unlicensed assistants shall document such supervision, shall be held fully responsible for their performance and activities, and shall ensure that they perform only those activities that do not constitute the practice of speech-language pathology and that are commensurate with their level of training.

   a. A speech-language pathologist shall not supervise an assistant without the speech-language pathologist’s knowledge and consent by the assistant and the licensee documented prior to assumption of supervisory responsibilities.

   b. The frequency in which the speech-language pathologist personally delivers treatment or services to a client who is receiving some services from an assistant shall be up to the professional judgment of the speech-language pathologist and shall be determined by the treatment needs of the client, the type of services being provided, and the setting in which the client is being served, but shall occur at least every 30 days.

B. The identity of the unlicensed assistant shall be disclosed to the client prior to treatment and shall be made a part of the client’s file.

B. Qualifications of a speech-language pathologist assistant.

1. A person acting as a speech-language pathologist assistant shall have:

   a. A bachelor’s degree or associate’s degree and documented training by a licensed speech-language pathologist in topics related to the client population to be served; or

b. Employment as a speech-language pathologist assistant in a United States jurisdiction within the last five years preceding (the effective date of the regulations).

2. A speech-language pathologist supervising an assistant shall be responsible for determining that the knowledge, skills, and clinical experience of the assistant are sufficient to ensure competency to perform all tasks to which the assistant is assigned. The speech-language pathologist shall document competency after training and direct observation of the assistant's performance of such tasks, and a record of skills and competencies shall be maintained.

C. Scope of practice of a speech-language pathologist assistant. After demonstration and documentation of competency for the duties to be assigned, an assistant shall only engage in those duties planned, designed, and supervised by a licensed speech-language pathologist, to include the following:

1. Assist with speech, language, and hearing screenings without clinical interpretation of results.

2. Assist during assessment of a client exclusive of administration or interpretation.

3. Perform activities for each session that are routine and do not require professional judgment, in accordance with a plan developed and directed by the speech-language pathologist who retains the professional responsibility for the client.

5. Assist with programming augmentative and alternative communication devices and assist the client in repetitive use of such devices.

6. Sign or initial informal treatment notes and, upon request, co-sign formal documents with the supervising speech-language pathologist.

7. Engage in the following activities:

   a. Preparing materials;

   b. Scheduling appointments and activities;

   c. Preparing charts, records, or graphs and performing other clerical duties;

   d. Performing checks and maintenance of equipment; and

   e. Assisting a client with transitioning to and from therapy sessions.

8. Perform duties not otherwise restricted to the practice of speech-language pathology.

D. A speech-language pathologist assistant shall not engage in the practice of speech-language pathology, including the following:

1. Represent himself as a speech-language pathologist.

2. Perform standardized or nonstandardized diagnostic tests or formal or informal evaluations.
3. Perform procedures that require a professional level of clinical acumen and technical skill.

4. Tabulate or interpret results and observations of feeding and swallowing evaluations or screenings performed by a speech-language pathologist.

5. Participate in formal conferences or meetings without the presence of the supervising speech-language pathologist.

6. Provide interpretative information to the client, the family of the client, or others regarding the client’s status or service.

7. Write, develop, or modify a client’s treatment plan.

8. Assist in or provide services as specified in subsection C of this section unless directed by the supervising speech-language pathologist.

10. Select a client for service or discharge a client from service.

11. Make a decision on the need for additional services or make referrals for service.

12. Disclose clinical or confidential information either orally or in writing to anyone other than the supervising speech-language pathologist, unless mandated by law or authorized by the supervising speech-language pathologist.

13. Develop or determine the swallowing or feeding strategies or precautions for a client or provide feeding or swallowing treatment.

E. Supervision of an assistant in speech-language pathology.

1. The practice of an assistant shall only be supervised by a speech-language pathologist who retains full legal and ethical responsibility for the client. A speech-language pathologist shall only supervise the equivalent of two full-time assistants.

2. The speech-language pathologist shall provide the level of supervision to the speech-language pathologist assistant necessary to ensure quality of care to include on-site supervision of at least two client sessions for each assistant being supervised every 30 days to directly observe and evaluate the performance of the assistant. The speech-language pathologist shall document such on-site observation and evaluation in the client record for each session.

VA.R. Doc. No. R15-4179; Filed November 9, 2015, 9:58 a.m.
Issues: The primary advantage to the public is greater protection for office-based procedures requiring moderate sedation or anesthesia and more information about the physician, the plan for anesthesia and expectations for discharge. There are no disadvantages to the public. There are no advantages or disadvantages to the agency or the Commonwealth. This proposal was carefully negotiated with specialty groups of physicians to ensure that the central issue remained public protection but qualified providers were not excluded.

Department of Planning and Budget’s Economic Impact Analysis:
Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. In response to a petition for rulemaking from the Medical Society of Virginia, the Board of Medicine (Board) proposes to amend its requirements for office-based anesthesia to: 1) define the administration of 300 milligrams or more of lidocaine (or equivalent doses of local anesthetics) as moderate sedation that is subject to the requirements of this regulation, 2) limit the duration of a procedure that includes sedation that falls under the requirements of this regulation to last no longer than four hours if the anesthesia is not administered by an anesthesiologist or a certified registered nurse anesthetist or eight hours if anesthesia is administered by one of these entities and 3) define "reasonable proximity" for the safe transfer of patients to a hospital in case of an emergency as "accessible within 30 minutes of the office." The Board also proposes several clarifying changes that will likely not affect costs.

Result of Analysis. There is insufficient information to ascertain whether benefits will outweigh costs for one proposed substantive change. Benefits likely outweigh costs for all proposed clarifying changes and the two other proposed substantive changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. Current regulation applies to "the administration of moderate sedation/conscience sedation, deep sedation, general anesthesia or regional anesthesia consisting of a major conductive block" in an office setting. On the recommendation of the Medical Society of Virginia, and particularly plastic surgeons that are part of that group, the Board proposes to also require that any procedure that involves the administration of 300 milligrams or more of lidocaine (or equivalent doses of local anesthesia) be subject to this regulation. This would mean that doctors who choose to use lidocaine or other local anesthetics in the described dosages as a part of an office surgery or procedure would newly have to follow all the requirements laid out in this regulation including: ensuring a pre-anesthesia check-up is performed, developing an anesthesia plan and having written protocols for office-based anesthesia, procedure selection and patient evaluation. Doctors' offices where such procedures are performed would also newly be required to be within reasonable proximity of a licensed general hospital capable of providing necessary emergency services (within 30 minutes' drive, according to the proposed regulation).

This new requirement will likely increase costs (or decrease revenue) for doctors who perform office-based procedures or surgeries under lidocaine or other local anesthetics; these doctors will either incur additional bookkeeping and other time costs for any procedure that requires these local anesthetics, have to stop performing those procedures if they know or suspect that the patient will require 300 milligrams or more of lidocaine (or equivalent for other local anesthetics) or will have to switch to other, presumably less optimal, forms of anesthesia. Specifically, doctors will definitely incur additional costs that accrue on a per patient basis (such as time spent either performing pre-anesthesia checkups or ensuring that such checkups have been performed) but will only incur time and other costs for writing and keeping required protocols if they only perform in-office surgeries that are currently exempt from this regulation but will not be exempt under the proposed regulation. Doctors who now only perform surgery and procedures requiring minor, local or topical anesthesia and whose offices are more than 30 minutes from a hospital would either have to move offices, switch to using other, presumably less optimal, anesthesia or stop performing the surgeries they now offer altogether. Affected patients will likely also incur costs on account of pre-anesthesia checkup requirements as well as other requirements that would extend the time and doctor resources required to care for them.

Research indicates that lidocaine is given in doses that vary according to the weight of the patient. Specifically, Drugs.com reports that the usual adult dose for lidocaine used as a local anesthetic "varies with procedure, degree of anesthesia needed, vascularity of tissue, duration of anesthesia required and physical condition of (the) patient" but can go up to a maximum dosage of 4.5 milligrams per kilogram of weight not more than every two hours. The website for the University of Iowa Healthcare System reports that the maximum safe dosage of lidocaine without epinephrine for pediatric patients is 4 milligrams per kilogram of weight. This means that for adults, any procedure involving administration of the maximum safe dosage of lidocaine for patients weighing more than approximately 147 lbs. would automatically fall under the more stringent rules for moderate or deep sedation or general anesthesia even if that patient is in excellent general health and would otherwise not need the heightened scrutiny and care plans required under this regulation.

In addition to disproportionately affecting patients that weigh more than 147 pounds, this requirement may have a disproportionate adverse impact on patients that live in rural parts of Virginia that do not have a local hospital within 30 minutes. Patients that now can have minor procedures or surgeries involving lidocaine (300 milligrams of more) in a local doctor's office would, under the proposed requirement, have to incur travel expenses, and possibly higher medical costs.
costs to have that procedure or surgery done either at a hospital or at a non-local doctor's office that is close enough to a hospital to meet the requirements of this regulation. All of these potential costs would have to be measured against the possible benefits to patients of limiting the absolute amount of lidocaine that can be used in a procedure without enhanced requirements kicking in. There is currently insufficient information on the magnitude of potential benefits that may accrue on account of this change to ascertain whether benefits will outweigh costs.

Current regulation does not set a limit on the duration of in-office surgeries using moderate sedation/conscience sedation, deep sedation, general anesthesia or regional anesthesia consisting of a major conductive blocks but only requires that such surgeries be "of a duration and degree of complexity that will permit the patient to recover and be discharged from the facility in less than 24 hours.\) The Board now proposes to specify that surgeries occurring under the auspices of this regulation may last no longer than four hours if the anesthesia is not administered by an anesthesiologist or a certified registered nurse anesthetist or eight hours if anesthesia is administered by one of these entities. Because research indicates\(^4\) that the odds of a whole host of potential side effects and adverse outcomes increase as the length of time spent under anesthesia increases, patients will likely benefit from this restriction. Patient benefits will likely outweigh any costs doctors incur for not being able to perform surgeries over four (or eight) hours in their offices.

Current regulation requires that doctors who perform in-office surgery using moderate sedation/conscience sedation, deep sedation, general anesthesia or regional anesthesia consisting of a major conductive blocks be able to transfer their patients to a hospital in "reasonable proximity" to their office. The Board now proposes to specify that reasonable proximity is within 30 minutes of the doctor's office. Although the actual specified time is new, it is likely that the Board already enforced this provision using the same or similar time limits. In any case, all affected entities in both the regulated and regulating community will likely benefit from the additional certainty that this change will bring.

Businesses and Entities Affected. Board staff reports that these changes will potentially affect all Board licensed doctors of medicine, osteopathy and podiatry that perform surgeries in their offices as well as all of these doctors' patients.

Localities Particularly Affected. Rural communities that are not in close proximity to a hospital will be disproportionately affected by these proposed changes.

Projected Impact on Employment. These proposed changes may moderately decrease employment in doctors' offices that currently are not subject to these regulations but will become subject to them on account of the proposed changes.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. The value of some medical, osteopathic or podiatric practices may decrease if they incur costs on account of these proposed changes.

Real Estate Development Costs. These proposed changes will likely not affect real estate development costs.

Small Businesses:

Definition. Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.04 of the Code of Virginia, small business is defined as "a business entity, including its affiliates, that (i) is independently owned and operated and (ii) employs fewer than 500 full-time employees or has gross annual sales of less than $6 million."

Costs and Other Effects. Small business doctors will likely incur additional costs that accrue on a per patient basis (such as time spent either performing pre-anesthesia checkups or ensuring that such checkups have been performed) but will only incur time and other costs for writing and keeping required protocols if they only perform in-office surgeries that are currently exempt from this regulation but will not be exempt under the proposed regulation. Doctors who now only perform surgery and procedures requiring minor, local or topical anesthesia and whose offices are more than 30 minutes from a hospital would either have to move offices, switch to using other, presumably less optimal, anesthesia or stop performing the surgeries they now offer altogether.

Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. Doctors and their patients would incur fewer costs if lidocaine standards were written so that any imposed limit on the amount of lidocaine is evidence based and varies directly with the weight of the patient as that appears to be the way lidocaine is administered.

Adverse Impacts:

Businesses: Doctors who own their practices will likely incur additional costs that accrue on a per patient basis (such as time spent either performing pre-anesthesia checkups or ensuring that such checkups have been performed) but will only incur time and other costs for writing and keeping required protocols if they only perform in-office surgeries that are currently exempt from this regulation but will not be exempt under the proposed regulation. Doctors who now only perform surgery and procedures requiring minor, local or topical anesthesia and whose offices are more than 30 minutes from a hospital would either have to move offices, switch to using other, presumably less optimal, anesthesia or stop performing the surgeries they now offer altogether.

Localities: Rural localities that currently do not have a hospital in close proximity (as defined by this proposed regulation) may see a disproportionate adverse impact on the availability of minor out-patient surgical services offered.

Other Entities: The proposed changing categorization of lidocaine in doses at or over 300 milligrams (or like amounts of other local anesthetics) may have a disproportionate adverse impact on patients that live in rural parts of Virginia who do not have a local hospital within 30 minutes. Patients who now can have minor procedures or surgeries involving lidocaine (300 milligrams of more) in a local doctor's office would, under the proposed requirement, have to incur travel expenses and possibly higher medical costs to have that procedure or surgery done either at a hospital or at a non-local doctor's office that is close enough to a hospital to meet the requirements of this regulation.

4 See, for instance, "Duration of General Anesthesia and Surgical Outcome": Yoho, Robert, et al. (http://www.dryoho.com/dr-yoho/clinical/duration_anesthesia.pdf). This study notes that research found the odds of patient death, post-operative nausea and vomiting, venous thromboemboli, post-operative surgical site S. aureus infection, post-operative core hypothermia and cardiopulmonary complication increased either as time under anesthesia increased or in surgeries over a certain duration (in this study, either two or three hours).

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Board of Medicine submits the following response to the analysis of the Department of Planning and Budget (DPB) of amendments to 18VAC85-20, Regulations Governing the Practice of Medicine, Osteopathic Medicine, Podiatry and Chiropractic, relating to rules for office-based anesthesia.

As the petitioner for the proposed regulations, the Medical Society of Virginia (MSV) was asked to comment on the DPB analysis. The board concurs with the comments listed below:

MSV agrees with the DPB analysis that "Benefits likely outweigh costs for all proposed clarifying changes and two other proposed substantive changes.

As to DPB's analysis of what we presume they are referring to as "one proposed substantive change," we do concur that the ability to accurately quantify whether or not the benefits exceed the costs is not a precise calculation. However, several of the items noted by the DPB analysis as potentially increasing costs may indeed already be part of a physician's routine standard of care. For example, a pre-anesthetic check-up, an anesthesia plan, and written protocols for office-based anesthesia, procedure selection, and patient evaluation are accepted, specialty developed standards of care for physicians routinely performing these procedures. Though the proposed regulations may increase costs for those physicians not currently following these standards, we believe that number to be relatively limited, that some may elect to do this voluntarily, but that for those who choose not to follow accepted quality and safety standards, appropriate regulations may create the added incentive needed for proper patient care.

The analysis also suggests that "Doctors who now only perform surgery and procedures requiring minor, local or topical anesthesia, and whose offices are more than 30 minutes from a hospital would either have to move offices, switch to using other, presumably less optimal anesthesia or stop performing the surgeries they now offer altogether" and therefore would incur higher costs or less revenue. It is the MSV's understanding that doctors only performing surgery that involves the administration of topical anesthesia, local anesthesia, minor conductive blocks, or minimal sedation/anxiolyis that do not result in alteration of consciousness beyond minimal pre-operative tranquilization are not subject to these regulations. (See 18VAC85-20-320 A 1 - Applicability of requirements for office-based anesthesia). Therefore, additional costs would not be incurred.

In addition, the DPB analysis discusses the application of the 300 milligrams or more of lidocaine as the base threshold for complying with these regulations and the extent to which it would apply based upon a dosage to weight ratio. The MSV work group that developed these proposed regulations consisted of board certified physicians from several specialties, including family practice, plastic surgery, orthopedics, and pediatrics. The 300 milligrams dosage was chosen for these proposed regulations in order to provide for an amount that was easily understood, measurable, applicable across the board, and recognized by other states with comparable regulations on office-based anesthesia. Further, the use of 300 mg or more of lidocaine for certain prolonged invasive procedures when it is not used primarily as a local anesthetic is not always the best practice and will signal to the physician that an alternative, more appropriate anesthetic agent should be used. Guidelines and trigger warnings like these can be readily captured in written protocols for office-based anesthesia, leading to better and safer quality of care.

Summary:

The proposed amendments (i) define the administration of 300 milligrams or more of lidocaine as moderate sedation, (ii) address informed consent by patients, including knowledge about whether the physician is board certified or board eligible, (iii) require documentation of complications during surgery or recovery, (iv) establish a time limit on procedures that may be performed in an office, (v) address proximity to a hospital to which a patient may be transferred, and (vi) specify that the anesthesia provider or the doctor supervising the anesthesia must give the order for discharge.

A. Applicability of requirements for office-based anesthesia.

1. The administration of topical anesthesia, local anesthesia, minor conductive blocks, or minimal sedation/anxiolyis, not involving a drug-induced alteration of consciousness other than minimal preoperative tranquilization, is not subject to the requirements for office-based anesthesia in this part. A health care practitioner administering such agents shall adhere to an accepted standard of care as appropriate to the level of anesthesia or sedation, including evaluation, drug selection, administration, and management of complications.
2. The administration of moderate sedation/conscious sedation, deep sedation, general anesthesia, or regional anesthesia consisting of a major conductive block are subject to these requirements for office-based anesthesia in this part. The administration of 300 milligrams or more of lidocaine or equivalent doses of local anesthetics shall be deemed to be subject to these requirements for office-based anesthesia in this part.

3. Levels of anesthesia or sedation referred to in this chapter shall relate to the level of anesthesia or sedation intended and documented by the practitioner in the preoperative anesthesia plan.

B. A doctor of medicine, osteopathic medicine, or podiatry administering office-based anesthesia or supervising such administration shall:

1. Perform a preanesthetic evaluation and examination or ensure that it has been performed;
2. Develop the anesthesia plan or ensure that it has been developed;
3. Ensure that the anesthesia plan has been discussed with the patient or responsible party preoperatively and informed consent has been obtained;
4. Ensure patient assessment and monitoring through the pre-, peri-, and post-procedure phases, addressing not only physical and functional status, but also physiological and cognitive status;
5. Ensure provision of indicated post-anesthesia care; and
6. Remain physically present or immediately available, as appropriate, to manage complications and emergencies until discharge criteria have been met; and
7. Document any complications occurring during surgery or during recovery in the medical record.

C. All written policies, procedures, and protocols required for office-based anesthesia shall be maintained and available for inspection at the facility.

A. A written protocol shall be developed and followed for procedure selection to include but not be limited to:

1. The doctor providing or supervising the anesthesia shall ensure that the procedure to be undertaken is within the scope of practice of the health care practitioners and the capabilities of the facility.
2. The procedure or combined procedures shall be of a duration and degree of complexity that shall not exceed four hours and that will permit the patient to recover and be discharged from the facility in less than 24 hours. The procedure or combined procedures may be extended for up to eight hours if the anesthesia is provided by an anesthesiologist or a certified registered nurse anesthetist.
3. The level of anesthesia used shall be appropriate for the patient, the surgical procedure, the clinical setting, the education and training of the personnel, and the equipment available. The choice of specific anesthesia agents and techniques shall focus on providing an anesthetic that will be effective, and appropriate and will address the specific needs of patients while also ensuring rapid recovery to normal function with maximum efforts to control postoperative pain, nausea, or other side effects.

B. A written protocol shall be developed for patient evaluation to include but not be limited to:

1. The preoperative anesthesia evaluation of a patient shall be performed by the health care practitioner administering the anesthesia or supervising the administration of anesthesia. It shall consist of performing an appropriate history and physical examination, determining the patient’s physical status classification, developing a plan of anesthesia care, acquainting the patient or the responsible individual with the proposed plan, and discussing the risks and benefits.
2. The condition of the patient, specific morbidities that complicate anesthetic management, the specific intrinsic risks involved, and the nature of the planned procedure shall be considered in evaluating a patient for office-based anesthesia.
3. Patients who have pre-existing medical or other conditions that may be of particular risk for complications shall be referred to a facility appropriate for the procedure and administration of anesthesia. Nothing relieves the licensed health care practitioner of the responsibility to make a medical determination of the appropriate surgical facility or setting.

C. Office-based anesthesia shall only be provided for patients in physical status classifications for Classes I, II and III. Patients in Classes IV and V shall not be provided anesthesia in an office-based setting.
Board of Foot and Ankle Surgery. The forms shall either list which board or contain a statement that doctor performing the surgery is not board certified or board eligible.

C. The surgical consent forms shall indicate whether the surgery is elective or medically necessary. If a consent is obtained in an emergency, the surgical consent form shall indicate the nature of the emergency.

18VAC85-20-370. Emergency and transfer protocols.
A. There shall be written protocols for handling emergency situations, including medical emergencies and internal and external disasters. All personnel shall be appropriately trained in and regularly review the protocols and the equipment and procedures for handling emergencies.

B. There shall be written protocols for the timely and safe transfer of patients to a prespecified hospital or hospitals within a reasonable proximity. For purposes of this section, "reasonable proximity" shall mean that a licensed general hospital capable of providing necessary services is normally accessible within 30 minutes of the office. There shall be a written or electronic transfer agreement with such hospital or hospitals.

18VAC85-20-380. Discharge policies and procedures.
A. There shall be written policies and procedures outlining discharge criteria. Such criteria shall include stable vital signs, responsiveness and orientation, ability to move voluntarily, controlled pain, and minimal nausea and vomiting.

B. Discharge from anesthesia care is the responsibility of the health care practitioner providing or the doctor supervising the anesthesia care and shall only occur when patients have:

1. The patient has met specific physician-defined criteria; and
2. The health care practitioner providing or the doctor supervising the anesthetic care has given the order for discharge.

C. Written instructions and an emergency phone number shall be provided to the patient. Patients shall be discharged with a responsible individual who has been instructed with regard to the patient's care.

D. At least one person trained in advanced resuscitative techniques shall be immediately available until all patients are discharged.

Fast-Track Regulation
Public Hearing Information: No public hearings are scheduled.

Public Comment Deadline: December 30, 2015.
Effective Date: January 15, 2016.
Agency Contact: William L. Harp, M.D., Executive Director, Board of Medicine, 9960 Mayland Drive, Suite 300, Richmond, VA 23233, telephone (804) 367-4558, FAX (804) 527-4429, or email william.harp@dhp.virginia.gov.

Basis: Section 54.1-2400 of the Code of Virginia provides the Board of Medicine the authority to promulgate regulations that are reasonable and necessary to administer effectively the regulatory system. Section 54.1-2952.1 of the Code of Virginia authorizes the Board of Medicine, in consultation with the Board of Pharmacy, to promulgate regulations governing the prescriptive authority of physician assistants.

Purpose: The purpose of the amendment is to modify a regulation that is considered burdensome by physician assistants. Facilitating prescribing practice by physician assistants, under the supervision of a physician, will enhance efficiency and access to patient care. Since disclosures about the supervising physician and the licensure of the physician assistant remain in regulation, the amendment to the regulation will not lessen protection for the health and safety of the patient.

Rationale for Using Fast-Track Process: There is no controversy in the adoption of this amendment; it is recommended by physician assistants and the supervising physicians with whom they work.

Substance: The amended regulation will eliminate the requirement for the name of the supervising physician on a prescription written by a physician assistant if the assistant is writing a prescription for a Schedule VI drug. The physician's name on the prescription will continue to be required if the assistant is writing a prescription for Schedule II through V drugs. Amendments also will clarify how the physician assistant can comply with the disclosure requirement specified in § 54.1-2952.1 of the Code of Virginia.

Issues: The primary advantage to the public is facilitation of prescribing by physician assistants for greater efficiency and access. There are no disadvantages to the public. There are no advantages or disadvantages to the agency or the Commonwealth.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:
Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. As a result of a recommendation from the Advisory Board on Physician Assistants, the Board of Medicine (Board) proposes to eliminate the requirement for the signature of a supervising physician or podiatrist on prescriptions for Schedule VI drugs written by physician assistants.

Result of Analysis. There is insufficient information to ascertain if benefits will outweigh costs for this regulatory action.

Estimated Economic Impact. Current law requires that physician assistants practice under a written supervisory agreement with a licensed physician or podiatrist "which provides for the direction and supervision by the licensee of the prescriptive practices of the assistant. Such agreement must contain the controlled substances that the physician assistant is or is not authorized to prescribe and may restrict such prescriptive authority as deemed appropriate by the physician or podiatrist providing direction and supervision." As part of that supervision, physician assistants are required to have their supervising physician's or podiatrist's name on all prescriptions that they write whatever the Schedule the prescribed drugs might be in. In February of 2015, the Board considered a recommendation from the Advisory Board on Physician Assistants to eliminate the requirement that a supervising physician's or podiatrist's name be on prescriptions for all Schedule drugs (Schedules II through VI) written by physician assistants as this requirement was seen as unnecessarily burdensome. The Board decided at its meeting on June 18, 2015, to eliminate the requirement for the signature of a supervising physician or podiatrist on prescriptions for Schedule VI drugs but to retain that requirement for prescriptions of Schedule II through V drugs.

Board staff reports that the Board chose to amend this regulation in the way they did because the current system for electronic prescriptions used in the Commonwealth only has a place for two names (the prescribing physician assistant and the supervising physician or podiatrist) on prescriptions for Schedule II through V drugs that fall under the federal Controlled Substances Act. Board staff reports that this change will make it easier for physician assistants to write electronic prescriptions for Schedule VI drugs which are not controlled under federal law but are controlled under Virginia Code. To the extent that physician assistants currently write paper prescriptions for Schedule VI drugs when an electronic prescription sent directly to the pharmacy would allow the patient to avoid spending time and gas to physically pick up their prescription, this change will likely benefit both physician assistants and patients.

Schedule VI drugs include topical anesthetics, and topical and oral anti-allergy drugs (including antihistamines and mast cell stabilizers), anti-fungals, anti-glaucoma drugs, anti-infective drugs (including antibiotics and antivirals) and anti-inflammatory drugs (including steroids like prednisone and Solu-Medrol). While these drugs are not addictive or as potentially dangerous as drugs in Schedules II through V, they can still be dangerous if prescribed incorrectly or for too long. Steroids, for instance, can induce Cushing's Syndrome in individuals who take them long term. Although Board staff reports that physician assistants have other requirements to disclose the name of their supervising physician that will likely protect patient health, removing the supervising physician's or podiatrist's name from Schedule VI drug prescriptions may decrease the ability of outside entities like pharmacists, who are not privy to information about the physician assistant's supervisor outside of the information explicitly contained on a prescription, to report potential contra-indications and problematic prescriptive practices directly to that supervisor. Without knowing either the magnitude of time savings for physician assistants and patients due to easier electronic prescribing or the potential magnitude of any possible harm that may arise from this change, it is not possible to say if benefits will outweigh costs for this regulatory change.

Businesses and Entities Affected. This regulatory change will affect all physician assistants as well as the patients who see them. Board staff reports that there are currently 3,058 individuals who are licensed as physician assistants in the Commonwealth.

Localities Particularly Affected. This proposed change will not particularly affect any locality in the Commonwealth.

Projected Impact on Employment. This proposed change is unlikely to impact employment in the Commonwealth.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. This proposed change will likely have no impact on the use or value of private property.

Small Businesses:

Definition. Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.04 of the Code of Virginia, small business is defined as "a business entity, including its affiliates, that (i) is independent and (ii) employs fewer than 500 full-time employees or has gross annual sales of less than $6 million."

Costs and Other Effects. No small businesses will incur costs on account of this regulatory change.

Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. No small businesses will incur costs on account of this regulatory change.

Adverse Impacts:

Businesses: This proposed change is unlikely to adversely impact any business in the Commonwealth.

Localities: This proposed change is unlikely to adversely impact localities.

Other Entities: This proposed change may adversely affect patients prescribed Schedule VI drugs if pharmacists are less likely or able to contact supervising physicians when problems with those prescriptions arise and contacting the prescribing physician assistant does not yield corrective action.

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: In the adoption of a fast-track regulation, the Board of Medicine does not concur with the statement of the Department of Planning and Budget that "removing the supervising physician's or podiatrist's name from Schedule VI drug prescriptions may decrease the ability of outside entities like pharmacists, who are not privy to information about the physician assistant's supervisor outside of the information explicitly contained on a prescription, to report potential..."
contra-indications and problematic prescriptive practices directly to that supervisor." Pharmacists will have access to that information through the national provider number on each prescription. Additionally, nurse practitioners are not required to list the physician with whom they have a practice agreement on any prescription in Schedules II through VI.

Summary:

The amendments (i) eliminate the requirement for the supervising physician's name to appear on a prescription written by a physician assistant for a Schedule VI drug and (ii) and clarify how a physician assistant may comply with the requirement to disclose to a patient that he is a licensed physician assistant.

18VAC85-50-160. Disclosure.

A. Each prescription for a Schedule II through V drug shall bear the name of the supervising physician and of the physician assistant.

B. The physician assistant shall disclose to the patient that he is a licensed physician assistant, and also the name, address and telephone number of the supervising physician. Such disclosure may be included on the prescription pad or may be given in writing to the patient.

Fast-Track Regulation

Title of Regulation: 18VAC85-120. Regulations Governing the Licensure of Athletic Trainers (amending 18VAC85-120-10).

Statutory Authority: §§ 54.1-2400 and 54.1-2957.4 of the Code of Virginia.

Public Hearing Information: No public hearings are scheduled.

Public Comment Deadline: December 30, 2015.

Effective Date: January 15, 2016.

Agency Contact: William L. Harp, M.D., Executive Director, Board of Medicine, 9960 Mayland Drive, Suite 300, Richmond, VA 23233, telephone (804) 367-4558, FAX (804) 527-4429, or email william.harp@dhp.virginia.gov.

Basis: Section 54.1-2400 of the Code of Virginia provides the Board of Medicine the authority to promulgate regulations that are reasonable and necessary to administer effectively the regulatory system.

The specific legal authority to promulgate regulations for licensure is found in § 54.1-2957.4 of the Code of Virginia.

Purpose: The purpose of the amended regulation is to define a "student athletic trainer" so there is no confusion between the activities of a person enrolled in an athletic training educational program at the bachelor's or master's degree level and a person who is a high school student who is acting as an aide to the athletic director or a coach. The student athletic trainer is permitted to perform tasks within the scope of a licensee provided he is appropriately trained and supervised in accordance with the provisions of 18VAC85-120-130 B. However, using a high school aide who does not have the educational background and skills to perform such tasks is potentially dangerous to the health and safety of student athletes. Therefore, it is necessary to define the term "student athletic trainer" to ensure that there is no confusion about the application of the regulation.

Rationale for Using Fast-Track Process: There is no controversy in the adoption of this amendment; it is clarifying in nature and may prevent a misunderstanding of the regulations.

Substance: The amended regulation will define a "student athletic trainer" as a person enrolled in an accredited bachelor's or master's level educational program in athletic training.

Issues: The primary advantage to the public is clarity in the regulation so that a high school student is not allowed to practice as a "student athletic trainer" in the performance of tasks that should be reserved for persons enrolled in an athletic training program on the college or university level. There are no disadvantages to the public.

There are no advantages or disadvantages to the agency or the Commonwealth.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. The Board of Medicine (Board) proposes to add a definition for student athletic trainer to its regulation that sets rules for the licensing of athletic trainers.

Result of Analysis. The benefits likely exceed the costs for this proposed regulation.

Estimated Economic Impact. Currently, this regulation contains rules for student athletic trainers but does not contain a definition of what a student athletic trainer is. The Board now proposes to define a student athletic trainer as "a person enrolled in an accredited bachelor's or master's level educational program in athletic training." No entities are likely to incur costs on account of this change. To the extent that adding this definition clarifies the Board's rules, individuals who are seeking to understand these rules will benefit.

Businesses and Entities Affected. This proposed change will affect all student athletic trainers as well as any other individuals who might read this regulation.

Locality Particularly Affected. This proposed change will not particularly affect any locality in the Commonwealth.

Projected Impact on Employment. This proposed change will likely not affect employment in the Commonwealth.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. This proposed change will likely have no impact on the use or value of private property.
Real Estate Development Costs. This proposed change will likely not affect real estate development costs.

Small Businesses:
Definition. Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.04 of the Code of Virginia, small business is defined as "a business entity, including its affiliates, that (i) is independently owned and operated and (ii) employs fewer than 500 full-time employees or has gross annual sales of less than $6 million."

Costs and Other Effects. No small businesses will incur costs on account of this regulatory change.

Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. No small businesses will incur costs on account of this regulatory change.

Adverse Impacts:
Businesses: This proposed change is unlikely to adversely impact any business in the Commonwealth.
Localities: This proposed change is unlikely to adversely impact localities.
Other Entities: This proposed change is unlikely to adversely impact any other entities in the Commonwealth.

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Board of Medicine concurs with the analysis of the Department of Planning and Budget.

Summary:
The amendment clarifies that the term "student athletic trainer" as used in the regulation means a person enrolled in an accredited bachelor's or master's level education program in athletic training.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:
Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. Under the Regulations Governing the Licensure of Nurse Practitioners, the Boards of Nursing and Medicine (Boards) issue nurse practitioner licenses by specialty category. The Boards propose to conform the categories of nurse practitioner specialties in the regulation to the current categories for which national certifications are available.

Result of Analysis. The benefits likely exceed the costs for all proposed changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. Nurse practitioners may only work within the specialty category for which they are licensed. In order to renew a license biennially, the nurse practitioner shall hold current professional certification in the area of specialty practice from one of the national certifying agencies. According to the Department of Health Professions, the national certifying agencies permit certification renewal of eliminated categories. Similarly, the Boards permit renewal of licenses in categories no longer specified in this regulation, as long as the national certification remains current.

Thus, the Boards' proposal to eliminate, add, and amend specialty category names in order to conform the categories to those currently offered by the national certifying agencies will have no impact on current licenses. The proposal is beneficial in that it will make clear to potential new licensees the categories in which they may gain licensure.

Businesses and Entities Affected. The proposed amendments particularly affect individuals seeking nurse practitioner licensure. The 8371 individuals currently licensed as nurse practitioners are not significantly affected.

Localities Particularly Affected. The proposed amendments do not disproportionately affect particular localities.

Projected Impact on Employment. The proposed amendments do not significantly affect employment.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. The proposed amendments do not significantly affect the use and value of private property.

Small Businesses:
Definition. Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.04 of the Code of Virginia, small business is defined as "a business entity, including its affiliates, that (i) is independently owned and operated and (ii) employs fewer than 500 full-time employees or has gross annual sales of less than $6 million."

Costs and Other Effects. The proposed amendments do not significantly affect small businesses.

Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. The proposed amendments do not adversely affect small businesses.

Adverse Impacts:
Businesses: The proposed amendments do not adversely affect businesses.

Localities: The proposed amendments do not adversely affect localities.

Other Entities: The proposed amendments do not adversely affect other entities.

1If the nurse practitioner was initially licensed prior to May 8, 2002, he may alternatively complete at least 40 hours of continuing education in the area of specialty practice.

2Specifically the Board accepts certification from the following: American Midwifery Certification Board, American Nurses Credentialing Center, National Board of Certification and Recertification for Nurse Anesthetists, Pediatric Nursing Certification Board, National Certification Corporation, American Academy of Nurse Practitioners, and American Association of Critical-Care Nurses Certification Corporation.

3Source: Department of Health Professions

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Boards of Nursing and Medicine concur with the analysis of the Department of Planning and Budget on proposed amended regulations for 18VAC90-30, relating to the specialty categories for licensure of nurse practitioners.

Summary:
The amendments conform the categories of nurse practitioner specialties to the current categories for which national certification is available.

18VAC90-30-70. Categories of licensed nurse practitioners.
A. The boards shall license nurse practitioners consistent with their specialty education and certification in the following categories (a two-digit suffix appears on licenses to designate category):
1. Adult/geriatric acute care nurse practitioner (01);
2. Family nurse practitioner (02);
3. Pediatric/primary care nurse practitioner (03);
4. Geriatric Adult/geriatric primary care nurse practitioner (07);
5. Certified registered nurse anesthetist (08);
6. Certified nurse midwife (09);
7. Neonatal nurse practitioner (13);
8. Women’s health nurse practitioner (14);
9. Acute care nurse practitioner (16);
10. Psychiatric nurse/mental health practitioner (17);

B. Other categories of licensed nurse practitioners shall be licensed if the Committee of the Joint Boards of Nursing and Medicine determines that the category meets the requirements of this chapter.

C. Nurse practitioners licensed prior to March 9, 2005, January 15, 2016, may retain:
1. Retain the specialty category in which they were initially licensed or if
2. If the specialty category has been subsequently deleted and if qualified by certification, be issued a license in a specialty category listed in subsection A of this section that is consistent with such certification.

BOARD OF PHARMACY
Proposed Regulation

Title of Regulation: 18VAC110-20. Regulations Governing the Practice of Pharmacy (amending 18VAC110-20-110).

Public Hearing Information:

December 1, 2015 - 9 a.m. - Perimeter Center, 9960 Mayland Drive, Suite 201, Board Room 2, Richmond, VA 23233

Public Comment Deadline: January 29, 2016.

Agency Contact: Caroline Juran, RPh, Executive Director, Board of Pharmacy, 9960 Mayland Drive, Suite 300, Richmond, VA 23233-1463, telephone (804) 367-4416, FAX (804) 527-4472, or email caroline.juran@dhp.virginia.gov.

Basis: Regulations are promulgated under the general authority of Chapter 24 (§ 54.1-2400 et seq.) of Title 54.1 of the Code of Virginia. Section 54.1-2400 of the Code of Virginia provides the Board of Pharmacy the authority to promulgate regulations that are reasonable and necessary to administer effectively the regulatory system. Such regulations shall not conflict with the purposes and intent of Chapter 24 or of Chapter 1 (§ 54.1-100 et seq.) and Chapter 25 (§ 54.1-2500 et seq.) of Title 54.1. The specific statutory authority for the Board of Pharmacy to regulate the practice of pharmacy including regulations pertaining to the safety and integrity of drugs is found in § 54.1-3307 of the Code of Virginia.

Purpose: While the board is not aware of studies documenting the error rate for pharmacists working extensive hours continuously, every pharmacist who spoke to the board and members of the board are aware that fatigue and lack of concentration can and do lead to errors in filling, reviewing for drug interactions, and dispensing prescription drugs. For other professions who rely on mental acuity, such as airline pilots, there is a limitation on continuous hours of work. Therefore, the board believes it is essential for public health and safety that some reasonable limitation be instituted on continuous hours of work without any breaks for pharmacists in Virginia.

Regulation is necessary to prevent, to the extent possible, prescription errors due to fatigue and lack of concentration by pharmacists in the important task of assuring the accuracy and integrity of controlled substances.

Substance: The proposed regulation provides that, except in an emergency, a pharmacy cannot require a pharmacist to work longer than 12 continuous hours in any work day without being allowed at least six hours of off-time between consecutive shifts. A pharmacist working longer than six continuous hours must be allowed to take a 30-minute break.

Issues: The primary advantage to the public would be greater assurance of safety in prescription medications dispensed by pharmacists who are not overly-fatigued from excessive hours of work without any break. Pharmacists would have the option of continuing with a patient beyond the prescribed hours or remaining on duty if a replacement pharmacist is not available, so patients would not be neglected. There are no disadvantages to the public.

There are no advantages or disadvantages to the agency or the Commonwealth.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. The Board of Pharmacy (Board) proposes to provide in these regulations that, except in an emergency, a pharmacy cannot require a pharmacist to work longer than 12 continuous hours in any work day without being allowed at least six hours of off-time between consecutive shifts. A pharmacist working longer than six continuous hours must be allowed to take a 30-minute break.

Result of Analysis. The proposed amendments are beneficial for some entities and are costly for others.

Estimated Economic Impact. The proposal was initially brought forth through a petition for rulemaking by a practicing Virginia pharmacist. According to the petitioner, there are hundreds of retail pharmacists in Virginia who are required to work more than 12 continuous hours (often up to 14 hours) per day, and a large percentage of them are not allowed to leave the pharmacy for at least a 30 minute meal break. Under the proposed language a pharmacist can agree to work longer than 12 continuous hours in a work day without at least six hours of off-time between consecutive shifts or work longer than six continuous hours without taking a break, but cannot be required to do so. Thus, the proposed amendments will be beneficial for pharmacists who object to such work requirements.

Also, the peer reviewed literature does indicate that fatigue contributes to pharmacist dispensing errors. Working numerous hours without a break and working long shifts with little time off in between surely does contribute to fatigue. Thus, the proposed amendments have the potential to reduce dispensing errors. Of note, the peer-reviewed literature appears to imply that high workload per hour is an even greater source of pharmacist dispensing error than a high quantity of consecutive hours worked.

As demonstrated by the petition for rulemaking, there are pharmacists who are currently required to work longer than 12 continuous hours in a work day without at least six hours of off-time between consecutive shifts or work longer than six continuous hours without taking a break. Thus, the proposed prohibition on requiring such work hours will likely cause some pharmacies to increase staffing or redeploy existing staff in a less profit-maximizing manner.

Businesses and Entities Affected. The proposed amendments potentially affect the 12,011 pharmacists and 1,776 pharmacies currently licensed in the Commonwealth. According to the Department of Health Professions, most of the licensed pharmacies are owned by national chain drug stores and would not be considered small businesses.

Localities Particularly Affected. The proposed amendments do not disproportionately affect particular localities.

Projected Impact on Employment. The net effect of the proposed amendments on total employment is uncertain. On the one hand, the proposed limitation on requiring certain work hours may cause some pharmacies to increase staffing to cover all hours of operation. On the other hand, the prohibition will increase costs for affected pharmacies. Such pharmacies may choose to operate for fewer hours in response and effectively employ fewer hours of pharmacist labor.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. The proposed amendments will likely cause some pharmacies to increase staffing or redeploy existing staff in a less profit-maximizing manner.

Small Businesses: Costs and Other Effects. Most of the affected businesses are part of large chain pharmacies. Those small pharmacies which are currently requiring staff pharmacists to work longer than 12 continuous hours in a work day without at least six hours of off-time between consecutive shifts or work longer than six continuous hours without taking a break may incur higher staffing costs or be forced to be open fewer hours due to the proposed amendments if their staff do not voluntarily agree to work such hours.

Small Businesses: Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. There is not an apparent alternative method that achieves the same policy goal at a lower cost.

Real Estate Development Costs. The proposed amendments do not affect real estate development costs.

Agency's Response to the Economic Impact Analysis: The Board of Pharmacy concurs with the analysis of the Department of Planning and Budget.
Summary:

The proposed amendments establish that (i) except in an emergency, a pharmacy cannot require a pharmacist to work longer than 12 continuous hours in any work day without being allowed at least six hours of off-time between consecutive shifts and (ii) a pharmacist working longer than six continuous hours is allowed to take a 30-minute break.

Part IV

Pharmacies

18VAC110-20-110. Pharmacy permits generally.
A. A pharmacy permit shall not be issued to a pharmacist to be simultaneously in charge of more than two pharmacies.
B. Except in an emergency, a permit holder shall not require a pharmacist to work longer than 12 continuous hours in any work day without being allowed at least six hours of off-time between consecutive shifts. A pharmacist working longer than six continuous hours shall be allowed to take a 30-minute break.
C. The pharmacist-in-charge (PIC) or the pharmacist on duty shall control all aspects of the practice of pharmacy. Any decision overriding such control of the PIC or other pharmacist on duty shall be deemed the practice of pharmacy and may be grounds for disciplinary action against the pharmacy permit.
D. When the PIC ceases practice at a pharmacy or no longer wishes to be designated as PIC, he shall immediately return the pharmacy permit to the board indicating the effective date on which he ceased to be the PIC.
E. Although not required by law or regulation, an outgoing PIC shall have the opportunity to take a complete and accurate inventory of all Schedule II through V controlled substances on hand on the date he ceases to be the PIC, unless the owner submits written notice to the board showing good cause as to why this opportunity should not be allowed.
F. A PIC who is absent from practice for more than 30 consecutive days shall be deemed to no longer be the PIC. Pharmacists-in-charge having knowledge of upcoming absences for longer than 30 days shall be responsible for notifying the board and returning the permit. For unanticipated absences by the PIC, which exceed 15 days with no known return date within the next 15 days, the owner shall immediately notify the board and shall obtain a new PIC.
G. An application for a permit designating the new PIC shall be filed with the required fee within 14 days of the original date of resignation or termination of the PIC on a form provided by the board. It shall be unlawful for a pharmacy to operate without a new permit past the 14-day deadline unless the board receives a request for an extension prior to the deadline. The executive director for the board may grant an extension for up to an additional 14 days for good cause shown.

G. H. Only one pharmacy permit shall be issued to conduct a pharmacy occupying the same designated prescription department space. A pharmacy shall not engage in any other activity requiring a license or permit from the board, such as manufacturing or wholesale-distributing, out of the same designated prescription department space.
I. Before any permit is issued, the applicant shall attest to compliance with all federal, state and local laws and ordinances. A pharmacy permit shall not be issued to any person to operate from a private dwelling or residence after September 2, 2009.

Public Hearing Information:
December 8, 2015 - 9 a.m. - Department of Health Professions, Perimeter Center, 9960 Mayland Drive, Conference Center, 2nd Floor, Hearing Room 5, Richmond, VA 23233
Public Comment Deadline: January 29, 2016.

Basis: Section 54.1-2400 of the Code of Virginia provides the Board of Counseling the authority to promulgate regulations to administer the regulatory system. The specific authority for the promulgation of regulations for counseling-related professions is found in §54.1-3505 of the Code of Virginia.

Purpose: In 2011, the board began a comprehensive review of current regulations governing the practice of professional counseling, marriage and family therapy, and licensed substance abuse practitioners. It determined that it is essential to continue the regulation of these licensed professions as... mandated by the Code of Virginia, but that there are modifications necessary to clarify and update requirements. Subsequently, the board amended 18VAC115-20 in response to the Governor's Regulatory Reform Project, but did not complete its review of 18VAC115-50 and 18VAC115-60 until recently. The board's intent is to amend all three chapters in this action for consistency in requirements for licensed professionals.

Since the board's primary responsibility is to license persons with competency adequate to safely treat the public, certain amendments to definitions, coursework, and requirements for supervised experience are being proposed. The intent of the amendments is to ensure that applicants have essential courses and experiences to prepare them for independent practice as licensed practitioners. Without minimal competency in the provision of clinical services, a licensee could provide inadequate or harmful care to a person with mental health issues. The goal of the action is to ensure accountability and competency for residents, supervisors, and licensees who provide clinical services to individuals and families in need of counseling. Failure to provide competent mental health services can have a detrimental effect on the individual being served and his or her family and community.

Substance: In addition to editing and deleting outdated language in the regulations, the board proposes to adopt changes that will make general requirements for each profession consistent. In summary, the substance of the changes are as follows:

Definitions:
- Delete terms that are no longer defined in the Code of Virginia or used in the regulation and to update certain definitions, such as the term "internship."
- Add definitions for terms that require some clarification, such as "face-to-face," or have been added to the regulation, such as "ancillary services."

Fees: Delete outdated language on one-time fee reduction and payment to a contractor.

Licensure by examination:
- Update language relating to submission of transcripts to allow electronic transfer of documents directly from the educational program to the board.
- Clarify that the board requires verification of a "mental health or health" professional license held in another jurisdiction and that there must be no unresolved disciplinary action on that license or certificate.
- Clarify that passage of the licensing examination is required.
- Require a report from the National Practitioner Data Bank (NPDB).

Licensure by endorsement:
- Add a requirement for a current report from NPDB to check on discipline in other states and malpractice history.
- Add a requirement for an affidavit that the applicant has read and understood the laws and regulations governing the profession and the board.
- Modify the clinical experience required for applicants who do not meet Virginia's education and residency requirements to allow licensure for those who have clinical practice for 24 out of the last 60 months, rather than five out of the last six years. (Change already made in 18VAC115-20 in regulatory reform project).

Degree program requirements: The sections will be amended to acknowledge that an educational program credentialed by the applicable profession meets the board's requirement for the program specifications of this section. 18VAC115-20 will be amended to add back a previous recognition of Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs and Council on Rehabilitation Education approval.

Course work requirements:
- In marriage and family regulations, three course work topics will be added to the required courses for consistency with other counseling licenses.
- Add language deleted from the residency section specifying that the internship must include 20 hours of individual on-site supervision and 20 hours of individual or group off-site supervision and that internship hours cannot begin until completion of 30 semester hours toward the graduate degree.
- For marriage and family and substance abuse treatment practice, add language to specify the acceptance of certain coursework taken in the process of obtaining licensure in another mental health profession.

Residency:
- Reduce the total number of hours in a supervised residency to account for the minimum of 600 hours in an internship which is a prerequisite for beginning a residency and is currently counted towards the total of 4,000 hours.
- Clarify that the residency must be spent in provision of clinical counseling services and that case management and recordkeeping are considered ancillary services and are limited to 1,000 of the 2,000 hours of client contact in a residency.
- Add a requirement that the residency be completed in no less than 18 months or more than four years. An applicant who needs more time in the residency may submit evidence of why he or she should be allowed to continue practicing under supervision.
- Amend the requirement for 200 hours of face-to-face supervision in a residency to include the use of real-time, visual contact technology.
- Delete other professions over which the board has no regulatory or disciplinary authority, including psychologists, social workers, and physicians, as qualified.
to serve as supervisors for residents in counseling, marriage and family therapy, or substance abuse treatment.

General examination requirements:
• Amend to require an applicant to pass the examination within two years rather than take the examination within two years (consistent with social work). Change is necessary to avoid licensure of applicant many years after completion of education and supervised experience.
• Delete requirements for additional education or training for applicants who fail the examination twice, as the board has oversight for the deficiency of the applicant on the examination.
• Specify that applicants who are waiting to take or retake the examination must remain under supervision if they are going to continue practicing.

Renewal of licensure:
• Clarify that practice with a lapsed or expired license is prohibited.

Continuing competency activity criteria.
• Add local government agencies in the groups that can offer continuing education to include local community service boards and others and update the names of other organizations.

Late renewal; reinstatement: Specify that the hours of continuing competency activities or courses required for reactivation or reinstatement must be obtained within the four years immediately preceding application in Virginia.

Standards of practice:
• Strengthen prohibition on dual relationships to add "romantic relationship" to "sexual intimacies." Add "students" to the prohibition on relationship with a "supervisee."

Grounds for disciplinary action:
• Add "registration" as a category that may be disciplined to include persons registered with the board in a residency.
• Specify that commission of fraud or misrepresentation in the submission of supervisory forms is grounds for disciplinary action to address recent problems with supervision.
• Add a general provision that provides grounds for discipline for "performance of an act likely to deceive, defraud, or harm the public."

Issues:
There are no disadvantages to the public. A clearer standard on sexual relationships will provide greater protection for clients who are vulnerable to abuse in the practitioner/client relationship or the supervisor/supervisee or supervisor/student relationship. Some applicants for licensure by endorsement who do not qualify under the current practice requirement will be eligible under the proposed regulations, which could result in a very modest increase in the numbers of licensees available to provide mental health services in the Commonwealth.

There are no particular advantages or disadvantages to the agency or the Commonwealth.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:
Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. As a result of a 2011 periodic review, the Board of Counseling (Board) proposes to amend three sets of regulations under its purview. The Board proposes many clarifying changes and several substantive changes including:
• Re-including the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs and the Council on Rehabilitation Education as groups that can approve educational programs under the professional counselor licensure program,
• Not requiring a transcript to be included when applying for licensure if one was already submitted for approval of residency, • Modifying experience requirements in 18VAC115-50 and 18VAC115-60 for individuals seeking licensure by endorsement so that they only have to have clinical practice 24 of the 60 months immediately before licensure application (rather than the now required five of the last six years),
• Allowing the use of real time visual contact technology (Skype or other like services) to meet face-to-face supervision requirements during residency,
• Allowing 20 hours of supervision obtained during an internship to count toward the 200 hours of face-to-face supervision required during residency (so long as the internship supervision was under a licensed professional counselor or, in the case of interns working toward licensure as a marriage and family therapist, a licensed professional counselor or a licensed marriage and family therapist),
• Requiring that residencies be completed in not less than 18 months and not more than four years,
• Adding local governments to the groups whose continuing education programs are approved by the Board to count toward continuing education requirements,
• Disallowing certain professionals from providing supervision for residencies because the Board does not have disciplinary or regulatory authority over these groups and
• Requiring applicants for licensure to provide a current report from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services National Practitioner Data Bank, which contains disciplinary and malpractice history.

Result of Analysis. Benefits likely outweigh costs for most proposed regulatory changes. For several regulatory changes, there is insufficient information to ascertain whether benefits will outweigh costs.
Estimated Economic Impact. According to Board staff, the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) and the Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE) used to be listed in 18VAC115-20 as groups that could approve educational programs but that they were removed at some point. The Board now proposes to add these groups back into the regulation. This change will allow students more flexibility in choosing education that will allow them to eventually be licensed. This may allow them to choose cheaper educational opportunities if there is a cost differential between programs that are currently approved and ones that will be approved once CACREP and CORE are added as approving bodies. Students may also benefit if increasing educational opportunities allow them to choose programs that are more convenient to where they live.

Currently, the Board requires that a transcript of coursework completed be submitted with an application for licensure. Since transcripts must also be submitted for approval of residency, some individuals have ended up submitting the same transcript twice. To fix this situation, the Board proposes to only require that new transcripts be submitted during application for licensure if additional course work has been done since they were submitted for approval of residency. This change will benefit applicants because they would normally only have to obtain and submit transcripts once rather than twice. This will save them time and, when they are getting and mailing paper copies of transcripts also save them copy fees and mailing costs.

Current regulations for marriage and family therapists and drug abuse treatment practitioners require that applicants for licensure by endorsement show that they have actively practiced their craft for five of the six years immediately preceding application for licensure. The Board proposes to amend this requirement so that applicants will only have to show active practice for 24 of the 60 months immediately preceding. This change will likely benefit licensees in other states who may wish to move to Virginia as they will have to show a shorter period of active practice before they can apply for licensure to ensure their ability to practice in Virginia. This change will also harmonize these regulations with those for professional therapists.

Current regulations require residents to complete 200 hours of face-to-face (in person) supervision. The Board proposes to allow 20 hours of face-to-face supervision completed during an internship to count toward those 200 hours. The Board also proposes to allow supervisors to use Skype or other real time visual contact technology to meet with their supervisees. Both of these changes will likely benefit residents because they normally have to pay by the hour for supervision. These changes will allow them to pay for 20 fewer hours of supervision and will also allow them to meet with their supervisors using technology. This will likely require less travel on the part of the supervisor or the resident or both which may lower the per hour cost of supervision.

Currently there is no time limit on residencies for these licensure programs. The Board proposes to require that residencies be completed in not less than 18 months and not more than four years (individuals who are in the midst of completing their residencies when these proposed regulations become effective will have four years from the regulations' effective date to finish). Individuals who cannot finish their residencies in four years will be able to explain the delay to the Board and ask for a time extension. Board staff reports that residents must complete 3,400 hours during their residency (plus 600 hours that are normally credited from their supervised internship) so it would be very hard, if not impossible, to complete these hours in fewer than 18 months. Individuals would be working slightly over 44 hours per week to complete 3,400 hours in 18 months. Board staff reports that most programs already would not allow individuals to complete their residencies in fewer than 18 months and that the Board has never had an issue with any applicant for licensure having a residency that would breach this new rule. Some individuals in the future may incur some time costs for applying for a time variance if they need more than four years to complete their residency.

For licensees with continuing education requirements, the Board has listed in these regulations education criteria and groups that may offer continuing education that the Board will accept. The Board proposes to add local governments to the list of groups whose educational opportunities are acceptable to the Board. This will benefit licensees as they will have additional continuing education possibilities with local community service boards. This may allow licensees to complete continuing education at lower cost or at more convenient times or places.

Current regulations allow residencies for those seeking licensure as professional counselors to be supervised by a licensed professional counselor, a licensed marriage and family therapist, a licensed substance abuse treatment practitioner, a school psychologist, a clinical psychologist, a clinical social worker or a psychiatrist. Residencies for those seeking licensure as marriage and family therapists can be supervised by a licensed professional counselor, a licensed marriage and family therapist, a clinical psychologist, a clinical social worker or a psychiatrist. Residencies for those seeking licensure as a substance abuse treatment practitioner can be supervised by a licensed professional counselor, a licensed marriage and family therapist, a licensed substance abuse treatment practitioner, a school psychologist, a clinical psychologist, a clinical social worker, a clinical nurse specialist or a psychiatrist.

The Board proposes to eliminate all non-Board licensees from the lists of approved supervisors and to remove licensed substance abuse treatment practitioners from the list of licensees who may supervise professional counseling residents. Under the proposed regulations professional counseling residents and marriage and family therapy residents may only be supervised by licensed professional counselors.
counselors and licensed marriage and family therapists, and substance abuse treatment practitioner residents may be supervised by licensed professional counselors, licensed marriage and family therapists, and licensed substance abuse treatment practitioners. This change will eliminate issues that may arise with the Board being unable to discipline or set rules for individuals who they do not license. To the extent that this change limits the pool of available supervisors, costs for supervision may increase, and it may take longer for residents to obtain supervision and complete their residencies.

The Board also proposes to add the requirement that all individuals applying for licensure provide a current report from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services National Practitioner Data Bank. This will allow the Board to check if applicants have any disciplinary or malpractice history in another state. Applicants will have to pay a $5 fee to obtain this report.

Businesses and Entities Affected. Board staff reports that these proposed regulations will affect all applicants for licensure as professional counselors, marriage and family therapists and substance abuse treatment practitioners. Board staff further reports that the Board has, in the last year, received 1,387 applications for licensure as professional counselors, 118 applications for licensure as marriage and family therapists and 11 applications for licensure as substance abuse treatment practitioners.

Localities Particularly Affected. No locality will be particularly affected by this regulatory action.

Projected Impact on Employment. This regulatory action will likely have little impact on employment in the Commonwealth.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. This regulatory action will likely not affect the use or value of private property in the Commonwealth.

Small Businesses: Costs and Other Effects. No small businesses will be affected by this proposed regulatory package.

Small Businesses: Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. No small businesses will be affected by this proposed regulatory package.

Real Estate Development Costs. This regulatory action will likely have no effect on real estate development costs in the Commonwealth.

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Board of Counseling concurs with the Analysis of the Department of Planning and Budget.

Summary:

The proposed amendments (i) add the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs and the Council on Rehabilitation Education as groups that can approve educational programs under the professional counselor licensure program; (ii) eliminate the requirement that a transcript be included when applying for licensure if one was already submitted for approval of residency; (iii) modify experience requirements in 18VAC115-50 and 18VAC115-60 for individuals seeking licensure by endorsement so that they only have to have clinical practice 24 of the 60 months immediately before licensure application, instead of five of the last six years as currently required; (iv) allow the use of real-time visual contact technology (e.g., Skype or other like services) to meet face-to-face supervision requirements during residency; (v) allow 20 hours of supervision obtained during an internship to count toward the 200 hours of face-to-face supervision required during residency so long as the internship supervision was under a licensed professional counselor or, in the case of interns working toward licensure as a marriage and family therapist, a licensed professional counselor or a licensed marriage and family therapist; (vi) require that residencies be completed in not less than 18 months and not more than four years; (vii) add local governments to the groups whose continuing education programs are approved by the board to count toward continuing education requirements; (viii) disallow certain professionals from providing supervision for residencies because the board does not have disciplinary or regulatory authority over these groups; and (ix) require applicants for licensure to provide a current report from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services National Practitioner Data Bank, which contains disciplinary and malpractice history.

Part V

Standards of Practice; Unprofessional Conduct; Disciplinary Actions; Reinstatement

18VAC115-60-130. Standards of practice.

A. The protection of the public health, safety, and welfare and the best interest of the public shall be the primary guide in determining the appropriate professional conduct of all persons whose activities are regulated by the board. Regardless of the delivery method, whether in person, by phone or electronically, these standards shall apply to the practice of substance abuse treatment.

B. Persons licensed or registered by the board shall:

1. Practice in a manner that is in the best interest of the public and does not endanger the public health, safety, or welfare;

2. Practice only within the boundaries of their competence, based on their education, training, supervised experience and appropriate professional experience and represent their education, training and experience accurately to clients;

3. Stay abreast of new substance abuse treatment information, concepts, application and practices that are necessary to providing appropriate, effective professional services;

4. Be able to justify all services rendered to clients as necessary and appropriate for diagnostic or therapeutic purposes;

5. Document the need for and steps taken to terminate a counseling relationship when it becomes clear that the client is not benefiting from the relationship. Document the assistance provided in making appropriate arrangements for the continuation of treatment for clients, when necessary, following termination of a counseling relationship;

6. Make appropriate arrangements for continuation of services, when necessary, during interruptions such as vacations, unavailability, relocation, illness, and disability;

7. Disclose to clients all experimental methods of treatment and inform clients of the risks and benefits of any such treatment. Ensure that the welfare of the clients is in no way compromised in any experimentation or research involving those clients;
8. Neither accept nor give commissions, rebates, or other forms of remuneration for referral of clients for professional services;
9. Inform clients of the purposes, goals, techniques, procedures, limitations, potential risks, and benefits of services to be performed; the limitations of confidentiality; and other pertinent information when counseling is initiated and throughout the counseling process as necessary. Provide clients with accurate information regarding the implications of diagnosis, the intended use of tests and reports, fees, and billing arrangements;
10. Select tests for use with clients that are valid, reliable and appropriate and carefully interpret the performance of individuals not represented in standardized norms;
11. Determine whether a client is receiving services from another mental health service provider, and if so, refrain from providing services to the client without having an informed consent discussion with the client and having been granted communication privileges with the other professional;
12. Use only in connection with one's practice as a mental health professional those educational and professional degrees or titles that have been earned at a college or university accredited by an accrediting agency recognized by the United States U.S. Department of Education, or credentials granted by a national certifying agency, and that are counseling in nature; and
13. Advertise professional services fairly and accurately in a manner that is not false, misleading or deceptive.

C. In regard to patient records, persons licensed by the board shall:
1. Maintain written or electronic clinical records for each client to include treatment dates and identifying information to substantiate diagnosis and treatment plan, client progress, and termination;
2. Maintain client records securely, inform all employees of the requirements of confidentiality and provide for the destruction of records that are no longer useful in a manner that ensures client confidentiality;

D. In regard to dual relationships, persons licensed by the board shall:
1. Avoid dual relationships with clients that could impair professional judgment or increase the risk of harm to clients. Examples of such relationships include, but are not limited to, familial, social, financial, business, bartering, or close personal relationships with clients. Counselors shall take appropriate professional precautions when a dual relationship cannot be avoided, such as informed consent, consultation, supervision, and documentation to ensure that judgment is not impaired and no exploitation occurs;
2. Not engage in any type of romantic relationships or sexual intimacies with clients or those included in a collateral relationship with the client and not counsel persons with whom they have had a sexual romantic relationship or sexual intimacy. Licensed substance abuse treatment practitioners shall not engage in romantic relationships or sexual intimacies with former clients within a minimum of five years after terminating the counseling relationship. Licensed substance abuse treatment practitioners who engage in such relationship or intimacy after five years following termination shall have the responsibility to examine and document thoroughly that such relations do not have an exploitive nature, based on factors such as duration of counseling, amount of time since counseling, termination circumstances, client's personal history and mental status, or adverse impact on the client. A client's consent to, initiation of or participation in sexual behavior or involvement with a licensed substance abuse treatment practitioner does not change the nature of the conduct nor lift the regulatory prohibition;
3. Not engage in any sexual intimacy or romantic relationship or establish a counseling or psychotherapeutic relationship with a supervisee or student. Licensed substance abuse treatment practitioners shall avoid any nonsexual dual relationship with a supervisee or student in which there is a risk of exploitation or potential harm to the supervisee or the potential for interference with the supervisor's professional judgment; and
4. Recognize conflicts of interest and inform all parties of the nature and directions of loyalties and responsibilities involved.

V.A.R. Doc. No. R14-4067; Filed November 9, 2015, 1:03 p.m.

Fast-Track Regulation

Public Hearing Information: No public hearings are scheduled.

Public Comment Deadline: December 30, 2015.

Effective Date: January 15, 2016.

Agency Contact: Jaime Hoyle, Executive Director, Board of Counseling, 9960 Mayland Drive, Suite 300, Richmond, VA 23233, telephone (804) 367-4406, FAX (804) 527-4435, or email jaime.hoyle@dhp.virginia.gov.

Basis: Section 54.1-2400 of the Code of Virginia provides the Board of Counseling the authority to promulgate regulations to administer the regulatory system. The specific authority for the promulgation of regulations for counseling-related professions is found in § 54.1-3505 of the Code of Virginia.

Purpose: The purpose of the regulatory action is to fulfill the requirement for a periodic review of regulations to ensure that they are clearly written and necessary to protect the public. The addition of a requirement for submission of a National Practitioner Data Bank (NPDB) report as part of the application process is intended to ensure that the board has sufficient information about any disciplinary history and criminal activity in order to make a decision on certification that will protect the health, safety, and welfare of persons receiving substance abuse or rehabilitation services by certificate holders in Virginia.

Rationale for Using Fast-Track Process: The action is clarifying in nature and has unanimous approval of the Board of Counseling. The board does not expect it to be controversial.

Substance: Other than the submission of an NPDB report by applicants for certification, there are no substantive changes in this action.

Issues: There are no disadvantages to the public. Inclusion of a requirement for applicants to submit a report from the NPDB may provide additional protection for persons who are receiving substance abuse or rehabilitation services in the Commonwealth. There are no particular advantages or disadvantages to the agency or the Commonwealth.
Small Business Impact Review Report of Findings: This regulatory action serves as the report of the findings of the regulatory review pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. The Board of Counseling (Board) proposes to require applicants for substance abuse counselor or rehabilitation provider certification submit a current report from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services National Practitioner Data Bank (NPDB). The Board also proposes to remove obsolete provisions and amend language for improved clarity.

Result of Analysis. The benefits likely exceed the costs for all proposed changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. The NPDB is an electronic information repository created by Congress. It contains information on medical malpractice payments and certain adverse actions related to health care practitioners, entities, providers, and suppliers.\(^1\) Section 150 of the Regulations Governing the Certification of Substance Abuse Counselors and Substance Abuse Counseling Assistants and Section 50 of the Regulations Governing the Certification of Rehabilitation Providers list the grounds on which to deny certification, including various actions that would endanger persons receiving services from substance abuse counselors or rehabilitation providers. The NDDB includes findings of past activities that may have endangered the health, safety, or welfare of patients. Thus the proposal to require that applicants submit a current report of the NPDB has potential significant benefit. According to the Virginia Department of Health and Human Services National Practitioner Data Bank, the cost for applicants to have the report sent from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to DHP is only $3. Thus the benefit of the proposal likely exceeds the cost.

Businesses and Entities Affected. The proposed amendments affect applicants for substance abuse counselor or rehabilitation provider certification. Approximately 100 to 125 individuals apply for substance abuse counselor or rehabilitation provider certification and less than 5 people apply for rehabilitation provider certification annually.\(^2\)

Localities Particularly Affected. The proposed amendments do not disproportionately affect particular localities.

Projected Impact on Employment. The proposed amendments are unlikely to significantly affect employment.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. The proposed amendments are unlikely to significantly affect the use and value of private property.

Real Estate Development Costs. The proposed amendments do not affect real estate development costs.

Small Businesses: Definition. Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.04 of the Code of Virginia, small business is defined as "a business entity, including its affiliates, that (i) is independently owned and operated and (ii) employs fewer than 500 full-time employees or has gross annual sales of less than $6 million."

Costs and Other Effects. The proposed amendments will not significantly affect small businesses.

Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. The proposed amendments will not significantly affect small businesses.

Adverse Impacts:

Businesses: The proposed amendments will not significantly affect businesses.

Localities: The proposed amendments will not adversely affect localities.

Other Entities: The proposed amendments will not significantly affect other entities.

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Board of Counseling concurs with the analysis of the Department of Planning and Budget.

The amendments require applicants for substance abuse counselor or rehabilitation provider certification to submit a current report from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services National Practitioner Data Bank, remove obsolete provisions, and amend language for improved clarity.

BOARD OF VETERINARY MEDICINE

Proposed Regulation

Title of Regulation: 18VAC150-20. Regulations Governing the Practice of Veterinary Medicine (amending 18VAC150-20-70).

Public Hearing Information:

- December 2, 2015 - 9 a.m. - Department of Health Professions, Perimeter Center, 9960 Mayland Drive, 2nd Floor Conference Center, Hearing Room 1, Henrico, VA

Public Comment Deadline: January 29, 2016.

Agency Contact: Leslie L. Knachel, Executive Director, Board of Veterinary Medicine, 9960 Mayland Drive, Suite 300, Richmond, VA 23233, telephone (804) 367-4468, FAX (804) 527-4471, or email leslie.knachel@dhp.virginia.gov.

Basis: Section 54.1-2400 of the Code of Virginia establishes the general powers and duties of the Board of Veterinary Medicine, including the responsibility to promulgate regulations in accordance with the Administrative Process Act (§ 2.2-4000 et seq. of the Code of Virginia) that are reasonable and necessary to administer effectively the regulatory system.

The specific authority of the board relating to continuing education is in § 54.1-3805.2 of the Code of Virginia, which states that the board shall adopt regulations that provide for continuing education requirements for relicensure and licensure by endorsement of veterinarians and veterinary technicians.

Purpose: Veterinary technicians believe it is essential to elevate their expertise and skill level to keep up with the complexities of veterinary care and more adequately protect the health and safety of companion and herd animals in Virginia.
Substance: The amendment will increase the number of continuing education hours required for renewal of a license as a veterinary technician from six to eight hours per year. The change is in response to a petition for rulemaking.

Issues: The primary advantage to the public is greater assurance for continued competency for veterinary technicians who provide much of the essential care to animals in veterinary care. There are no disadvantages to the public. There are no advantages and disadvantages to the agency or the Commonwealth.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. As a result of a petition for rulemaking from a veterinary technician, the Board of Veterinary Medicine (Board) proposes to increase the number of continuing education hours that veterinary technicians must complete annually.

Result of Analysis. There is insufficient information to ascertain if benefits will outweigh costs for this regulatory action.

Estimated Economic Impact. Current regulation requires veterinary technicians to complete six hours of continuing education per year. Pursuant to a petition for rulemaking from a veterinary technician, the Board now proposes to increase the continuing education hours required of veterinary technicians to eight per year. Board staff reports that this action is being taken as a response to the petition for rulemaking and not because of any concerns raised by complaints about the general competency of veterinary technicians in the state. Board staff further reports that the Board believes that "additional hours can be obtained at no cost by taking advantage of online hours, those offered by vendors, specialty practices or local veterinary associations."

To the extent that additional hours of continuing education may increase the competency of veterinary technicians, veterinary patients and their owners may benefit from this change. Any benefit that may accrue must be weighed against costs that veterinary technicians will likely incur. If additional hours of training can be completed at no costs as the Board believes, veterinary technicians will only incur costs for their time spent in training, possible travel costs if training cannot be completed online and possible loss of salary for those two additional hours if paid time off to complete training is not part of their compensation package. If free training options are not readily available, convenient or varied enough, veterinary technicians may also incur class or seminar fees for the additional hours of training the Board is proposing.

Businesses and Entities Affected. Board staff reports there are currently 1,925 veterinary technicians licensed in the Commonwealth; all of these individuals, as well as any individuals who become licensed veterinary technicians in the future, will be affected by this proposed regulatory change.

Localities Particularly Affected. No locality in the Commonwealth will be particularly affected by this regulatory change.

Projected Impact on Employment. This proposed change is unlikely to impact employment in the Commonwealth.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. This proposed change will likely have no impact on the use or value of private property.

Small Businesses:

Definition. Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.04 of the Code of Virginia, small business is defined as "a business entity, including its affiliates, that (i) is independently owned and operated and (ii) employs fewer than 500 full-time employees or has gross annual sales of less than $6 million."

Costs and Other Effects. Small business veterinarians may incur costs only if they pay for their veterinary technicians' continuing education training.

Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. Small business veterinarians who pay for their veterinary technicians' annual training would benefit if additional training were only required if it were necessary to insure competency by addressing identified deficiencies.

Adverse Impacts:

Businesses: Veterinarians may incur costs only if they pay for their veterinary technicians' continuing education training.

Localities: This proposed change is unlikely to adversely impact localities.

Other Entities: This proposed change may adversely impact veterinary technicians who will likely incur costs for completing additional continuing education hours even if training options that do not include fees are available.

Agency's Response to the Economic Impact Analysis: The Board of Veterinary Medicine concurs with the analysis of the Department of Planning and Budget.

Summary:

The proposed amendment increases the number of continuing education hours required for renewal of a veterinary technician license to eight hours per year.

18VAC150-20-70. Licensure renewal requirements.

A. Every person licensed by the board shall, by January 1 of every year, submit to the board a completed renewal application and pay to the board a renewal fee as prescribed in 18VAC150-20-100. Failure to renew shall cause the license to lapse and become invalid, and practice with a lapsed license may subject the licensee to disciplinary action by the board. Failure to receive a renewal notice does not relieve the licensee of his responsibility to renew and maintain a current license.
B. Veterinarians shall be required to have completed a minimum of 15 hours, and veterinary technicians shall be required to have completed a minimum of six eight hours, of approved continuing education for each annual renewal of licensure. Continuing education credits or hours may not be transferred or credited to another year.

1. Approved continuing education credit shall be given for courses or programs related to the treatment and care of patients and shall be clinical courses in veterinary medicine or veterinary technology or courses that enhance patient safety, such as medical recordkeeping or compliance with requirements of the Occupational Health and Safety Administration (OSHA).

2. An approved continuing education course or program shall be sponsored by one of the following:
   a. The AVMA or its constituent and component/branch associations, specialty organizations, and board certified specialists in good standing within their specialty board;
   b. Colleges of veterinary medicine approved by the AVMA Council on Education;
   c. International, national, or regional conferences of veterinary medicine;
   d. Academies or species specific interest groups of veterinary medicine;
   e. State associations of veterinary technicians;
   f. North American Veterinary Technicians Association;
   g. Community colleges with an approved program in veterinary technology;
   h. State or federal government agencies;
   i. American Animal Hospital Association (AAHA) or its constituent and component/branch associations;
   j. Journals or veterinary information networks recognized by the board as providing education in veterinary medicine or veterinary technology; or
   k. An organization or entity approved by the Registry of Approved Continuing Education of the American Association of Veterinary State Boards.

3. A licensee is exempt from completing continuing education requirements and considered in compliance on the first renewal date following his initial licensure by examination.

4. The board may grant an exemption for all or part of the continuing education requirements due to circumstances beyond the control of the licensee, such as temporary disability, mandatory military service, or officially declared disasters.

5. The board may grant an extension for good cause of up to one year for the completion of continuing education requirements upon written request from the licensee prior to the renewal date. Such an extension shall not relieve the licensee of the continuing education requirement.

6. Licensees are required to attest to compliance with continuing education requirements on their annual license renewal and are required to maintain original documents verifying the date and subject of the program or course, the number of continuing education hours or credits, and certification from an approved sponsor. Original documents must be maintained for a period of two years following renewal. The board shall periodically conduct a random audit to determine compliance. Practitioners selected for the audit shall provide all supporting documentation within 10 days of receiving notification of the audit.

7. Continuing education hours required by disciplinary order shall not be used to satisfy renewal requirements.

C. A licensee who has requested that his license be placed on inactive status is not authorized to perform acts that are considered the practice of veterinary medicine or veterinary technology and, therefore, shall not be required to have continuing education for annual renewal. To reactivate a license, the licensee is required to submit evidence of completion of continuing education hours as required by § 54.1-3805.2 of the Code of Virginia equal to the number of years in which the license has not been active for a maximum of two years.

Proposed Regulation

Title of Regulation: 18VAC150-20. Regulations Governing the Practice of Veterinary Medicine (amending 18VAC150-20-130; adding 18VAC150-20-173).

Public Hearing Information:

December 2, 2015 - 9 a.m. - Department of Health Professions, Perimeter Center, 9960 Mayland Drive, 2nd Floor Conference Center, Hearing Room 1, Henrico, VA

Public Comment Deadline: January 29, 2016.

Agency Contact: Leslie L. Knachel, Executive Director, Board of Veterinary Medicine, 9960 Mayland Drive, Suite 300, Richmond, VA 23233, telephone (804) 367-4468, FAX (804) 527-4471, or email leslie.knachel@dhp.virginia.gov.

Basis: Section 54.1-2400 of the Code of Virginia authorizes the Board of Veterinary Medicine to promulgate regulations in accordance with the Administrative Process Act (§ 2.2-4000 et seq. of the Code of Virginia) that are reasonable and necessary to administer effectively the regulatory system.

The specific authority of the board relating to practical training for students of veterinary medicine is found in § 54.1-3804 of the Code of Virginia, which authorizes the board to establish essential requirements and standards for approval of veterinary programs and to establish and monitor programs for the practical training of qualified students of veterinary medicine or veterinary technology in college or University programs of veterinary medicine or veterinary technology.

Purpose: The purpose of the regulatory action is to eliminate a burdensome restriction on the preceptorships for veterinary students in which they gain practical experience under the direct supervision of a licensed veterinarian. Currently, students are not allowed to be engaged in a preceptorship until their final year in veterinary college. Therefore, they do not have the opportunity to practice what they are learning in the first three years and believe that they are less skillful and competent as practitioners when they graduate. Since preceptees are restricted to perform only those tasks for which they have been adequately instructed and must practice under the on-premises supervision of a licensed veterinarian, the board believes supervised practical experience through the course of veterinary college will be beneficial to patients and will adequately protect the health and safety of the public. Informed consent for surgery and disclosure about preceptee practice offers further protection and assurances for owners.

Substance: The amendment to 18VAC150-20-130 requested by the petition for rulemaking was as follows: A veterinary student who is duly enrolled and in good standing in a veterinary college or school accredited or approved by the American Veterinary Medical Association and in the final year of his training or after completion of an equivalent number of hours as approved by the board may be engaged in a preceptorship or externship.

In addition to the requested change, the board added provisions to reassure consumers that the veterinarian remains responsible for the animal, that the supervising veterinarian will be in the operatory with the preceptee whenever surgery is being performed, and that owners will be informed about a preceptee practicing in an establishment in order to have the right to specify who may treat the animal.

Also, the board has added a new section on informed consent for surgery, so owners will have information about risks, benefits, and alternatives, regardless of who is performing the surgery.

Issues: The primary advantage to the public is veterinary students will have more hands-on experience with animals when they receive their veterinary degree and a full license to practice. With the additional disclosures and informed consent, the board believes consumers will know whether there is a preceptor working in a veterinary practice and whether that preceptor will be involved with surgery on their animals. Consumers will have the option of refusing to have a preceptor doing any procedure on an animal; consequently, there should be no disadvantages to the public. There are no advantages and disadvantages to the agency or the Commonwealth.

Department of Planning and Budget’s Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. Currently, veterinary students are not permitted to be engaged in a preceptorship or externship until their final year in veterinary college. A preceptorship is where veterinary students gain practical experience working under the direct supervision of a licensed veterinarian. The Board of Veterinary Medicine (Board) proposes to amend this regulation so that veterinary students may gain practical experience through a preceptorship or externship prior to the final year. Also, the Board proposes to require that: 1) the supervising veterinarian disclose to animal owners that there is a preceptee or extern practicing in the establishment, 2) before surgery is performed, informed consent shall be obtained from the owner and documented in the patient record, and 3) whenever a veterinary preceptee or extern is performing surgery on a patient, the supervising veterinarian must be in the operatory during the procedure.

Result of Analysis. The benefits likely exceed the costs for all proposed changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. The proposal to permit veterinary students to obtain practical training prior to their final year in veterinary college will enable them to learn more and be better prepared to practice independently after graduation. Since preceptees are restricted to perform only those tasks for which they have been adequately instructed and must practice under the on-premises supervision of a licensed veterinarian, the practical experience through the course of veterinary college will be beneficial to patients and will adequately protect the health and safety of the public. The Virginia/Maryland Regional College of Veterinary Medicine strongly supports this change.

The proposal to require disclosure to animal owners of there being a veterinary student training at the establishment will enable any owners who potentially may object to veterinarians in-training performing services for their animal to make an informed decision as to whether to use the services of that establishment or go elsewhere. The owner could also request that only the licensed veterinarian treat their animal. Disclosure must be by signage clearly visible to the public or by inclusion on an informed consent form. Since the signage could be paper from an ordinary printer, the required cost would be minimal. The proposed required informed consent for surgery includes informing the owner of the risks, benefits, and alternatives of the recommended surgery that a reasonably prudent practitioner in similar practice in Virginia would tell an owner, and if applicable, that a veterinary student is to perform the surgery. The language is patterned after Board of Medicine regulations. The informed consent may be written or verbal.

The proposed informed consent for surgery will take a small amount of time; but the time cost is likely outweighed by the benefit received from the owner by being better-informed and more able to make well-informed care decisions.

The proposed language includes an exception whereby consent is not required prior to surgery in an emergency situation when a delay in obtaining consent would likely
The proposed amendment to 18VAC150-20, Regulations Governing the Practice of Veterinary Medicine.

Summary:

The proposed amendments (i) remove the requirement that a veterinary college student be in the final year of training to engage in a preceptorship or externship; (ii) require that whenever a veterinary preceptee or extern is performing surgery, the supervising veterinarian shall be in the operatory; and (iii) require disclosure whenever a veterinary preceptee or extern is practicing in the veterinary establishment.

18VAC150-20-130. Requirements for practical training in a preceptorship or externship.

A. The practical training and employment of qualified students of veterinary medicine or veterinary technology shall be governed and controlled as follows:

1. A veterinary student who is duly enrolled and in good standing in a veterinary college or school accredited or approved by the AVMA and in the final year of his training or after completion of an equivalent number of hours as approved by the board may be engaged in a preceptorship or externship. A veterinary preceptee or extern may perform duties that constitute the practice of veterinary medicine for which he has received adequate instruction by the college or school and only under the on-premises supervision of a licensed veterinarian.

2. A veterinary technician student who is duly enrolled and in good standing in a veterinary technology program accredited or approved by the AVMA may be engaged in a preceptorship or externship. A veterinary technician preceptee or extern may perform duties that constitute the practice of veterinary technology for which he has received adequate instruction by the program and only under the on-premises supervision of a licensed veterinarian or licensed veterinary technician.

B. Whenever a veterinary preceptee or extern is performing surgery on a patient, either assisted or unassisted, the supervising veterinarian shall be in the operatory during the procedure. Prior to allowing a preceptee or extern in veterinary medicine to perform surgery on a patient unassisted by a licensed veterinarian, a licensed veterinarian shall receive written approval from the client owner.

C. When there is a preceptee or extern practicing in the establishment, the supervising veterinarian shall disclose such practice to owners. The disclosure shall be by signage clearly visible to the public or by inclusion on an informed consent form.

D. A veterinarian or veterinary technician who supervises a preceptee or extern remains responsible for the care and treatment of the patient.

Proposed Regulation

Title of Regulation: 18VAC150-20. Regulations Governing the Practice of Veterinary Medicine (amending 18VAC150-20-10, 18VAC150-20-140).

Public Hearing Information:

December 2, 2015 - 9 a.m. - Department of Health Professions, Perimeter Center, 9960 Mayland Drive, 2nd Floor Conference Center, Hearing Room 1, Henrico, VA

Public Comment Deadline: January 29, 2016.

Agency Contact: Leslie L. Knachel, Executive Director, Board of Veterinary Medicine, 9960 Mayland Drive, Suite 300, Richmond, VA 23233, telephone (804) 367-4468, FAX (804) 527-4471, or email leslie.knachel@dhp.virginia.gov.

Basis: Subdivision 6 of § 54.1-2400 of the Code of Virginia establishes the general powers and duties of health regulatory boards, including the Board of Veterinary Medicine, and includes the responsibility to promulgate regulations. Subdivision 5 of § 54.1-3807 of the Code of Virginia grants the board authority to take disciplinary action based on a finding of unprofessional conduct as defined by regulation.

Purpose: This proposed regulatory action is in response to a petition for rulemaking. The purpose of the amendments is to prevent misrepresentation to the public in the use of the term "specialist" or "specialty" for an individual licensee or in the name of an establishment. The proposed action will protect consumers who may choose veterinary care based on a claim by the veterinarian or the establishment of being a "specialist" or having a "specialty" when in fact there is no justification for such a claim. By defining the term "specialist," the board can assure that those who advertise or represent themselves as such have met the requirements of the American Board of Veterinary Specialties of the American Veterinary Medical Association for board certification. Misrepresentation or fraudulent advertising is already a cause for a finding of unprofessional conduct; this proposed regulation expands on the intent of the current regulation, which is to protect the health, welfare, and safety of animals that come under the care of a veterinarian or veterinary establishment.

Substance: The amendments (i) define a specialist as a veterinarian who has completed the requirements to become a diplomat of a specialty organization recognized by the American Board of Veterinary Specialties of the American Veterinary Medical Association, or any other organization approved by the board, and (ii) provide that representing oneself as a "specialist" without meeting that definition or representing a practice as a "specialty" practice without having a "specialist" on staff is unprofessional conduct.

Issues: The primary advantage to the public is assurance that specialty care by a veterinarian is being provided by someone who has obtained such designation by a recognized specialty board or organization. This is public protection for the consumer. There are no disadvantages to the public. There are no advantages or disadvantages to the agency or the Commonwealth.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. The Board of Veterinary Medicine (Board) proposes to: 1) define "specialist" as "a veterinarian who has completed the requirements to become a diplomate of a specialty organization recognized by the American Board of Veterinary Specialties of the American Veterinary Medical Association, or any other organization approved by the board," and 2) add to the list of acts constituting unprofessional conduct: "representing oneself as a 'specialist' without meeting the above definition, or using the words 'specialist' or 'specialty' in the name of a veterinary establishment without a veterinarian on staff who meets the above definition."

Result of Analysis. The benefits likely exceed the costs for all proposed changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. The Board's proposal to restrict the use of the term "specialist" is similar to the existing rules for human medicine and dentistry. The proposal does not alter the work that may be performed by veterinarians. It helps inform the public as to which veterinarians have obtained expertise in the specialty in question as judged by the American Board of Veterinary Specialties of the American Veterinary Medical Association. Thus the proposal would produce a net benefit in that animal owners would be able to objectively make better-informed decisions concerning choosing specific veterinarians and veterinary practices for specific veterinary services, while not changing what services veterinarians may offer.

Businesses and Entities Affected. The proposed amendments apply to and potentially affect the 4214 licensed veterinarians and 1089 licensed veterinary establishments in the Commonwealth. Most and perhaps all of the veterinary establishments would qualify as small businesses.

Localities Particularly Affected. The proposed amendments do not disproportionately affect particular localities.

Projected Impact on Employment. The proposed amendments do not significantly affect employment.
Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. The proposed amendments may affect which veterinary practices some owners choose for their animals. In that respect, the quantity of business and consequently practice value may rise for some veterinary establishments with specialty diplomates and may decline for some veterinary establishments without specialty diplomates.

Real Estate Development Costs. The proposed amendments do not affect real estate development costs.

Small Businesses:
Definition. Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.04 of the Code of Virginia, small business is defined as "a business entity, including its affiliates, that (i) is independently owned and operated and (ii) employs fewer than 500 full-time employees or has gross annual sales of less than $6 million."

Costs and Other Effects. The proposed amendments do not increase costs for small businesses.

Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. In aggregate, the proposed amendments do not adversely affect small businesses.

Adverse Impacts:
Businesses: In aggregate, the proposed amendments do not adversely affect businesses.
Localities: The proposed amendments will not adversely affect localities.
Other Entities: The proposed amendments will not adversely affect other entities.

Costs and Other Effects. The proposed amendments do not increase costs for small businesses.

Summary:
The proposed amendments (i) define a specialist as a veterinarian who has completed the requirements to become a diplomate of a specialty organization recognized by the American Board of Veterinary Specialties of the American Veterinary Medical Association, or any other organization approved by the board, and (ii) provide that representing oneself as a specialist without meeting that definition or representing a practice as a specialty practice without having a specialist on staff is unprofessional conduct.

TITLE 22. SOCIAL SERVICES DEPARTMENT FOR AGING AND REHABILITATIVE SERVICES

Proposed Regulation

Statutory Authority: §§ 51.5-131 and 51.5-181 of the Code of Virginia.

Public Hearing Information: No public hearings are scheduled.

Public Comment Deadline: January 29, 2016.

Agency Contact: Vanessa S. Rakestraw, Ph.D., CRC, Policy Analyst, Department for Aging and Rehабilitative Services, 8004 Franklin Farms Drive, Richmond, VA 23229, telephone (804) 662-7612, FAX (804) 662-7663, TTY (800) 464-9950, or email vanessa.rakestraw@dars.virginia.gov.

Basis: Section 51.5-181 of the Code of Virginia states (i) “The Commissioner shall promulgate regulations establishing procedures and policies for soliciting and receiving grant applications and criteria for reviewing and ranking such applications, including, but not limited to, goals, timelines, forms, eligibility, and mechanisms to ensure avoidance of any conflicts of interest or appearances thereof” and (ii) “The Commissioner shall receive the recommendations of the Commonwealth Neurotrauma Initiative Advisory Board prior to promulgating or revising any such regulations.”

Purpose: The purpose of the proposed amendment to the Commonwealth Neurotrauma Initiative (CNI) trust fund regulation is to conserve moneys in the fund and distribute the moneys equitably for their intended purpose. The proposed amendment emphasizes that requests for applications for moneys from the fund shall be issued by the advisory board only when the board determines that funds are available. The proposed amendment allows grantees to use the fund for evaluating existing programs as well as expanding, developing, and improving programs. This proposed amendment emphasizes original Code of Virginia language that grant funds are to be used for initiating research projects or community-based rehabilitative programs. They are not to be used for long-term funding of projects. To ensure that applicants understand and plan for this, applications must contain a plan for sustaining the project upon termination of grant funds. In an effort to conserve funds, applicants are required to demonstrate that the proposed project does not duplicate existing programs. In the event of a decline in moneys in the fund, the board shall attempt to distribute moneys in a manner as fair and equitable as possible. These regulations are necessary to administer the CNI Trust Fund, which protects the public health, safety, and welfare by providing funding for research and improving the treatment and care of neurotrauma.

Substance: The changes provide clarification to the existing regulation in the following ways: (i) a statement is added that requests for applications for grant moneys from the CNI Trust Fund shall be issued at the discretion of the advisory board and shall depend upon the availability of funds to clarify the conditions under which requests for applications will be made and inform the public that requests are not made on a regularly scheduled basis; (ii) a statement that applicants can now apply for grants to evaluate systems of services for people with traumatic brain injuries or traumatic spinal cord injuries is added, which allows applicants to apply for funding to conduct targeted evaluations of service systems or to determine the need for the development, expansion, or improvement of services; (iii) text is reworded to stress to applicants that grants are to be used to initiate research and programs but not to be used to maintain long-term funding; this is also emphasized by the addition of a statement that the advisory board shall accept applications that provide a plan for sustaining the proposed project following termination of a grant award, and that applicants for grant funds must (a) include a description of efforts taken to ensure that the proposed project does not duplicate existing programs or services for persons with neurotrauma already available in the community and (b) demonstrate a commitment to community planning with consumer groups, service providers, employers, relevant state and local agencies, and other funding sources which may be available; and (iv) in the event of a decline in moneys in the CNI Trust Fund, the advisory board shall attempt to distribute moneys in a manner that is fair and equitable as possible to all projects, which in the past, only applied to projects with an anticipated duration greater than one year.

Issues: The proposed regulatory action poses no disadvantages to the public or the Commonwealth. The action's primary advantage is that it clarifies the existing regulation.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:
Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. The proposed changes will 1) require the Commonwealth Neurotrauma Initiative Trust Fund Advisory Board to distribute moneys in a manner that is as fair and equitable as possible to all projects in the event of a decline in moneys in the fund and 2) clarify existing language, policy, and procedures followed in practice.

Result of Analysis. The benefits likely exceed the costs for all proposed changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. These regulations establish policies and procedures for administering the Commonwealth Neurotrauma Initiative Trust Fund (the fund). The purpose of the fund is to promote medical research into traumatic brain and spinal cord injuries and to improve treatment and care through the provision of community-based services for individuals who have sustained such injuries. Although the fund accepts grants, donations, and bequests from public or private sources, the main source of revenue is the $25 reinstatement fee collected by the Department of Motor Vehicles to restore the driving privileges of a person whose license has been revoked or suspended for specific driving offenses (e.g., DUI-related offenses, hit-and-run, reckless driving, habitual offender, etc.). In the last three years, the revenues were about $1 million per year.1

Once the fund accumulates enough revenues, the fund’s Advisory Board disburses money through a grant application process for research studies and community-based rehabilitation services. The fund issued 7 grants totaling $1.6 million in 2012, 5 grants totaling $931,000 in 2013, and 2 grants totaling $214,657 in 2014.2 All of the grant recipients were affiliated with medical colleges in Virginia.

One of the proposed changes will require the Advisory Board to distribute money in a manner that is as fair and equitable as possible to all projects in the event of a decline in money in the fund. Currently, the regulation requires that long-term projects be funded first in the event of a decline in the moneys. The proposed change will allow distribution of moneys when there is a decline in the fund, among all projects regardless of their duration. Thus, short-term projects will not lose all funding when the funds in the fund decline. This proposed change is not likely to have an economic impact in the foreseeable future since the fund currently has a healthy balance.

The remaining proposed changes are clarifications of existing language, policy, and procedures followed in practice and are not anticipated to have any significant economic impact other than improving the clarity of the regulations.

Businesses and Entities Affected. The proposed amendments will affect grant recipients when and if the moneys in the fund decline. The fund issued 7 grants in 2012, 5 grants in 2013, and 2 grants in 2014. Currently, there are only two active grants.

Localities Particularly Affected. The regulations apply throughout the Commonwealth.

Projected Impact on Employment. The proposed amendments are unlikely to significantly affect employment.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. The proposed amendments will not affect the use and value of private property.

Small Businesses: Costs and Other Effects. The proposed amendments will not affect small businesses.

Small Businesses: Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. The proposed amendments will not have an adverse impact on small businesses.

Real Estate Development Costs. The proposed amendments will not affect real estate development costs.

Agency’s Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Department for Aging and Rehabilitative Services agrees that the information provided by the Department of Planning and Budget (DPB) in the February 3, 2015, economic impact analysis of the proposed amendments to 22VAC30-50, Policies and Procedures for Administering the Commonwealth Neurotrauma Initiative Trust Fund, was correct at the time of completion. There is a statement in the DPB analysis that all grant recipients were affiliated with medical colleges in Virginia. This is now inaccurate as some grants have gone to programs that are not affiliated with medical colleges in Virginia. However, this should not have a substantial impact on the economic impact analysis.

Summary:

The proposed amendments (i) clarify that requests for proposals shall be issued at the discretion of the Commonwealth Neurotrauma Initiative Advisory Board and shall depend upon the availability of funds; (ii) emphasize that grants provided by the fund are not to be used for long-term funding of research or community-based rehabilitative programs; (iii) require that applicants for grants under this fund provide a plan for sustaining the proposed project following the termination of the grant award; and (iv) make technical corrections, update statutory references, and make other necessary changes.

Part I

Definitions and General Information

B. Forty-seven and one-half percent of the moneys in the fund distributed under this chapter shall be allocated for research on the mechanisms and treatment of neurotrauma; 47-1/2% of the moneys shall be allocated for rehabilitative services—i.e., (i.e., the development of innovative, model community-based rehabilitative programs and services for individuals with neurotrauma); and 5.0% of the moneys shall be allocated for the Department for Aging and Rehabilitative Services' department's costs for administering and staffing the Commonwealth Neurotrauma Initiative Trust Fund and advisory board.

Option A applications shall state and demonstrate a clear intention of researching the mechanisms of neurotrauma or the treatment of neurotrauma, or both. Option B applications shall state and demonstrate a clear intention to provide innovative, model community-based rehabilitative services by developing, expanding, evaluating, or improving community-based programs and services for people with traumatic brain injury or traumatic spinal cord injury, or both, and expanding opportunities for such these individuals to become as independent and physically and functionally capable as possible. Neither Option A nor Option B grants are intended shall be used for long-term funding of research projects or services community-based rehabilitative programs and services.

Basis: This regulatory action of the Department for Aging and Rehabilitative Services (DARS) will conform regulations to changes to the Code of Virginia due to Chapter 322 of the 2012 Acts of Assembly. The Commissioner of DARS has authority to promulgate regulations pursuant to § 51.5-131 of the Code of Virginia.

Purpose: The 2011 General Assembly passed Senate Joint Resolution 397, which requested the Secretary of Health and Human Resources and human services agencies to adopt and implement person-centered practices in providing services to citizens. This resolution noted that every individual is unique and no two individuals have the exact same preferences and needs. Person-centered planning supports individuals in making choices and decisions about the supports that best meet their preferences and needs. DARS adopts these statutorily mandated person-centered regulations for its Public Guardian and Conservator Program to implement person-centered planning procedures for the public guardian program serving the Commonwealth's most vulnerable citizens, protecting their safety and welfare.

Substance: The regulation requires, to the maximum extent feasible, the person-centered planning process to (i) include people chosen by the individual; (ii) provide necessary information and support to enable the individual to direct the process and to make informed choices and decisions; (iii) be timely and occur at times and locations convenient for the individual; (iv) reflect the individual's cultural values; (v) offer choices to the individual regarding the services the individual receives and from whom the individual receives them; (vi) include documentation of the processes employed in and the outcome of person-centered planning.

Issues: The regulation demonstrates that DARS and the Commonwealth are committed to building a strong community infrastructure of person-centered long-term community supports and services. The local and regional public guardian programs, public and private service providers, and community stakeholders, including the Public Guardian and Conservator Advisory Board, likewise share the commitment to person-centered planning. The amended regulations pose no known disadvantage to the public or the Commonwealth.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Regulation. As mandated by Chapter 322 of the 2012 Acts of the Assembly, the Department for Aging and Rehabilitative Services (DARS) proposes to amend regulations that govern the Virginia Guardianship and Conservator Program to allow individuals served under this program more input into how and by whom services are provided.

Result of Analysis. Benefits likely exceed costs for all proposed regulatory changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. In 2011, the General Assembly passed a joint resolution that requested human services agencies to adopt and implement "person-centered practices" that supported individuals receiving services in expressing preferences and making choices about who provided their services and how those services are provided. In 2012, the General Assembly passed a law mandating such person-centered practices. DARS now proposes to conform these regulations to that mandate by adding language requiring guardians and conservators, to the extent feasible, to be guided by principles that: 1) focus on the expressed preferences, personal values and needs of individuals that are... under guardianship, 2) allow individuals to have a say in the planning of their lives and 3) provide individuals with information and support to help them in making plans.

No guardian program in the Commonwealth is likely to incur costs on account of these proposed regulations because they do not mandate any additional actions or paperwork; instead they just require that guardians consider, and when possible support, the preferences of their clients. Individuals who are subject to guardianship will likely benefit from policies that allow them more control over how decisions affecting them are made.

Businesses and Entities Affected. DARS staff reports that there are 14 public programs that hold guardianship of approximately 600 individuals in the Commonwealth. All of these programs and individuals will be affected by these proposed changes.

Localities Particularly Affected. No locality will be particularly affected by these proposed regulations.

Projected Impact on Employment. These proposed regulations are unlikely to have any impact on employment in the Commonwealth.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. These proposed regulations are unlikely to have any effect on the use and value of any private property.

Small Businesses: Costs and Other Effects. No small businesses will be affected by these proposed regulations.

Small Businesses: Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. No small businesses will be affected by these proposed regulations.

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Department for Aging and Rehabilitative Services agrees that the information provided by the Department of Planning and Budget in the December 18, 2013, economic impact analysis of the proposed amendments to 22VAC30-70, The Virginia Guardianship and Conservator Program was accurate at the time the analysis was completed. Businesses and entities affected have fluctuated slightly on an annual basis since this analysis was initially submitted; however, this should not have a substantial impact on the economic impact analysis.

Summary:

As mandated by Chapter 322 of the 2012 Acts of the Assembly, the proposed amendments to the Virginia Guardianship and Conservator Program require person-centered planning, which (i) focuses on the preferences, personal values, and needs of the individual receiving public guardianship services and (ii) directs public guardianship services to empower and support the individual receiving services in defining the direction for his life and promoting self-determination and community involvement.

22VAC30-70. Public guardian programs.

A. Designation. The department shall select public guardian programs in accordance with the requirements of the Virginia Public Procurement Act. Only those programs that contract with the department will shall be designated as public guardian programs. Funding for public guardian programs is provided by the appropriation of general funds.

B. Authority. A public guardian program appointed as a guardian, a conservator, or both as a guardian and conservator, shall have all the powers and duties specified in Article I (§ 37.2-1000 et seq.) of Chapter 10 of Title 37.2 Chapter 20 (§ 64.2-2000 et seq.) of Title 64.2 of the Code of Virginia, except as otherwise specifically limited by a court.

C. Structure.

1. Each public guardian program shall have a program director who supervises and is responsible for providing guardianship services to any incapacitated persons assigned by the court and to provide overall administration for the public guardian program. The program director must shall be a full-time employee of the program and have experience as a service provider or administrator in one or more of the following areas: social work, case management, mental health, nursing or other human service programs. The program director must shall also demonstrate, by objective criteria, a knowledge and understanding of Virginia's guardianship laws, alternatives to guardianship, and surrogate decision making activities. The program director shall attend all training and activities required by the department.

2. Each public guardian program shall establish a multidisciplinary panel to (i) screen cases for the purpose of ensuring that appointment of a guardian or conservator is appropriate under the circumstances and is the least restrictive alternative available to assist the incapacitated person. This screening shall include a duty to recommend the most appropriate limitations on the power of the guardian or conservator, if any, to ensure that the powers and duties assigned are the least restrictive, and (ii) annually review cases being handled by the program to ensure that a guardian or conservator appointment remains appropriate. Composition of a multidisciplinary panel should include representatives from various human services agencies serving the city, county, or region where the public guardian program accepts referrals. If serving a region, the multidisciplinary panel shall have at least one representative from each local jurisdiction within the region. To the extent appropriate disciplines are available, this panel should include but is not limited to representation from:

a. Local departments of social services, adult protective services;

b. Community services boards or behavioral health authorities;
D. Client ratio to paid staff.

1. Each public guardian program shall maintain a direct service ratio of clients to paid staff that does not exceed the department's established ideal ratio of 20 incapacitated persons to every one paid full-time staff person 20:1.

2. Each public guardian program shall have in place a plan to immediately provide notice to the circuit court(s) in its jurisdiction and to the department when the program determines that it may exceed its ideal ratio of clients to paid staff.

3. In an emergency or unusual circumstance, each program, in its discretion, may exceed the department's established ideal ratio by no more than five additional incapacitated persons. Each program shall have in place a policy to immediately provide notice to the department when such an emergency or unusual circumstance occurs and when the emergency or unusual circumstance ends and the ideal ratio has returned to 20:1. The notice to the department shall comply with policy established by the department. Other than an emergency or unusual circumstance as described in the preceding sentence, a waiver must be requested to exceed the department's established ideal ratio. The department, in consultation with the advisory board, shall establish written procedures for public guardian programs to obtain appropriate waivers regarding deviations in the ideal ratio of clients to paid staff. Procedures shall comply with §§ 51.5-150 and 51.5-151 of the Code of Virginia. The department shall report waiver requests and status of granted waivers to the advisory board at its regularly scheduled meetings. The department shall review such waivers every six months to ensure that there is no immediate threat to the person or property of any incapacitated person nor that exceeding the department's established ideal ratio is having or will have a material and adverse effect on the ability of the program to properly serve all of the incapacitated persons it has been designated to serve.

E. Appointments.

1. Prior to the public guardian program accepting an individual for services, the multidisciplinary panel described in 22VAC30-70-30 subdivision C 2 of this section shall screen referrals to ensure that:

a. The public guardian program is appointed as guardian, or conservator, or both only in those cases where guardianship or conservatorship is the least restrictive alternative available to assist the individual;

b. The appointment is consistent with serving the type of client identified by the established priorities of the public guardian program;

c. The individual cannot adequately care for himself;

d. The individual is indigent; and

e. There is no other proper or suitable person or entity to serve as guardian.

f. In the case of an individual who receives case management services from a community services board (CSB) or behavioral health authority (BHA), the multidisciplinary panel may also request the results of the "determination of capacity" as authorized by 12VAC35-115-145 (Determination of capacity to give consent or authorization) and verification that no other person is available or willing to serve as guardian pursuant to 12VAC35-115-146 E (Authorized representatives).

2. Appointments by a circuit court shall name the public guardian program, rather than an individual person, as the guardian, the conservator or both guardian and conservator.

3. A public guardian program shall only accept appointments as guardian, conservator, or both guardian and conservator that generate no fee or that generate a minimal fee.

F. Services.

1. A public guardian program shall have a continuing duty to seek a proper and suitable person who is willing and able to serve as guardian, conservator, or both guardian and conservator for the incapacitated person.

2. The guardian or conservator shall encourage the incapacitated person to participate in decisions, to act on his own behalf, and to develop or regain the capacity to manage his personal affairs to the extent feasible.

3. The guardian or conservator shall be guided by person-centered planning that:

a. Focuses on the expressed preferences, personal values, and needs of the individual receiving public guardian program services; and

b. Empowers and supports the individual receiving public guardian program services, to the extent feasible, in defining the direction for his life and promoting self-determination and community involvement.

4. To the maximum extent feasible, the person-centered planning process shall:

a. Include people chosen by the individual;

b. Provide necessary information and support to enable the individual to direct the process and to make informed choices and decisions;

c. Be timely and occur at times and locations convenient for the individual;

d. Reflect the individual's cultural values;
e. Offer choices to the individual regarding the services the individual receives and from whom the individual receives those services; and
f. Include documentation of processes employed in and the outcomes of person-centered planning.

3. The multidisciplinary panel described in 22VAC30-20-30 subdivision C 2 of this section shall review active cases at least once every 12 months to determine that:
   a. The client continues to be incapacitated;
   b. The client continues to be indigent; and
   c. There is no other proper or suitable person or entity to serve as guardian, conservator, or both guardian and conservator.

4. Each public guardian program shall set priorities with regard to services to be provided to incapacitated persons in accordance with its contract with the department.

5. Each public guardian program shall develop written procedures and standards to make end-of-life decisions or other health-related interventions in accordance with the expressed desires and personal values of the incapacitated person to the extent known. If expressed desires or personal values are unknown, then written procedures, including an ethical decision-making process, shall be used to ensure that the guardian or conservator acts in the incapacitated person’s best interest and exercises reasonable care, diligence and prudence on behalf of the client.

6. The public guardian program shall avoid even the appearance of a conflict of interest or impropriety when dealing with the needs of the incapacitated person.
Impropriety or conflict of interest arises where the public guardian program has some personal or agency interest that might be perceived as self-serving or adverse to the position or the best interest of the incapacitated person.
Examples include, but are not limited to, situations where the public guardian program provides services such as housing, hospice or medical care directly to the client. The department reserves the right to monitor all administrative, programmatic, and financial activities related to the public guardian program to ensure compliance with the terms of the contract between the department and the public guardian program.

7. Each public guardian program and its employees are required to report any suspected abuse, neglect, or exploitation in accordance with § 63.2-1606 of the Code of Virginia, that provides for the protection of aged or incapacitated adults, mandates reporting, and provides for a penalty for failure to report.

8. Each public guardian program shall submit data and reports as required by the department and maintain compliance with the department’s program guidelines. The department shall periodically monitor administrative,

STATE BOARD OF SOCIAL SERVICES

Proposed Regulation

Title of Regulation: 22VAC40-72. Standards for Licensed Assisted Living Facilities (amending 22VAC40-72-10, 22VAC40-72-60, 22VAC40-72-390).

Statutory Authority: §§ 63.2-217 and 63.2-1732 of the Code of Virginia.

Public Hearing Information: No public hearings are scheduled.

Public Comment Deadline: January 29, 2016.

Purpose: The purpose of this action is to implement Chapter 320 of the 2013 Acts of Assembly, which amended §§ 63.2-1805 and 63.2-1808 of the Code of Virginia relating to ALF liability insurance disclosure. The regulatory action establishes the minimum amount of liability insurance coverage to be maintained by an ALF for purposes of disclosure. The action also includes changes to the regulations to require an ALF to disclose to any resident, prospective resident, and his legal representative, if any, whether it maintains the minimum amount of liability insurance coverage. Knowing whether a facility maintains at least the minimum amount of coverage will allow potential residents and residents to make more informed decisions regarding residence in assisted living facilities and possible compensation for injuries and losses from negligent acts of a facility.

Substance: Proposed changes to the regulations add an item to the disclosure statement and the resident agreement that requires an ALF to state whether it maintains at least the minimum amount of liability insurance coverage established by the State Board of Social Services to compensate residents or others for injuries and losses from negligent acts of the Regulations

The proposed minimum amount is $500,000 per occurrence and $500,000 aggregate. An additional change ensures that the information regarding liability insurance coverage is kept current.

Issues: The advantage of the proposed regulatory action to the public and to the agency is that it makes the requirements of the regulation consistent with the requirements of state law and establishes a minimum amount of liability insurance coverage for purposes of disclosure. Disclosure of the information to a prospective resident of an ALF allows the person to make a more informed decision regarding residence in the facility. Disclosure of the information to ALF residents or appropriate legal representatives helps keep them aware of whether or not the facility has insurance in case possible compensation for injury or losses becomes a matter of concern. There are no disadvantages to the public, the agency, or the Commonwealth.

An issue that has been identified in the past by some people in the insurance industry and others is that the minimum amount of liability insurance for disclosure purposes in this proposal is inadequate. These people vary in the amounts recommended to compensate for injuries and losses from negligent acts of an ALF, but the least amount recommended for disclosure purposes is $1 million per occurrence and $2 million aggregate. The $500,000 amount is supported by several ALF provider associations.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Regulation. As mandated by Chapter 320 of the 2013 Acts of the Assembly, the State Board of Social Services (Board) proposes to amend its Standards for Assisted Living Facilities to stipulate insurance amounts for which assisted living facilities will be required to provide disclosure.

Result of Analysis. Benefits likely exceed costs for all proposed regulatory changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. In 2013, the General Assembly passed legislation that directed the Board to promulgate regulations, "9. Requiring that each assisted living facility prepare and provide a statement, in a format prescribed by the Board, to any resident or prospective resident and his legal representative, if any, and upon request, that discloses whether the assisted living facility maintains liability insurance in force to compensate residents or other individuals for injuries and losses from the negligent acts of the facility, provided that no facility shall state that liability insurance is in place unless such insurance provides a minimum amount of coverage as established by the Board; and 10. Establishing the minimum amount of liability insurance coverage to be maintained by an assisted living facility for purposes of disclosure in accordance with subdivision 9."

The Board now proposes to amend its regulation for assisted living facilities to implement these requirements. Specifically, the Board proposes to disclose to prospective residents whether they have insurance that will pay up to $500,000 per occurrence and $500,000 aggregate to compensate residents or other individuals for injuries or losses suffered due to the negligence of the facility. The Board also proposes to require that the same insurance disclosure be contained in resident agreements signed by residents (or their legal representative) at the time of, or prior to, admission. The Department of Planning and Budget suggested that the board create a separate section of the regulatory text that specifically lists the required liability amounts, rather than just including it in the text of the disclosure section and in the section describing the resident agreement with the facility. The Department of Social Services agreed to consider presenting this idea to the Board at the final stage for this proposed regulation.

Assisted living facilities are not required by the Standards for Assisted Living Facilities to actually have liability insurance. Disclosure requirements likely will, however, encourage facilities to have at least $500,000 in insurance since not having such insurance, and having to disclose that fact to potential residents, would put them at a competitive disadvantage to similarly priced assisted living facilities that do have such insurance. Board staff reports that the cost for insurance with $500,000 per occurrence/$500,000 aggregate coverage would likely average $125-$250 per facility bed. Facilities with poorer quality of care, more regulatory complaints, an older physical plant or residents who are generally in poorer health (amongst other risk factors) may pay the higher side of that average; facilities that rate as better risks would likely pay on the lower side of that average. Residents and their families will benefit from these proposed regulatory changes as they will allow a more informed choice of facilities where residents will be compensated for any losses incurred on account of negligence on the part or facility owners or staff.

Businesses and Entities Affected. Board staff reports that the Board regulates 544 assisted living facilities in the Commonwealth. All of these facilities will be affected by the proposed regulatory changes. Board staff further reports that most of these facilities would qualify as small businesses.

Projected Impact on Employment. This proposed regulation is unlikely to have any impact on employment in the Commonwealth.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. Assisted living facilities are not required by the Standards for Assisted Living Facilities to actually have liability insurance. Disclosure requirements likely will, however, encourage facilities to have at least $500,000 in insurance since not having such insurance, and having to disclose that fact to potential residents, would put them at a competitive disadvantage to similarly priced assisted living facilities that do have such insurance. To the extent that purchasing insurance lowers the profits of assisted living facilities, the value of those facilities will also be lowered.

Small Businesses: Costs and Other Effects. This regulatory action does not directly impose any costs but the likely very minimal cost for revising disclosure documents.

Small Businesses: Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. There are likely no alternative methods of regulation that would both meet the aims of the legislature and the Board and be less costly.

Agency’s Response to the Economic Impact Analysis: The Department of Social Services reviewed the economic impact analysis prepared by the Department of Planning and Budget and has no comment.

Summary:

Pursuant to Chapter 320 of the 2013 Acts of Assembly, the proposed amendments establish for purposes of disclosure a minimum amount of liability insurance coverage of $500,000 per occurrence and $500,000 aggregate to be maintained by an assisted living facility (ALF). It does not require an ALF to maintain coverage, but rather to disclose to residents, prospective residents, and legal representatives, if any, whether the facility has the minimum required amount as established by the State Board of Social Services. The amendments also include changes to the disclosure statement and the resident agreement to include whether the ALF maintains at least $500,000 per occurrence and $500,000 aggregate of liability insurance coverage.

A resident is presumed competent and is responsible for making all health care, personal care, financial, and other personal decisions that affect his life unless a representative with legal authority has been appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction or has been appointed by the resident in a properly executed and signed document. A resident may have different legal representatives for different functions.

For any given standard, the term legal representative applies solely to the legal representative with the authority to act in regard to the function or functions relevant to that particular standard.

Fast-Track Regulation

Title of Regulation: 22VAC40-100. Minimum Standards for Licensed Child Caring Institutions (amending 22VAC40-100-10, 22VAC40-100-340).

Statutory Authority: §§ 63.2-217 and 63.2-1734 of the Code of Virginia.

Public Hearing Information: No public hearings are scheduled.

Public Comment Deadline: December 30, 2015.

Effective Date: January 15, 2016.

Agency Contact: Sharon Lindsay, Program Consultant, Department of Social Services, 801 East Main Street, Richmond, VA 23219, telephone (804) 726-7167, FAX (804) 726-7132, or email sharon.lindsay@dss.virginia.gov.

Basis: Section 63.2-217 of the Code of Virginia provides the State Board of Social Services the general authority for the development of regulations to carry out the purposes of Title 63.2 of the Code of Virginia. Sections 63.2-1701, 63.2-1817, 63.2-1734, 16.1-278.2, 16.1-278.4, and 16.1-278.8 of the Code of Virginia mandate licensure of child welfare agencies, except those that meet the exemptions contained in §§ 63.2-1715 through 63.2-1718. Child caring institutions are defined as children's residential facilities, and children's residential facilities fall under the definition of child welfare agencies. Those child caring institutions established prior to January 1, 1987, that receive no public funds are licensed under the Minimum Standards for Licensed Child Caring Institutions. Child caring institutions established on or after January 1, 1987, are licensed under the regulation established for children's residential facilities.

Purpose: The amendments are necessary to remove references to repealed Code of Virginia sections and add the correct citations in the regulation. This regulatory action protects the health, welfare, and safety of children in child caring institutions by clarifying the Code of Virginia references used in the regulation.

Rationale for Using Fast-Track Process: Executive Order 17 (2014) allows state agencies to use a fast-track rulemaking process to expedite regulatory changes that are expected to be noncontroversial. As part of the periodic review process, the Office of the Attorney General advised the use of the fast-track rulemaking process to make minor amendments to Code of Virginia references, as these actions are not expected to be controversial.

Substance: The regulation is amended to remove references to repealed Code of Virginia sections in the regulation and replace them with the correct references.

Issues: The primary advantage of this regulatory action to the agency and to the public is that it clarifies Code of Virginia citations for easier reference. There are no disadvantages to the public or the Commonwealth.

Small Business Impact Review Report of Findings: This regulatory action serves as the report of the findings of the regulatory review pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation. The State Board of Social Services (Board) proposes to amend its regulations that govern licensed child caring institutions so that it is clear the statutory authority for this licensure program emanates from § 63.1 of the Code of Virginia as it existed on January 1, 1987.

Result of Analysis. Benefits likely outweigh costs for all proposed changes.

Estimated Economic Impact. Current regulations list the Code of Virginia Title which defined child caring institutions and gave the Board authority to license them. Since this Code section has since been repealed, and is no longer in the Code of Virginia, the current regulations can be confusing for individuals that use the code citations listed to try and find the authorizing legislation. To make these regulations more clear, the Board proposes to specify the version of the Code of Virginia that is being referenced. Although this addition will not make it any easier for interested individuals to find the statutory authorization for this licensure program in the Code of Virginia, it will make it clearer why that Code section is so hard to track down.

Businesses and Entities Affected. Board staff reports there are currently seven licensed child caring institutions in the Commonwealth.

Localities Particularly Affected. No locality will be particularly affected by this proposed regulatory action.

Projected Impact on Employment. This proposed regulatory action is unlikely to have any effect on employment in the Commonwealth.

Effects on the Use and Value of Private Property. These proposed regulatory changes are unlikely to affect the use or value of private property in the Commonwealth.

Small Businesses: Costs and Other Effects. No small business is likely to incur any costs on account of this regulatory action.

Small Businesses: Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact. No small business is likely to incur any costs on account of this regulatory action.

Real Estate Development Costs. This regulatory action will likely have no effect on real estate development costs in the Commonwealth.
Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Department of Social Services reviewed the economic impact analysis prepared by the Department of Planning and Budget and concurs.

Summary:
The amendments remove references to repealed Code of Virginia sections in the regulation and add the correct references.

It shall be unlawful for any officer, agent, or employee of any child welfare agency, for the Commissioner, the State Board of Social Services, or their agents or employees, and for any person who has held any such position, and for any other person to whom any such information is disclosed as herein above provided, to disclose, directly or indirectly, any such confidential information, except as herein provided. Every violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor and be punishable as such.
(b) 2. Any person who has attained his majority, and who has not been legally adopted in accordance with the provisions of former Chapter 11 (§ 63.1-220 et seq.) of this title Title 63.1 of the Code of Virginia, and who believes that he has been placed out by a child placing agency, shall have the right to demand and receive from the Commissioner, the State Board of Social Services, or any such agency, such information as any of them may have concerning his own parents or relatives."

Proposed Regulation
Title of Regulation: 22VAC40-201. Permanency Services - Prevention, Foster Care, Adoption and Independent Living (amending 22VAC40-201-10 through 22VAC40-201-150, 22VAC40-201-170, 22VAC40-201-200; adding 22VAC40-201-35, 22VAC40-201-161; repealing 22VAC40-201-160).
Statutory Authority: §§ 63.2-217, 63.2-319, and 63.2-900 of the Code of Virginia.
Public Hearing Information: No public hearings are scheduled.
Public Comment Deadline: January 29, 2016.
Agency Contact: Em Parente, Program Manager, Department of Social Services, 801 East Main Street, Richmond, VA 23219, telephone (804) 726-7538, FAX (804) 726-7895, or email em.parente@dss.virginia.gov.

Basis: The legal basis for this action is § 63.2-217 of the Code of Virginia, which provides the authority for the State Board of Social Services to adopt regulations as may be necessary to carry out the mandated purposes of the Department of Social Services. Throughout Title 63.2, there are requirements for regulations to be developed to implement permanency services. This regulatory action will provide a comprehensive and accurate structure for the provision of these services.

Purpose: 22VAC40-201 encompasses the full range of services for prevention, foster care, adoption, and independent living services. The regulation provides local departments of social services with rules for the provision of child welfare services consistent with the Code of Virginia and federal law. The regulation is necessary for protecting the welfare of children in foster care because it addresses issues such as service planning, notification of relatives, factors to consider in placement, adoption assistance, and many other provisions intended to ensure the well-being of the child. The goal of the proposed amendments are to make the regulation consistent with the Code of Virginia and federal laws and to make other changes deemed necessary to ensure the accuracy and clarity of the regulation.

Substance: Substantive provisions and amendments to this regulation include adding language in both the definitions section and the independent living section making youth older than 18 years, released from the Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) and in foster care immediately prior to their commitment to DJJ, eligible to receive independent living services. The regulation also requires, consistent with the Code of Virginia, that local department of social services (LDSS) "shall" provide independent living services to youth between the ages of 14 to 18 years and for youth 18 to 21 years who are eligible. A provision is added to limit when a foster child in a kinship foster placement can be removed from the relative. Language is added on the timing of medical and dental visits for youth in foster care, language listing independent living as a goal for all except a specific group of youth is removed, and language requiring the service plan for a child be approved by the court within 60 days from the child's entry into foster care is added. In addition, language reflecting recent Code of Virginia changes that will allow, under specific circumstances, the restoration of the parental rights of a youth in foster care is added. Language was added to clarify that adult relatives of a child "likely to be removed" be notified, in addition to the requirement that adult relatives be notified after removal. The process for collaborating with the foster care child's school to determine whether the child should continue at the home school or be moved to a new school, consistent with federal requirements, is provided. Changes are made in 22VAC40-201-70 clarifying the responsibility for the LDSS relative to establishing permanency for a child in foster care include the clarification that the LDSS shall continue to search for relatives and to try to establish permanency for a child until such time as it is achieved or not in the child's best interest even when the goal of permanent foster care, another planned permanent living arrangement, or independent living has been established. Changes to the regulation also require that the LDSS engage in concurrent permanency planning in order to achieve timely permanence for the child. Throughout the regulation, language regarding "resource families" has been changed to "foster" and "adoptive" families because the Code of Virginia does not address "resource families." The approval standards for adoptive parents differ from those for foster parents only in the parent having a desire to adopt. Use of the term "resource parent" to mean a family who is approved both to foster and adopt in the regulation goes beyond what is contained in the Code of Virginia.

22VAC40-201-160, addressing adoption assistance, is repealed and replaced with 22VAC40-201-161 because changes and necessary reorganization would render this section of the proposed regulation very difficult to read. Language is added to that section about the use of department staff for the negotiation of adoption assistance agreements and addendums. Clarification is provided referencing the submission of the annual affidavit. Language is added regarding the responsibility of the LDSS to notify adoptive families of their right to appeal. Also included are conditions for continuation of adoption assistance beyond the youth's 18th birthday and termination of adoption assistance prior to the youth's 18th birthday. 22VAC40-201-161 also includes language that provides clarity regarding eligibility for adoption assistance after finalization. Finally, in the section addressing nonagency adoptions, an incomplete list of exceptions to the prohibition against the exchange of money or other things of value in the placement or adoption of a child was deleted and reference was made to the Code of Virginia for more detailed information.

Issues: This action poses no disadvantages to the public or the Commonwealth. This regulatory action amends the permanency regulation, which provides for the safety of children who come into the child welfare system and for children in the Commonwealth who are adopted. In particular this action addresses recent changes to the Code of Virginia to improve service delivery for older youth and medical and dental services for foster care youth and clarifies the process for determining adoption assistance eligibility and payment.

Department of Planning and Budget's Economic Impact Analysis:

Summary of the Proposed Amendments to Regulation: The State Board of Social Services (Board) proposes to make several substantive changes, and many clarifying changes, to its permanency regulation. Substantively, the Board proposes to: 1) As required by state and federal law, allow independent living services to be extended to youths over the age of 18 who are being released from Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) custody, so long as those youths were in foster care before they were incarcerated; and remove the permanency goal of independent living except for juvenile refugees, youths leaving foster care who are at least 18 years old and or youths at least 18 years of age who are leaving Juvenile Correctional Center custody. 2) Limit when a foster child can be removed from kinship foster care without the consent of the relative foster parent, 3) Pursuant to 2014 legislative changes, allow the restoration of parental rights for the parents of older foster care children whose rights had been terminated, 4) Mandate that the state Department of Social Services negotiate adoption assistance subsidies, 5) Set the process by which named parties will decide which school district a foster child will attend school in, and 6) Reduce the time frame for submitting a foster care plan to the courts and the time frame for the courts to approve that plan.

Result of Analysis: Benefits will likely outweigh costs for most proposed changes. For several proposed changes, there is insufficient information to ascertain whether benefits will outweigh costs.

Estimated Economic Impact: Most of the changes that the Board is proposing for this regulation either make explicit existing rules that local Departments of Social Services (LDSSs) currently follow or modify language to eliminate confusion about what the rules are. For instance, LDSS staff are currently responsible for verifying that foster children placed through private placing agencies are in approved placements. The Board proposes to add language to this regulation that explicitly lays out LDSS responsibility on this matter but does not propose to change the parameters of responsibility for verifying home approval in any substantive way. Affected entities are very unlikely to incur extra costs on account of changes such as these, but will benefit from the increased clarity of the regulatory text. Currently, this regulation allows a permanency goal of independent living even though federal law does not. The Board proposes to amend this regulation so that no children under the age of 18 except refugees are allowed this goal. The Board also proposes to conform this regulation to state law changes that allow independent living services to be extended to young adults who are being released from Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) custody so long as those young adults were in foster care before they were incarcerated. Board staff reports that LDSSs will likely incur some costs on account of extending independent living services to young adults leaving DJJ but that a member amendment to last year’s budget allocated $19,000 to cover those costs. Removing independent living as a permanency goal for older teenagers will require DSS staff to continue trying to find a biological family member or an adoptive placement for those youths but may also limit the youth’s ability to affect their own living arrangements. That is, older teens who may not want to form ties with biological family members that DSS may find or who may prefer to focus on living independently as part of their own life goals rather than being adopted may have their preferences minimized or ignored because LDSSs are now mandated to continue trying to place these teenagers in a home that meets the criteria for permanency goals. Current regulation allows kinship foster care but does not give that foster care placement precedence over approved permanency goals, like adoption, that are theoretically considered to be more beneficial to the child in care. Because of a legislative change, the Board now proposes to specify that children who have been under the care of a relative in kinship foster care for six months continuously may not be removed from that placement without the consent of the relative caregiver unless a court orders removal. This change may benefit the children in such care as they will be allowed to stay in a placement that provides both safety and continuing family ties. Parents of children in foster care may not benefit, however, from this proposed change as they would need either the consent of the family member who has care of their child or children or would need court intervention to be reunited if it takes longer than six months for them to complete all actions that a reunion is conditioned upon. Current regulation does not have provision for parental rights to be restored once they are severed because reuniting the family is no longer a realistic goal for a child who has been taken into foster care. Pursuant to a 2014 change in state law, the Board proposes to allow restoration of parental rights of parents who have had their rights severed at least two years previous to the restoration petition and whose children are either over the age of 14, or are younger siblings of a child over the age of 14 who is the subject to a restoration petition if the child’s permanency goal was not achieved or sustained. This change will benefit children who are not thriving in foster care and whose parents may have belatedly gotten their lives together enough to finally care for those children. Until recently, LDSS staff had the responsibility for both placing children into adoptive homes and negotiating the size of adoption assistance subsidies with adoptive parents (and sometimes adoptive parents’ lawyers). To minimize this conflict of interest, the Board has moved the responsibility of negotiating these subsidies using standardized criteria to the state Department of Social Services. Board staff reports that this change will likely save the state some money although the magnitude of cost savings is not yet known. Some adoptive parents who will negotiate subsidies in the future may not benefit from this change as their adoption subsidies will be lower under new rules than they would have been under local negotiation rules. Current regulation requires LDSS staff to collaborate with local educational agencies to decide if a child entering foster care will stay in the school district their family lives in or be moved to the school district that contains their foster care home (if the two are different). The Board proposes going forward to require LDSSs to consult not only with the involved school divisions but also the child’s prior custodians (likely their parent or parents), foster care providers, and other involved adults before deciding where the child in foster care will go to school. This change may increase transportation costs incurred by LDSSs if more decisions are made that keep children in schools that do not provide bus service to those children’s foster homes. Currently, LDSSs have 60 days after a child is taken into foster care to submit a foster care plan to the court, and the court has 75 days after a child is taken into foster care to approve that plan (15 days beyond the LDSSs window). Pursuant to a 2013 legislative change, the Board now proposes to change these timelines so that LDSSs have 45 days to submit a foster care plan to the court and the court has only 15 days beyond that 45-day window to approve that plan. This change will benefit foster children as they will have a plan in place to guide their care at least 15 days sooner than they currently do. Board staff reports that LDSSs will not incur any additional costs for complying with these shortened timelines.

Businesses and Entities Affected: This proposed regulation will affect all LDSSs, the children in their care or placed through them, and the parents and other involved relatives.

Localities Particularly Affected: No localities will be particularly or affected by these regulatory changes.

Costs and Other Effects: No small businesses will incur costs on account of these proposed regulatory changes. All affected entities are either public governmental agencies or private individuals.

Alternative Method that Minimizes Adverse Impact: No small businesses will incur costs on account of these proposed regulatory changes. All affected entities are either public governmental agencies or private individuals.

Adverse Impacts. Businesses: The proposed changes are unlikely to adversely impact any business in the Commonwealth.

Localities: LDSSs will likely incur some additional court related costs on account of with rule changes that allow restoration of parental rights for parents of foster kids at least 14 years old and rule changes that make it harder to remove children from a kinship foster care placement after six months. LDSSs may also incur additional costs for funding independent living services for youths over the age of 18 who were in foster care before being committed to DJJ and for additional transportation costs associated with transporting foster children to school.

Other Entities: The proposed change to kinship foster care rules may adversely affect parents whose children are in long-term kinship foster care as it may decrease the chance they will be reunited with their children if the relative the children live with objects. The proposed change that limits older teenage foster kids from having a permanency goal of independent living may decrease the control that those teenagers have over where, and with whom, they end up living.

Agency's Response to Economic Impact Analysis: The Department of Social Services concurs with the economic impact analysis prepared by the Department of Planning and Budget.

Summary:
The proposed amendments (i) as required by state and federal law, allow independent living services to be extended to youths older than 18 years of age who are being released from Department of Juvenile Justice custody, so long as those youths were in foster care before they were incarcerated and remove the permanency goal of independent living except for juvenile refugees, youths leaving foster care who are at least 18 years old, and youths at least 18 years of age who are leaving Juvenile Correctional Center custody; (ii) limit when a foster child can be removed from kinship foster care without the consent of the relative foster parent; (iii) allow the restoration of parental rights for the parents, whose rights had been terminated, of older foster care children; (iv) mandate that the state Department of Social Services negotiate adoption assistance subsidies; (v) set the process by which named parties will decide which school district a foster child will attend; and (vi) reduce the timeframe for submitting a foster care plan to the courts and the timeframe for the courts to approve that plan.

K. Adoption assistance agreements may be modified beyond the original provisions of the agreement to the extent provided by law when the local department and the adoptive parents agree in writing to the extension, new special services or provisions in an addendum signed and dated by the local department and the adoptive parents. If a child has a physical or mental disability that warrants continuation of the adoption assistance, the adoption assistance payments may continue until the child reaches the age of 21 years if the local department and adoptive parents sign an addendum to the agreement to extend the agreement to the specified age. If the sole reason for continuing the agreement beyond the age of 18 years is educational delay, then state-funded adoption assistance may continue until the youth graduates from high school or until the youth's 21st birthday, whichever is earlier, if the local department and adoptive parents sign an addendum to the agreement to extend the agreement to the end of the month of high school graduation or until the youth's 21st birthday, whichever is earlier.

B. Copayments. Copayments are established by the department. All families receiving child care subsidy have a copayment responsibility ranging from 5.0% to 10% of the family's income, taking family size and income into account, except that families whose gross monthly income is at or below the federal poverty guidelines who are recipients of TANF, participants in the FSET SNAPET program, or families in the Head Start program will have no copayment. 22VAC40-661-70. Case management.

A. Application and assessment. Parents who are not receiving TANF and who are at least 18 years of age and who wish to request child care services are required to sign an application and cooperate with an assessment by the local department. Consumer education, including the selection and monitoring of child care, must be provided to parents to assist them in gaining needed information about child care services and availability of providers. As a condition of eligibility, all applicants and recipients must cooperate with the Division of Child Support Enforcement unless the subsidy program determines that good cause exists for their failure to do so.
B. Service planning. Child care workers must complete a written service plan for each child care case. The service plan outlines the mutually agreed upon activities and responsibilities between the local department and the parent in the provision of child care services.

C. Due process. Applicants and recipients will be afforded due process through timely written notices of any action deciding or affecting his eligibility for services or copayment amount. Such written notice shall include the reason for the action and the notice of appeal rights and procedures, including the right to a fair hearing if the applicant or recipient is aggrieved by the local department's action or failure to act on an application. If a [client recipient] requests an appeal within 10 days of the effective date of the notice of action, child care services will continue until a decision is rendered by a hearing officer. If the decision of the local department is upheld by the hearing officer, the [client recipient] must repay the amount of services paid during the appeal process.

D. Reassessment. Local departments will make regular contacts with a member of the case household or the provider. The purpose of these contacts is to evaluate whether the child care services authorized are meeting the needs of the child and the parent.

E. Beginning date of service payment.
1. The beginning date of service payment is the date the signed application is received in the local department if the family is determined eligible within 45 30 days.
2. If the determination is made more than 45 30 days after the signed application is received, services may begin only on the date eligibility is actually determined, except in the case of administrative delay.
3. Administrative delay is when either the parent or provider does not provide needed information for eligibility purposes to the local department within the 45 30 days due to circumstances beyond their control.
4. Payment cannot be made to licensed providers prior to the effective dates of their initial licenses.

F. Parental responsibilities.
1. Parents must be informed of their responsibility to report changes that could affect their eligibility. These changes must be reported to the local department within 10 calendar days. Parents must be informed that failure to report required changes may result in case closure, repayment of child care costs, or prosecution for fraud.
2. Parents must be informed of their responsibility to pay all fees owed. Parental failure to pay fees may result in case closure.

G. Termination. Local department termination of child care services must be planned jointly with the parent and provider. Adequate documentation supporting the reasons for termination must be filed in the case record. Eligibility in the fee program is limited to a total of 72 months per family. Receipt of assistance in any other category does not count toward the 72-month limitation.

H. Waiting list. When sufficient funds are not available [in the fee program], local departments of social services must screen applicants for potential eligibility and place them on the department's waiting list if the family chooses.

22VAC40-661-80. Fraud.

A. Fraud.

1. When it is suspected that there has been a deliberate misrepresentation of facts in order to receive [benefits,] services [or payments], the local department must determine whether or not fraud was committed. There must be clear and convincing evidence that demonstrates that the household or provider committed or intended to commit fraud. Suspected instances of child care fraud shall be referred to the fraud staff for investigation. If there is clear and convincing evidence that fraud has occurred [with either the provider or the household], the case will be referred to the attorney for the Commonwealth to determine if the case will be prosecuted. If the [household's] case does not meet the criteria for prosecution as established by the attorney for the Commonwealth, the case will be referred for an administrative disqualification hearing.

2. Disqualification.
   a. Parents will be disqualified from participating in the child care subsidy program for three months upon the first finding of child care fraud or an intentional program violation, 12 months upon the second finding, and permanently upon the third finding.
   b. Providers will be permanently disqualified from participating in the child care subsidy program upon the first finding of child care fraud.

B. Repayment. In addition to any criminal punishment, anyone who causes the local department to make an improper vendor provider payment by withholding required information or by providing false information will be required to repay the amount of the improper payment.

C. Nonfraud overpayment. In cases of nonfraud overpayment, neither the parent nor provider will be disqualified from participating in the subsidy program, as long as a repayment schedule is entered into with the local department and payments are made according to that schedule. If an overpayment was made as result of an error by the local department, the local department will not seek to recoup those funds from the parent or the provider.

22VAC40-661-100. Administration.

A. Nonfraud overpayment. In cases of nonfraud overpayment, neither the parent nor provider will be disqualified from participating in the subsidy program as long as a repayment schedule is entered into with the local department and payments are made according to that schedule.
B. [ Local department error. If an overpayment was made as a result of an error by the local department, the local department will not seek to recoup those funds from the parent or the provider. Any overpayments made as a result of a local department error must be refunded to the Department of Social Services with local-only funds. Overpayments. Small Business Impact Review - Report of Findings

Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services conducted a small business impact review of 2VAC5-11, Public Participation Guidelines, and determined that this regulation should be retained in its current form. The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services is publishing its report of findings dated October 22, 2015, to support this decision in accordance with § 2.2-4007.1 F of the Code of Virginia.

The agency determined this regulation continues to be necessary as it is required by § 2.2-4007.02 of the Code of Virginia and establishes the mechanisms by which the agency will advise the public of the agency's regulatory actions. The agency has not received any comments or complaints regarding this regulation. The regulation is not complex and is easily understood. The regulation does not overlap, duplicate, or conflict with federal or state law or regulation. The regulation was promulgated in 2008 using the model public participation guidelines issued by the Department of Planning and Budget. This periodic review is the first evaluation of this regulation subsequent to its adoption in 2008. No factors have changed since 2008 that necessitate amending this regulation. This regulation places no economic burden on any small business.

Small Business Impact Review - Report of Findings

Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services conducted a small business impact review of 2VAC5-80, Requirements Governing the Branding of Cattle in Virginia, and determined that this regulation should be retained in its current form. The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services is publishing its report of findings dated October 19, 2015, to support this decision in accordance with § 2.2-4007.1 F of the Code of Virginia.

The agency has determined that there is a continued need for this regulation. Many farms that have cattle are small businesses, and this regulation facilitates the tracing and identification of cattle and protects farmers against theft and unlawful dealing in cattle. There have been no comments or complaints received from the public for this regulation. The regulation is not complex and does not overlap, duplicate, or conflict with federal or state law or regulation. The regulation was last evaluated during a periodic review conducted in 2011. In the period since this regulation was last evaluated, there have been no significant changes in technology, economic conditions, or other factors.

Small Business Impact Review - Report of Findings

Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services conducted a small business impact review of 2VAC5-190, Rules and Regulations Establishing a Monitoring Program for Avian Influenza and Other Poultry Diseases, and determined that this regulation should be retained in its current form. The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services is publishing its report of findings dated October 19, 2015, to support this decision in accordance with § 2.2-4007.1 F of the Code of Virginia.

The agency has determined that there is a continued need for this regulation in order to protect the poultry industry in Virginia. Many farms that have poultry are small businesses, and this regulation decreases the potential for the spread of disease among poultry populations. There have been no comments or complaints received from the public for this regulation. The regulation is not complex and does not overlap, duplicate, or conflict with federal or state law or regulation. The regulation was last evaluated during a periodic review in 2009. In the period since this regulation was last evaluated, there have been no significant changes in technology, economic conditions, or other factors.

Small Business Impact Review - Report of Findings

Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services conducted a small business impact review of 2VAC5-240, Rules and Regulations for Enforcement of the Grain Handlers Law, and determined that this regulation should be retained in its current form. The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services is publishing its report of findings dated September 1, 2015, to support this decision in accordance with § 2.2-4007.1 F of the Code of Virginia.

The agency has determined that this regulation is effective in achieving its goals of protecting Virginia buyers and sellers of grain. Because the selling of grain in Virginia is tremendously important to its economy, there is a continued need for this regulation. The agency has not received any complaints or comments concerning this regulation. This regulation is not complex and is easily understood by industry. The regulation does not overlap, duplicate, or conflict with state or federal law. The regulation was last evaluated during a periodic review conducted in 2011. In the period since this regulation was last evaluated, there have been no significant changes in technology, economic conditions, or other factors that would necessitate a change to this regulation. This regulation assists in ensuring the fair marketing of grain, and the agency does not believe the regulation places any undue burden on small businesses in the grain industry.

Small Business Impact Review - Report of Findings

Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services conducted a small business impact review of 2VAC5-270, Virginia Grade Standards for Breeder Swine, and determined that this regulation should be retained in its current form. The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services is publishing its report of findings dated October 22, 2015, to support this decision in accordance with § 2.2-4007.1 F of the Code of Virginia.

The regulation continues to be needed to provide a fair and equitable grading standard for evaluation of breeder swine. With the ongoing trend of small farms (i.e., small businesses) providing local food, having a regulation in place to evaluate breeding stock for these entities is very beneficial. There have been no comments or complaints received from the public regarding this regulation. This regulation is not complex and does not overlap, duplicate, or conflict with federal or state law or regulation. The last periodic review of the regulation was in 2011. There have been no changes to technology, economic conditions, or other factors that necessitate amending this regulation.

Small Business Impact Review - Report of Findings

Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services conducted a small business impact review of 2VAC5-350, Rules and Regulations for the Enforcement of the Virginia Commission Merchant Law, and determined that this regulation should be retained in its current form. The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services is publishing its report of findings dated October 19, 2015, to support this decision in accordance with § 2.2-4007.1 F of the Code of Virginia.

The agency has determined that there is a continued need for this regulation. Tobacco auction warehouses that serve as agents for tobacco farmers on the basis of a fee or commission are required to obtain a license under the Commission Merchant Law (§ 3.2-4709 et seq. of the Code of Virginia). Many farms that grow tobacco are small businesses and the licensing and bonding of commission merchants and the requirements of this regulation, by which commission merchants must abide, provide protection to tobacco farmers by assuring prompt and accurate payment for their tobacco. There have been no complaints or comments received from the public regarding this regulation. The regulation is not complex and does not include any unnecessary or overly burdensome requirements with which small businesses must comply. This regulation does not overlap, duplicate, or conflict with federal or state law or regulation. No significant changes to technology, economic conditions, or other factors have occurred since the previous periodic review of this regulation in 2011 that would necessitate modifications to this regulation. The agency recommends that the regulation stay in effect without change.

BOARD FOR BARBERS AND COSMETOLOGY
Small Business Impact Review - Report of Findings

Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Board for Barbers and Cosmetology conducted a small business impact review of 18VAC41-11, Public Participation Guidelines, and determined that this regulation should be retained in its current form. The Board for Barbers and Cosmetology is publishing its report of findings dated November 6, 2015, to support this decision in accordance with § 2.2-4007.1 F of the Code of Virginia.

Section 2.2-4007.02 of the Code of Virginia mandates the Board for Barbers and Cosmetology solicit the input of interested parties in the formation and development of its regulations. Therefore, the continued need for the regulation is established in statute. The regulation is necessary to protect public health, safety, and welfare by establishing public participation guidelines, which promote public involvement in the development, amendment, or repeal of an agency's regulation. By soliciting the input of interested parties, the board is better equipped to effectively regulate the occupation or profession. Since no complaints or comments were received during the public comment period, there does not appear to be a reason to amend or repeal the regulation. The regulation is clearly written and easily understandable. The regulation does not overlap, duplicate, or contravene federal or state law or regulation. This is the first periodic review of the regulation since becoming effective in 2008. On November 2, 2015, the board reviewed the regulation and for the reasons stated determined that the regulation should not be amended or repealed but should be retained in its current form.

After considering all available information including comments, DBHDS intends to submit a written decision deferring, disapproving, modifying, or approving each variance renewal application. All variances shall be approved for a specific time period. The decision and reasons for variance will be published in a later issue of the Virginia Register of Regulations.

Purpose of notice: DBHDS is seeking comment on the application for proposed new variances to the Human Rights Regulations for the maximum security forensic unit at DBHDS' Central State Hospital (CSH). Rather than the Local Human Rights Committee (LHRC), the formal complaint resolution process would be the responsibility of the Maximum Security Appeals Committee. The population in the maximum security unit typically has a shorter length of stay, and most of them are admitted from and discharged to the criminal justice system. The individuals are better protected by a complaint process that moves at a more rapid pace than the process provided in the Human Rights Regulations.

Variance to Procedures to Ensure Access to Appropriate Services:

12VAC35-115-60 B 1 d:
"If the individual affected by the alleged abuse, neglect, or exploitation or his authorized representative is not satisfied with the director's actions, he or his authorized representative, or anyone acting on his behalf, may file an appeal to the Central State Hospital Maximum Security Appeals Committee."

Explanation: This proposed language would direct the individual or authorized representative to the Maximum Security Appeals Committee rather than the Local Human Rights Committee. The individuals are better protected by a complaint process that moves at a more rapid pace than the process provided in the Human Rights Regulations.

Variance to Procedures to Ensure a Fair Hearing of Complaints:

12VAC35-115-140 A 2 and A 4:
"2. Have a timely and fair review of any complaint according to the procedures in CSH Policy RTS-01C Patient and Family Complaint Resolution."

"4. Use this and other complaint procedures; and"

Explanation: This proposed language would direct patients, treatment teams, and authorized representatives to CSH policy describing the Maximum Security Appeals Committee, as opposed to the LHRC as outlined in the state human rights regulations.

Variances to Procedures for Complaint Resolution, Hearing, and Appeals

12VAC35-115-150: General Provisions
"A resident who has followed the procedures of CSH RTS-01C Patient and Family Complaint Resolution, and is not satisfied with the CSH Director's response may appeal the decision to the CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee. The CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee shall review the appeal and provide a written response within 21 days. If the complaint is determined by the Appeals Committee to be a founded complaint, the response, which includes recommendations outlining how the complaint should be resolved, shall be forwarded to the director for resolution. A copy shall be sent to the human rights advocate. This is the final level of appeal."

Explanation: This proposed language explains the function of the Maximum Security Appeals Committee and the time for turnaround of responses. It also makes clear there is no additional level of appeal.

12VAC35-115-170: Formal Complaint Process

"A. Anyone who believes that the provider has violated an individual's rights under these regulations may report it to the director or the human rights advocate for resolution.

1. If the report is made only to the director, the director or his designee shall immediately notify the human rights advocate. If the report is made on a weekend or holiday, then the director or his designee shall notify the human rights advocate on the next business day.

2. If the report is made to the human rights advocate, the human rights advocate shall immediately notify the director. If the report is made on a weekend or holiday, the human rights advocate shall notify the director on the next business day.

3. The human rights advocate or the director or his designee shall discuss the report with the individual and notify the individual of his right to pursue a complaint through the process established for individuals. The steps established shall be thoroughly explained to the individual. The human rights advocate or the director or his designee shall ask the individual if he understands the complaint process and the choice that he has before asking the individual how he wishes to pursue the complaint. The individual shall then be given the choice of pursuing the complaint through the established complaint process.

4. The procedures outlined in CSH Policy RTS-01C, Patient and Family Complaint Resolution, shall be followed if a complaint is pursued.

B. If at any time during the complaint process the human rights advocate concludes there is substantial risk that serious or irreparable harm will result if the complaint is not resolved immediately, the human rights advocate shall inform the director and the CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee by informing the director and the DBHDS Director of Human Rights. The CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee shall review the issue within 72 hours of receiving this information."

Explanation: These proposed language changes are necessary to direct the reader to CSH policy rather than the human rights regulations as regards the complaint process for individuals in maximum security. They also make clear the amount of time the Maximum Security Appeals Committee has to review the information.

12VAC35-115-180: Local Human Rights Committee Hearing and Review Procedures

"A. Any individual or his authorized representative who does not accept the relief offered by the director or disagrees with (i) a director's final decision and action plan resulting from the complaint resolution; (ii) a director's final action following a report of abuse, neglect, or exploitation; or (iii) a director's final decision following a complaint of discrimination in the provision of services may request a review by the CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee.

B. The individual or his authorized representative must file the request for review by the CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee within ten days of the director's action or final decision on the complaint.

1. The appeal request must be in writing on the form designated by CSH Policy RTS-01C Patient and Family Complaint Resolution. It should contain all facts and arguments surrounding the complaint and reference any section of the regulations that the individual believes the provider violated.

2. The human rights advocate and any individual other than another resident of CSH may help the individual in filing the appeal. If the individual chooses a person other than the human rights advocate to help him, he and his chosen representative may request the human rights advocate's assistance in filing the appeal.

C. The CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee shall review the appeal and provide a written response within 21 days. If the complaint is determined by the Appeals Committee to be a founded complaint, the response, which includes recommendations outlining how the complaint should be resolved, shall be forwarded to the director for resolution. A copy shall be sent to the human rights advocate. This is the final level of appeal."

Explanation: These proposed changes outline the exact procedures an individual in maximum security would follow to appeal a director's decision, and the timeline on which it must happen.

12VAC35-115-190: Special Procedures for Emergency Hearing by LHRC

"A. If the human rights advocate informs the CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee of a substantial risk that serious and irreparable harm will result if a complaint is not resolved immediately, the CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee shall review the issue within 72 hours of receiving the information.

1. The director or his designee and the human rights advocate shall be available to discuss the issue with the CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee.

2. The review shall be concluded on an expedited basis.
General Notices/Errata

B. At the end of the review, the CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee shall make preliminary findings, and if a violation is found, shall make preliminary recommendations to the director.

C. The director shall formulate and carry out an action plan within 24 hours of receiving the CSH Maximum Security Appeal Committee's recommendations. A copy of the plan shall be sent to the human rights advocate, the individual, and his authorized representative."

Explanation: These proposed changes make available an avenue for emergency consideration by the Maximum Security Appeals Committee in the event a human rights advocate has cause to believe there is risk of serious and irreparable harm if a complaint is not resolved immediately.

12VAC35-115-200: Involving Consent and Authorization

"A. The individual, his authorized representative, or anyone acting on the individual's behalf may request in writing that the CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee review the following situations and issue a decision:

1. If an individual or his authorized representative objects at any time to the appointment of a specific person as authorized representative or any decision for which consent or authorization is required and has been given by his authorized representative, other than a legal guardian, he may ask the Appeals Committee to decide whether his capacity was properly evaluated, the authorized representative was properly appointed, or his authorized representative's decision was made based on the individual's basic values and any preferences previously expressed by the individual to the extent that they are known, and if unknown or unclear in the individual's best interests.

i. The provider shall take no action for which consent or authorization is required if the individual objects, except in an emergency or as otherwise permitted by law, pending the Appeals Committee review.

ii. If the Appeals Committee determines that the individual's capacity was properly evaluated, the authorized representative is properly designated, or the authorized representative's decision was made based on the individual's basic values and any preferences previously expressed by the individual to the extent that they are known, or if unknown or unclear in the individual's best interests, then the provider may proceed according to the decision of the authorized representative.

iii. If the Appeals Committee determines that the individual's capacity was not properly evaluated or the authorized representative was not properly designated, then the provider shall take no action for which consent is required except in an emergency or as otherwise required or permitted by law, until the capacity review and authorized representative designation is properly done.

iv. If the Appeals Committee determines that the authorized representative's decision was not made based on the individual's basic values and any preferences previously expressed by the individual to the extent known, and if unknown or unclear, in the individual's best interests, then the provider shall take steps to remove the authorized representative pursuant to 12VAC35-115-146.

2. If an individual or his family member has obtained an independent evaluation of the individual's capacity to consent to treatment or services or to participate in human research under 12VAC35-115-70, or authorize the disclosure of information under 12VAC35-115-90, and the opinion of that evaluator conflicts with the opinion of the provider's evaluator, the Appeals Committee may be requested to decide which evaluation will control.

i. If the Appeals Committee agrees that the individual lacks the capacity to consent to treatment or services or authorize disclosure of information, the director may begin or continue treatment or research or disclose information, but only with the appropriate consent or authorization of the authorized representative.

ii. If the Appeals Committee does not agree that the individual lacks the capacity to consent to treatment or services or authorize disclosure of information, the director shall not begin any treatment or research, or disclose information without the individual's consent or authorization, or shall take immediate steps to discontinue any actions begun without the consent or authorization of the individual.

3. If the director makes a decision that affects an individual and the individual believes that the decision requires his personal consent or authorization or that of his authorized representative, he may object and ask the Appeals Committee to decide whether consent or authorization is required. Regardless of the individual's capacity to consent to treatment or services or authorize disclosure of information, if the Appeals Committee determines that a decision made by a director requires consent or authorization that was not obtained, the director shall immediately rescind the action unless and until such consent or authorization is obtained.

B. Before making such a decision, the Appeals Committee shall review the action proposed by the director, any determination of lack of capacity, the opinion of the independent evaluator if applicable, and the individual's or his authorized representative's reasons for objecting to that determination. To facilitate its review, the Appeals Committee may ask that a physician or licensed clinical psychologist not employed by the provider evaluate the individual at the provider’s expense and give an opinion about his capacity to consent to treatment or authorize information. The Appeals Committee shall notify all parties and the human rights advocate of the decision within 10 working days of the initial request.”

Explanation: These proposed changes substitute the Maximum Security Appeals Committee for the Local Human Rights Committee as the review body regarding issues of informed consent and substitute decision-making.

12VAC35-115-210: State Human Rights Committee Appeals Procedure

"Decisions of the CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee may not be appealed.”

Explanation: The CSH Maximum Security Appeals Committee is the full deciding body.

CHARITABLE GAMING BOARD

Small Business Impact Review - Report of Findings

Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Charitable Gaming Board conducted a small business impact review of 11VAC15-13, Public Participation Guidelines, and determined that this regulation should be retained in its current form. The Charitable Gaming Board is publishing its report of findings dated October 19, 2015, to support this decision in accordance with § 2.2-4007.1 F of the Code of Virginia.

The regulation is necessary in order to execute the purpose of the Charitable Gaming Regulations (11VAC15-40). The board routinely reviews its regulations and adopts amendments as necessary. The public, including small businesses, needs to be informed of the various stages of the regulatory process and their statutory right to participate. There have been no complaints or comments received from the public concerning this regulation. The regulation is not particularly complex, and it does not overlap, duplicate, or conflict with federal or state law or regulation. Since this regulation’s adoption in 2008, there have not been significant changes in technology, economic conditions, or other factors that would necessitate amending this regulation.

SAFETY AND HEALTH CODES BOARD
Small Business Impact Review - Report of Findings

Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Safety and Health Codes Board conducted a small business impact review of 16VAC25-73, Regulation Applicable to Tree Trimming Operations, and determined that this regulation should be retained in its current form. The Safety and Health Codes Board is publishing its report of findings dated October 30, 2015, to support this decision in accordance with § 2.2-4007.1 F of the Code of Virginia.

In its review of this regulation, the agency has determined that there is a continued need for the regulation because it is an enforcement tool that has been designed specifically for the tree trimming operations that are conducted by the arborist industry and because spokespersons within that industry specifically requested that the department promulgate a regulation to specifically cover tree trimming operations. No comments or complaints were received from the public during the public comment period. The regulatory language is clear and avoids complexity. This regulation, which became effective in 2011, does not overlap, duplicate, or conflict with federal or state law or regulation. The current review follows the first periodic review of regulation, which was conducted four years ago. There have not been significant changes in technology, economic conditions, or other factors in the area affected by the regulation since it became effective. The agency has determined that retaining the regulation without amendment is consistent with the stated objectives of applicable law and is the most effective way to minimize the economic impact of regulations on small businesses.

Small Business Impact Review - Report of Findings

Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Safety and Health Codes Board conducted a small business impact review of 16VAC25-55, Financial Requirements for Boiler and Pressure Vessel Contract Fee Inspectors, and determined that this regulation should be retained in its current form. The Safety and Health Codes Board is publishing its report of findings dated October 30, 2015, to support this decision in accordance with § 2.2-4007.1 F of the Code of Virginia.

Small Business Impact Review - Report of Findings

Pursuant to § 2.2-4007.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Safety and Health Codes Board conducted a small business impact review of 16VAC25-75, General Industry Standard for Telecommunications, General, Approach Distances, and determined that this regulation should be retained in its current form. The Safety and Health Codes Board is publishing its report of findings dated October 30, 2015, to support this decision in accordance with § 2.2-4007.1 F of the Code of Virginia.

There is a continued need for this regulation because the establishment of less stringent compliance requirements in the past directly resulted in fatal electrocution hazards for employees. The regulation is not unnecessarily complex. It ensures uniformity of the regulations for general industry, construction, and telecommunication workers performing the same type of electrical transmission work. The regulation does not overlap, duplicate, or conflict with federal or state law or regulation. The current review follows the first periodic review of the regulation, which occurred four years ago. There have not been significant changes in technology, economic conditions, or other factors in the area affected by the regulation since it became effective. The agency has determined that retaining the regulation without amendment is consistent with the stated objectives of applicable law and is the most effective way to minimize the economic impact of regulations on small businesses.

Prior to the promulgation of this regulation, employers were already required to train telecommunication electrical transmission workers on methods of de-energizing, isolating, or insulating themselves from live electrical parts by using blankets or other protective measures listed in 16VAC25-90-1910.268. This regulation simplified compliance by making telecommunications requirements identical to 16VAC25-90-1910.269(1)(2)(i), General Industry Standard for Electric Power Generation Transmission and Distribution, and by providing safety protections for telecommunications workers equal to those afforded general industry electrical transmission workers and construction industry workers (see 16VAC25-155). In compliance with federal law, the regulation does not exempt small businesses from all or any part of these requirements. However, the language of the regulation was drafted in such a way as to minimize costs for regulated employers while still ensuring equivalent safety levels of electrical shock protection for telecommunications workers.

ERRATA

Title of Regulation: 14VAC5-270. Rules Governing Annual Financial Reporting.

Correction to Proposed Regulation:

AT RICHMOND, SEPTEMBER 21, 2015

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA, ex rel.

CASE NO. INS-2015-00141

Ex Parte: In the matter of Amending the Rules Governing Annual Financial Reporting

ORDER TO TAKE NOTICE

Section 12.1-13 of the Code of Virginia ("Code") provides that the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") shall have the power to promulgate rules and regulations in the enforcement and administration of all laws within its jurisdiction, and § 38.2-223 of the Code provides that the Commission may issue any rules and regulations necessary or appropriate for the administration and enforcement of Title 38.2 of the Code.

The rules and regulations issued by the Commission pursuant to § 38.2-223 of the Code are set forth in Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code. A copy may also be found

The Bureau of Insurance ("Bureau") has submitted to the Commission proposed amendments to rules set forth in Chapter 270 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code entitled Rules Governing Annual Financial Reporting ("Rules"), which amend the Rules at 14 VAC 5-270-40,
14 VAC 5-270-100, 14 VAC 5-270-110, 14 VAC 5-270-120, 14 VAC 5-270-144, and 14 VAC 5-270-174, and adds a new Rule at 14 VAC 5-270-145.

The amendments to the Rules are being proposed due to the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' adoption of the revisions to the Annual Financial Reporting Model Regulation. The proposed amendments provide the Commission with the authority to require all insurers with annual premiums exceeding $500 million and insurance groups with annual premiums exceeding $1 billion to maintain an internal audit function that provides independent, objective, and reasonable assurance to the audit committee and management regarding the insurer's governance, risk management, and internal controls.
The internal audit function is required to be organizationally independent from management and to report at least annually to the audit committee on the results of internal audit activities.

NOW THE COMMISSION is of the opinion that the proposed amendments submitted by the Bureau to amend the Rules at 14 VAC 5-270-40, 14 VAC 5-270-100, 14 VAC 5-270-110, 14 VAC 5-270-120, 14 VAC 5-270-144, and 14 VAC 5-270-174, and add a new Rule at 14 VAC 5-270-145 should be considered for adoption.

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED THAT:

(1) The proposed amendments to Rules Governing Annual Financial Reporting, which amend the Rules at 14 VAC 5-
270-40, 14 VAC 5-270-100, 14 VAC 5-270-110, 14 VAC 5-270-120, 14 VAC 5-270-144, and 14 VAC 5-270-174, and add a new Rule at 14 VAC 5-270-145 are attached hereto and made a part hereof.

(2) All interested persons who desire to comment in support of or in opposition to, or request a hearing to oppose amending Chapter 270 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code, shall file such comments or hearing request on or before November 18, 2015, with Joel H. Peck, Clerk, State Corporation Commission, c/o Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218. Interested persons desiring to submit comments electronically may do so by following the instructions at the Commission's website:
http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case/PublicComments.aspx. All comments shall refer to Case No. INS-2015-00141.

(3) If no written request for a hearing on the proposal to amend Chapter 270 of Title 14 of the Virginia Administrative Code is received on or before November 18, 2015, the Commission, upon consideration of any comments submitted in support of or in opposition to the proposal, may amend the Rules.

(4) The Bureau forthwith shall give further notice of the proposal to amend rules by mailing a copy of this Order, together with the proposal, to all licensed insurers, burial societies, fraternal benefit societies, health service plans, health
